BIG JOBS GOING GLIMMERING

Deep-seated Resentment Shown in Letters of President Over the Withdrawal of Jones' Name.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, July 25.—(Special Telegram)—President Wilson's withdrawal of the name of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago as a member of the federal reserve board has averted a split in the ranks of the democracy, according to a number of the president's partisans in the upper branch of congress. While the fight on Jones is deprecated by the leaders in both branches, they recognize that Hitchcock and Reed have performed a service to the party, although the president shows in his letter to Mr. Jones a deep-seated resentment which, it is anticipated, will not wear away during the remainder of this democratic administration.

Senators Hitchcock and Reed have made the president suffer, his self respect has been wounded and they must take the consequences. The way these close to the White House talk today, Senator Hitchcock will wait a long time before any of his rivals for the big jobs in Nebraska are acted upon favorably by the executive department.

With Jones gone and Warburg likely to follow, the name of George E. Roberts, director of the mint, has been revived as one of the two remaining places on the board.

Mr. Roberts was suggested early in the campaign as a likely appointment, but the months wore on and every time he was suggested it was found to bear the stamp "democrat" until it finally was agreed that the president expected to make the board partisan instead of bipartisan.

But the withdrawal of Mr. Jones' name has revived the suggestion that a republican should be appointed and this is accountable for the suggestion of Mr. Roberts of Iowa, as well as that of Seth Low of New York.

Delegates J. L. Cleary and Mayor Ryan opposed the latter vigorously and seemed to have the sympathy of the convention.

The woman's suffrage question was cited as possibly coming before the convention. Attorney Cleary said it would be misrepresenting the party of this county to say it was not divided on that question.

Mayor Ryan pointed to Baltimore for the danger of instructions and, possibly, having to bolt them. Proxies were ordered not allowed, but the convention named six other delegates be chosen as alternates or proxies as they might be needed.

BREAK RELATIONS OFF, WAR IS SURE, BELIEVES VIENNA

to go to any extremes rather than tolerate the downfall of Serbia.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, July 25.—A special dispatch from Vienna says the Russian charge

Reply to Serbia.

LONDON, July 25.—Serbia's reply to Austria will be a partial acceptance of its demands, according to advices reaching official circles in London today. Serbia will grant the demands in reference to the punishment of those concerned in the assassination of the emperor, and will consent to do everything in connection with that matter that a civilized state can do without permitting an infringement of its sovereignty. As to the other demands of Austria, Serbia contends that it is unable to reply to them on such short notice, as it has not had sufficient time to consider them.

Russia Demands Action.

ST. PETERSBURGH, July 25.—Many of the newspapers of the Russian capital today demand the immediate mobilization of the Russian army on the Austrian frontier. The Bourne Gazette declares that Russia "cannot for a moment tolerate any attack on Serbia or on Serbian independence."

"The Russian government clearly recognizes that the Austrian ultimatum is particularly directed against it and Russia is replying not only by words, but subjected to an unlawful attack and will not remain alone. The disturbers of the peace have not to deal with Serbia only, but also with Russia. Unless the Austrian ultimatum is withdrawn Russia will not remain a silent spectator of violence."

Attitude of United States.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—In accordance with a policy of absolute neutrality should the Austro-Serbian crisis develop into war, any attempt by any interested power to purchase American warships would be promptly turned down by the United States. In the opinion of officials here today, it was pointed out that the recent sale of the battleships Mississippi and Idaho to Greece could in no manner serve as a precedent for further sale of ships to any European government.

President Wilson might issue a proclamation of neutrality which would clearly show what commerce would be permitted between this country and the countries in the conflict.

STOCKS SUFFER COLLAPSE

War Scare Has Depressing Effect on Markets.

LONDON, July 25.—The Austro-Serbian imbroglio today occupied the attention of every chancellery in Europe, where the situation was recognized as fraught with possibilities of a general conflict. The condition of the Stock exchange gave a strong indication of the fears felt by the general public, and stocks of all kinds suffered a collapse.

The hope was widely expressed that

BARNES SAYS COLONEL IS REAL ISSUE.

ALBANY, July 25.—"The question which the enrolled republicans of New York must determine on the 28th day of September," says William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the republican state committee, "is whether they are to select the republican candidates for the various offices of whether they are to permit Mr. Roosevelt to select them. That is the real issue."

armed conflict between the nations would be avoided, and the Russian view of the coercion exercised on a Slav nation was watched closely, as it was felt that on the decision of St. Petersburg as to whether Russia would actively support Serbia in resisting Austria's demands depended the final outcome of the controversy.

Many rumors were current, some asserting that Austria had given Serbia further time in which to reply to her peremptory note, others that she had refused to do so, and still others that Serbia maintained an attitude of defiance and was preparing for the worst eventualities.

Statesmen in all countries meantime were making endeavors to bring about a peaceable settlement, and all sought to restrain movements of panic.

On the London Stock exchange demoralization set in at the opening of business this morning owing to a rumor that Russia had begun to mobilize its great army in preparation for eventualities. Dealers offered everything and British consols fell 1 1/2 points to 75, Rio tinco lost 3 points, Russian bonds 3/4, Austrian and Hungarian bonds 2 points, while the leading American stocks were quoted at from 1 to 2 points below parity. Canadian Pacific, however, showed the most loss. A fractional hardening occurred before noon, but the market remained nervous and excited.

The Russian government had not until this morning given any hint as to what its reply to Austria's note would be, but in quarters which are not official no hope is held out that the answer will be favorable. Should this turn out to be the fact, unless Russia should be successful in its efforts to have the time extended in favor of Serbia, Austria will, it is pointed out, before many hours pass, take steps to enforce its demands. It is argued in authoritative quarters that Austria-Hungary, if left alone, could crush its diminutive neighbor in short order, but it is feared that Russia may find itself unable to stand idly by and see a Slav nation practically extinguished.

French Rentes Take Sharp Drop.

PARIS, July 25.—As an indication of the gravity with which the Austro-Serbian situation is regarded here, French 3 per cent rentes fell to 78 at the opening of the bourse at noon today. This was a point and a half below yesterday's closing price.

French financiers seem to have abandoned their usual week-end holiday and the square fronting of the stock exchange was packed with automobiles.

The French cabinet, in the absence of Premier Rene Viviani, who is in company with President Poincare on a visit to various European capitals, has not yet met to consider the situation.

According to semi-official information received here, Austria today showed an inclination to adopt a more moderate attitude towards Serbia.

Serbia Asks More Time.

BELGRADE, July 25.—Serbia, according to sources usually in close touch with the foreign office in Belgrade, has requested Austria for an extension of time in which to reply to the note asking for a delay until the Serbian Parliament, which has been summoned to an extraordinary session, shall have been constituted. It is also stated in authoritative circles that Serbia is ready to grant the Austrian demands as far as possible, without damage to its national prestige.

The election of members of the Serbian Parliament has been postponed and the members of the old Parliament have been ordered to meet in special session tomorrow to discuss the situation between Austria and Serbia.

The government newspaper, Samoprava, publishes the following, which is generally accepted as indicating the tone of Serbia's reply to Austria: "Serbia desires sincere and correct neighborly relations with the Dual monarchy. Convinced of the necessity of maintaining such relations, the Serbian government will readily comply with all the demands of Austria-Hungary, which will serve to suppress all criminal acts, manifestations and disorders in neighboring countries."

"Because the Serbian government considers it is thereby fulfilling the obvious duty of a civilized state, the government will in all sincerity do everything possible to prove its intent for friendly relations with the Dual monarchy."

Russia Comes to Aid of Serbia.

VIENNA, July 25.—A dispatch from Belgrade to the Neue Freie Presse says Serbia has decided to accept the Austrian demands under protest.

An extension of time of forty-eight hours, in which Serbia may reply to Austria's note, was requested today by the Russian charge d'affaires. There was a marked improvement on the bourse here on a report that Serbia had yielded.

The general public here looks forward to Serbia's decision in connection with the Austrian note with the greatest composure, although the people know it will be a question of peace or war. A number of patriotic demonstrations have been held, but there is no sign of nervousness.

No surprise was caused here by the communication published in the official journal of the Russian government stating that the St. Petersburg government was seriously preoccupied by the ultimatum addressed to Serbia by Austria
