

BRIDE-TO-BE IS DESERTED

Faithless Lover Deserts Young Girl at Union Station.

GAVE UP ALL HER SAVINGS

Said that She Was to Have Been Married at San Francisco After Trip from Denmark.

A pathetic case of unwise love on the part of pretty 20-year-old Victoria Jensen, Odense, Denmark, was brought to the attention of the local police when the unfortunate young woman was found at the Union depot waiting for a faithless lover who never expected to return. Michael Jorgensen is the name of the flashy looking individual who came to Miss Jensen's town in the old country and, after wooing her ardently and promising her rose-lined ease and sweet scented happiness in America, won her heart and started across the Atlantic to America, with San Francisco as the objective point.

Miss Jensen has saved $150, and all of this she took along with her on the trip. They were to be married upon arrival in the United States, but when New York was reached Jorgensen changed his tune and vouchsafed that marriage was not necessary in this country. His sweet-heart, however, did not think that sounded quite right and she insisted that the ceremony be gone through with before they could live together. He finally agreed that they would be legally mated as soon as they arrived on the Pacific coast.

Upon arrival in Omaha Miss Jensen had just left and after much persuasion Jorgensen investigated her to get him the amount for a shave. That was the last she saw of him and it was while waiting patiently that policemen noticed her extended stay past several trains and took her to headquarters. There she told her story to Officer Hans Nielsen and Sergeant Samuelson.

Moved with compassion for the young woman Samuelson threw his home wide open to her and she will stay there until provisions for her welfare can be further arranged.

In the meantime Jorgensen is a much sought individual and if he is still in the city there is a good chance that he will be landed in the drag net the authorities have set for him.

Appeals Disallowed Claims Against the Sunderland Estate

Appeals from the decisions of the county court in the case of the claims against the estate of the late W. C. Sunderland have been filed in district court. The claims were disallowed by the county court.

One of these claims, for $2,300, is filed by Lawrence D. Spaulding, and the other, for $123,000, is filed by the Saunders-Westrand company.

It is alleged by the Saunders-Westrand company that prior to the death of W. C. Sunderland $123,000 was transferred to the Sunderland and Saunders firm, contrary to law.

Good Attendance at City Mission Camp

The City Mission camp, in charge of Miss Shaffer, has opened at La Platte, near the Platte river, and the attendance is somewhat larger than last year. There are nearly fifty young people in attendance, all living in tents and putting in their time playing games, fishing and studying.

HARRY H TURNER DIES FROM TRAIN INJURIES

A well dressed man, in whose pocket was found a traveling card bearing the name of Harry H. Turner, Buena Vista, Colo., died at St. Joseph's hospital as the result of injuries he received at South Bend, Neb., where he was brushed from a Rock Island train as he was stealing a ride. He was clothed neatly, and it is thought that he had met with an unfortunate set of circumstances and was attempting to get somewhere with a view of securing help. His skull was fractured, an arm broken and he was partially paralyzed when picked up.

NEW WHEAT CONTINUES TO ARRIVE IN OMAHA

New wheat continues to arrive on the Omaha market, but the heavy shipments are not expected until next week, when threshing will become general through the state.

Yesterday's receipts were four cars, one off the Omaha road, one off the Union Pacific and two off the Missouri Pacific. It was all of good quality, weighing out better than sixty pounds and grading No. 2 hard.

TRACKMAN IS INJURED BY A RUNAWAY HORSE

John Terney, a trackman employed by the street railway company, and living at 30 South Nineteenth street, was seriously injured at Teath and Mason streets when a horse belonging to John Hlavka, 708 Castellar, became frightened at a street car and ran away, knocking the trackman down.

E. P. Smith to Talk Democracy and Make Remarks on Suffrage

A meeting of the Jacksonian club will be held on the sixteenth floor of the City National Bank building Friday evening, when E. P. Smith will speak on "United Democracy" and make a few remarks on the side about woman suffrage. W. F. Baxter will also address the assembly, taking as his topic "The Business Man in Politics." The meeting will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Nebraska Weather is Clear and Cool

Practically all over Nebraska the weather is clear and cool, according to the reports coming to the railroads. Tuesday night there were heavy rains along the Northwestern from Rushville to Gordon.

Reports to the railroads indicate that the weather is ideal for harvesting and that now the cutting of small grain is general all through the northern part of the state. It is about completed everywhere south of the center.

Nebraska Bankers Here in September

The Nebraska Bankers' association is to meet in Omaha in convention September 16 to 17. The matter was decided Tuesday by the local bankers in a meeting held at the headquarters of the association in the Woodmen of the World building. The time for holding the meeting had been left to the local bankers by the association.

RECEIVER IS ASKED FOR DOUGLAS PRINTING COMPANY

Roy Ralph of the Ralph Printing company, 320 South Nineteenth street, has filed a petition in equity in the district court asking that Sheriff F. J. McShane be appointed to take charge of the Douglas Printing company as receiver and that Ralph be remunerated for services performed for the Douglas Printing company, in which he claims an interest of $2,145.25, notwithstanding which, he asserts, he was excluded from participation in the affairs of the company.

In his petition Ralph names the following as members of the Douglas Printing company: John W. Douglas, Parthenia Douglas, Adolph T. Hurvill, J. T. D'zart and W. J. Fawcett.

STOLEN FRUIT IS CAUSE OF ARREST OF M'BRIDE

Irwin Judson, alias Ed McBride, was bound over in police court for the theft of twenty jars of fruit from the cellar of W. G. Hinrichs, 1420 South Seventh street. A charge of breaking and entering was placed against him.

"They ought to give him life," exclaimed Mr. Hinrichs. "Mrs. Hinrichs worked awfully hard during the hot weather putting that stuff up in jars, only to let this fellow steal it." McBride was trying to sell it to a local hotel keeper, who called the police instead of buying.

Got anything you'd like to swap? Use the "Swappers' Column."

Advertisement for Nebraska Clothing Co. featuring Mr. John A. Swanson, President of the Nebraska Clothing Co. The ad promotes a "Half Price Sale" on men's and young men's suits. It lists various suit prices: All $10.00 Suits $5, All $12.50 Suits $6.25, All $15.00 Suits $7.50, All $18.00 Suits $9, All $20.00 Suits $10, All $25.00 Suits $12.50, All $30.00 Suits $15, All $35.00 Suits $17.50, All $40.00 Suits $20. The ad also includes the company name, address (Farnam at Fifteenth St.), and a note that during the sale no goods will be charged.

Large advertisement for Tuxedo tobacco. It features an illustration of a man in a tuxedo standing next to a large tin of Tuxedo tobacco. The text describes the product as "The Perfect Pipe Tobacco" and highlights its quality and availability. It mentions that Tuxedo is made from the choicest selected crops of old Kentucky Burley and is available in 40c tin humidors and 80c tin humidors. The American Tobacco Company is mentioned at the bottom.

Advertisement for Blatz beer. It features an illustration of a man in a pilot's cap holding a glass of beer and a bottle of Blatz. The text says "A Case— You can get the best beer by asking for it. Make no mistake; Blatz Beer is admittedly the finest tasting beer brewed. It is a significant fact that every one who tries it immediately prefers it." It also includes the Blatz logo and the address of the Blatz Company in Omaha, Nebraska.

Advertisement for Sargol, a weight-loss product. It features an illustration of a man's torso. The text says "People Used to Call Me 'Skinny' But Now My Name Has Changed. Gained 15 Pounds and Look Like a New Man." It describes Sargol as a "plump, strong, robust body" and provides a "Free Sargol Coupon" for a trial.

Advertisement for "The Omaha Bee" featuring a cartoon illustration of a woman shouting "LOST!". The text says "Most people are honest and would hasten to return any found article if they knew where to find the owner. The first place they think of is the 'Lost and Found' column, and if you have failed to announce your loss there, you have little chance of ever recovering your loss. When you lose anything telephone at once to Tyler 1000 and thus get quick action." It includes the phone number and the slogan "Everybody Reads Bee. Want Ads."

Advertisement for "European" travel. It features the text "EUROPE By the SHORT SEA ROUTE SAILING SATURDAYS From Montreal & Quebec by the 'LAURENTIC' 'MAGANTIC' 'TEUTONIC' 'CANADA'". It also mentions the "Canadian 'Royals'" and "White Star-Dominion Line".