

JOHN B. SHELDON IS BURIED

Superintendent of Telegraph of the Union Pacific Laid to Rest.

MANY FINE FLORAL TRIBUTES

Dr. Marshall of the Omaha Theological Seminary Preaches Sermon—Many Out-of-Town Friends at Funeral.

The funeral of the late John B. Sheldon, superintendent of telegraph of the Union Pacific, was held yesterday from the family residence, 2222 Cass street, and was largely attended by friends and telegraph and railroad officials, many coming from outside of Omaha.

The casket containing the body of the dead telegraph official occupied a position in the front room of the home and was banked about by flowers. They were numerous and were worked into wreaths, pillows and other set pieces of many kinds. In addition, there were a large number of huge bouquets. One of the most beautiful pieces was a large pillow from the railroad telegraphers of the city, on it the figures "22" the finish symbol of operators all over the country.

The sermon was by Dr. A. B. Marshall, president of the Omaha Theological seminary, Mrs. H. G. Hoerner singing a solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Burial was in the family lot in Forest Lawn cemetery.

The pallbearers, nearly all of whom were telegraph or railroad men, and who were all personal friends of Mr. Sheldon for many years during his lifetime were:

- Active: W. H. Sanford, A. O. Nichols, P. F. Franer, G. W. Hood, J. H. Hickey, C. L. Cheney, F. E. McClintock, F. R. Jarmine. Active: W. Salisbury, A. O. Nichols, P. M. Cox, E. L. Shimp, J. H. Hickey, W. J. Lloyd, M. P. Keef, C. L. Cheney, W. T. Kistner, F. E. McClintock, A. A. Worat, F. R. Jarmine.

Among the outside telegraph and railroad officials and other friends from outside the city present at the funeral were W. J. Lloyd, general manager, Western Union, Denver; C. L. Cheney, superintendent of telegraph for the Missouri Pacific, St. Louis; V. T. Kistner, superintendent, and C. A. Worat, assistant superintendent for the Burlington, Chicago; E. E. McClintock, district commercial superintendent, Western Union, Denver; M. P. Keef and G. H. Wood, Cheyenne; D. Cashman and E. L. Stump, Denver.

During the morning more than 30 telegrams of sympathy and condolence were received by Mrs. Sheldon, coming from all over the United States and Canada. Flowers, too, came from nearly everywhere. They were scores of beautiful pieces sent in by Omaha friends; a beautiful floral piece from the superintendents of the Union Pacific; one from each division of the Western Union and one from the superintendent of the Boston office.

As a mark of respect to the memory of the dead superintendent, for five minutes following 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, every telegraph instrument in Union Pacific headquarters was still, the telegraph business being suspended during that time.

Manley Declares General European War Not Lasting

"A general war of European powers can't last long on account of the enormous cost." This statement comes from Robert H. Manley, commissioner of the Omaha Commercial club. He admits that he has never managed enough world wars to be really looked upon as an authority on the financing of world struggles. Still he says this is a point anyone can see if they will look in the right direction. He points out that when most of the great powers are engaged, since they cannot borrow from one another, they will have difficulty in borrowing at all. At the same time anyone knows that to prosecute a general war it will cost many millions daily and therefore cannot long endure.

Date of Picnic for Newsies is Fixed

"Uxry! Uxry! Ahsoudenewies' picnic!" The date for the big annual event has been set and now the mind of every street urchin in Omaha is centered on that one big day and thoughts of war extra and the like no longer predominate in the youthful juvenile brain of the lad who earns his livelihood by selling papers up the street.

The committee on arrangements met Thursday and concluded definite plans for the big doings. According to the committee the blow-out this year will be one well affair and the committee has never failed to make good all assertions. The picnic will be held on August 12, at Krug park and will, in pursuance to the usual custom, include every manner of event dear to the heart of the small boy.

Two anonymous funds will be given the kiddies and the management of the park will contribute a goodly number of free rides on the mechanical devices at the park.

Creighton Summer School Is Closed

The second annual session of the Creighton university summer school has closed. The last lectures were given on Wednesday and examinations have been held. The pupils will leave for their homes or for short vacations before the regular fall session opens, while the instructors will scatter to various parts of the country for recreation.

This year's session has been highly satisfactory to the authorities at Creighton, both in point of attendance and the rank of study maintained. The enrollment has reached a total of 164, a more than 50 per cent increase over that a year ago. There were 124 men in attendance this year. The faculty was composed of two women, four laymen and eight Jesuits. A large number of courses was offered, and next year the number will be augmented to care for a probable attendance of 225, according to present indications.

Clan (Krug) No. 61 will hold its annual picnic at Krug park, August 1. Get anything you'd like to swap? Use the "Swappers' Column."
