

Society

By MELLIFICIA. Thursday, July 30, 1914.

FIND that several people are reading the society columns this warm weather, or they are at least reading these frivolous little stories at the head of the society column.

After reading about the roof garden dinner dance in Lincoln someone called me up to tell me that Lincoln was not really ahead of us in having roof gardens. He said there was one on the new apartments at Twenty-fifth and Douglas streets.

The queerest part about this interest in the society column is that these inquiries are from the men. Another man telephoned to ask details of the little electric fan I wrote about last week which was carried at one of the country clubs by Mrs. Dietz. This curious man wanted to know if it was necessary to carry an electric wire for this miniature electric fan. "No, Monsieur, it is not necessary to carry an electric wire, because there is a tiny storage battery in the fan."

But then it is not so strange that anyone would ask concerning this little fan, for it was even a novelty in New York City. There is one shop in Sidney, Australia, where they may be found, and one in Paris, on l'Avenue de l'Opera.

To Wed Chicago Society Girl.

The engagement is announced of Mr. Albert Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burnett of this city, to Miss Mary Lumbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lumbard of Oak Park, Ill.

Mr. Burnett made an enviable record as foot ball star and later as coach at the Omaha high school, where he graduated in the class of '06. He was also foot ball coach for one year at the Peru State Normal. He attended the University of Nebraska for two years and is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, and is president of the Chicago Alumni association. He left Omaha two years ago to enter business in Chicago, where he is bond salesman for the Chapman Mills company, and he makes his home in Oak Park.

Miss Lumbard is president of the Woman's auxiliary of the Suburban club of Oak Park, and Mr. Burnett is president of this club. Miss Lumbard is a charming brunette and prominent socially in Oak Park. A number of applications for social membership have been placed on file for next year.

Vinton Street Rioters Bound Over by Foster

Nine young men who are alleged to have participated in the Vinton street riot on July 15 were bound over to the district court by Judge Foster, in police court, in spite of the fact that little evidence was introduced to show that they had any part in the fight in which Oscar N. Lind was shot and seriously wounded. John Rubin of South Omaha, who is held on a charge of shooting with intent to wound, was held under $500 bond. Hugo O'Neill, George Furge, Raymond Noon and William Sammons of South Omaha; Charles Fassick, 135 Vinton street; James E. Hansen, 234 South Seventeenth street; Seldon Smith, 508 Leavenworth street; Ned Alm, 277 South Nineteenth street were held under bonds of $200 each on the charge of participating in the riot. In police court the young men denied that any of them had participated in the fight, though one of them admitted being struck with a brick.

FONTENELLES HAVE A SLATE

Club Frames a Platform for Its Legislative Candidates.

PROPOSES CHANGES IN LAW

Eleven Planks, Each Aimed at Some Specific Thing, with Gas, Water, Electricity and Honest Elections Uppermost.

The Fontenelle club has prepared a platform upon which it asks republican candidates for the legislature to stand. It has been accepted by N. P. Dodge, Jr.; Charles J. Andersen, Charles L. Saunders and Arthur C. Hancock, candidates for the senate, and John Larsen, J. Frank Burgess, A. C. Bush, J. P. Palmer, Thomas Lynch, Neil A. Lundgren, J. W. Long, Michael Lee, E. M. Robinson and C. F. Seefus, candidates for the house. The first plank does away with civil service as applied to the police force, and gives the police commissioner power to appoint or remove any and all officers including the city policeman. Plank No. 2 favors the passage of a law giving the county attorney power and provides means for investigation of any and all crimes. Plank No. 3 proposes a workhouse for city prisoners. Plank No. 4 favors a jury commission.

Dealing with Taxes.

Consolidation of all taxes, making them payable in two installments and providing for the levy of taxes in January of each year, is the demand of plank No. 5. No. 10 proposes the passage of a law enabling the county treasurer to enforce collection of delinquent real estate taxes. No. 11 is to encourage the construction of Dealing with Taxes.

Saloonkeepers and brewers get a sop in the 11th plank, which calls for a law regulating the publication of notices by applicants for saloon licenses. In plank No. 6 is found an echo of "senate bill No. 1," for it calls for a law authorizing the city of Omaha to own a gas plant and empowers the Metropolitan Water District of Omaha to furnish electricity for public and private use.

No. 7 calls for a short ballot, a fair election and an honest count, and pledges support to the present Dodge election law. In plank No. 8 is a demand that all city and county officials be placed on a salary basis, and all fees be turned into the public treasury, and that the sheriff feed the jail prisoners as agent for the county.

Hoyt, clerk of the United States district court here, and his wife. The trip is being made over the Burlington by way of Lincoln to Beatrice, where the funeral will be held Sunday.

Bossie to Be Given More Authority in Inspecting Milk

City Dairy Inspector Claude F. Bossie will be given exclusive and unhampered control of the city milk inspection department if a resolution prepared by Commissioner J. B. Hummel passes the council. Commissioner Hummel has had the city attorneys prepare a resolution to give Mr. Bossie authority to condemn and destroy bad milk without asking permission of any commissioner. Mr. Bossie is now subject to the orders of the health commissioner, who is under the control of the police commissioner. The intention of the resolution is to facilitate the dairy inspector's work.

To Keep Dust from Marring the Complexion

DRY AND DUSTY weather will ruin any complexion unless care is exercised to prevent a chronic harsh and dry condition of the skin. The fine and tiny particles of dust enter the pores, and defy soap and water to remove them. The face becomes rough, hard and discolored from continued presence of dust.

There is one preparation that completely removes every trace of dust and grime from the skin, and leaves it clear, soft, fair, moist and flexible. That preparation is Mme. Ise's Turkish Bath Oil, which is used by society women, actresses and singers the world over as a substitute for soap and water. If the neck is scrawny, with loose and saggy skin, as a result of too much scrubbing with soap and water, use the Turkish Bath Oil, then apply Mme. Ise's Skin Food and Wrinkle Paste. It feeds and nourishes the skin, filling out and obliterating wrinkles.
