

A. HOSPE CO.

Scores of Good Pianos Taken in Exchange

Now on Sale

AT A FRACTION OF REAL WORTH

All the best standard makes are included. Every one of these instruments has been thoroughly gone over by our expert workman and is guaranteed to be in good, first class, playing condition. Any time within a year these pianos will be exchanged for new pianos, and the full amount that you have paid is credited on the same day.

Don't delay, come at once. These pianos are going to be closed out in just a few days. Read the names of the pianos and the prices offered in this

PARTIAL LIST OF THE BARGAINS

BRADBURY Upright, Walnut case, a big bargain at... $87 Terms, $1.00 Per Week.	CRAMER Upright, oak case, a bargain at... $127 Terms, $1.00 Per Week.	KIMBALL Upright, beautiful oak case, same as new... $198 Terms, $1.25 Per Week.
HALLET &amp; DAVIS Upright, the well known Boston make... $98 Terms, $1.00 Per Week.	KIMBALL Upright, fine mahogany case, a fine toned piano... $145 Terms, $1.25 Per Week.	IMPERIAL Upright, mahogany case, a fine toned piano... $145 Terms, $1.25 Per Week.
KINGSBURY Upright, mahogany case, in fine condition... $115 Terms, $1.00 Per Week.	RICHMOND Upright, walnut case, is good as new... $169 Terms, $1.25 Per Week.	KREMLIN &amp; SON Upright, mahogany case, used less than 6 months... $157 Terms, $1.25 Per Week.
GEO. STECK Upright, ebony case, fine tone... $149 Terms, $1.00 Per Week.	EMERSON Make, dark oak case, bargain at... $119 Terms, $1.00 Per Week.	BURTON Upright, beautiful mahogany case... $150 Terms, $1.50 Per Week.

FREE STOOL---FREE SCARF---FREE DELIVERY

A. HOSPE CO.

1513-1515 Douglas St.

JEWISH SUCCOTH LAST NIGHT

Feast of Tabernacle Will Extend Over Day Beginning at Sundown.

SERVICES AT ALL SYNAGOGUES

Religious Ceremonies of the Season Scheduled for Last Evening and This Morning and Evening.

The Jewish festival of Succoth, or Feast of Tabernacles, will be celebrated this year from Wednesday at sundown till the same time tonight. The festival lasts regularly eight days, and is celebrated by all Jews throughout the world. It was celebrated by the Jews when they lived in Palestine as an agricultural festival, and marked the close of the harvest and the beginning of the plowing and rainy season. It was a festival of rejoicing and merry-making when the servant was equal to the master and all united in praising and thanking God for His bountiful gifts. The bible commanded that on this festival all the people should make pilgrimage to the temple at Jerusalem, and there, after offering their sacrifices, should dwell in booths or tabernacles, hastily erected of wood and beautifully decorated with fruits and flowers to remind them both of the harvest season and how their ancestors had dwelt in booths in the wilderness. Many Jews still observe the latter custom today. In some synagogues, too, a modernized form of the harvest festival is celebrated.

Some also celebrate a supplementary festival on the ninth day, called Rejoicing of the Law, because on that day the sacred scrolls of the law of Moses are rolled back to the beginning of Genesis and are begun to be read anew. In many synagogues the scrolls are taken from the holy ark, in which they are kept, and carried about in solemn procession.

Berg Suits Me

A Special Offering for Thursday

Women's Stylish Fall Suits and Dresses of Unusual Value "For That Day Only" $24.50

In these suits we specially feature the best Tailored Suits ever offered at the price—made of the heaviest quality of men's-wear serge, in blue and black, Skinner satin lined, (weight just right for all winter wear), a man-tailored cut-away jacket with welt seams, plain skirt, fastened over left hip, a neat slash up either side and habit back.

At this price are also offered the Demi-Tailored and fancy styles with draped skirts and Jackets showing both the Belted and Russian types—all the new colors and fabrics—Pebble Creviots, Diagonals, tweed Cloths, Brocaded Novelties, etc., special for Thursday... $24.50

IN THE DRESSES OFFERED FOR THURSDAY will be found every new type that is fashionable. More charming styles and more becoming effects are shown at this time than for many seasons past.

In the silks are crepe de chine, messaline crepe meteor, crinkled crepe, charmeuse, Canton crepe and silk poplin.

In wool are shown serge, eponge, Bedford cord and wool crepe.

All the new styles are represented—the sunburst type, three-tiered skirts, the real and simulated tunic, the waist line drapes, elephant sleeves and elongated shoulder lines—all for... $24.50

Swagger Fall Coats at $10.00

The greatest showing of new Fall Coats at this price that can be found.

We feature coats at this price and offer remarkable values. Stylish, nifty types for the young girl and more conservative styles for the mothers—chinchillas, boucles, diagonals, cut chinchillas, Balkan lamb, Malesse boucle and handsome two-tone diagonals cut in three-quarter lengths, some with mandarin sleeve, trimmed with buttons and piping of velvet and made to button high around the neck. Many new models offered Thursday—for the first... $15.00

$1.50 Kloofit Petticoats, 95c. Fitted tops that adjust to any waist without bunching.

The Berg Clothing Co.

1513-1515 DOUGLAS ST.

Correct Dress for Men, Women and Children

Mrs. Phillips Sues Convict Husband for Separation

Mrs. Susie M. Phillips, wife of James E. Phillips, who is serving a life term in the penitentiary for killing Marsh C. Hamilton, manager of a sawmill on the Missouri river at Florence, as a result of his alleged insane jealousy over Hamilton's friendship with his wife, has brought suit for divorce against the convict.

The murder, which occurred shortly after midnight on the morning of August 1, 1909, was attended by highly sensational circumstances. Hamilton was sleeping in the office of his sawmill with a man companion. He was summoned to the door by Phillips and received a bullet in the brain. Mrs. Phillips, with her son, Edmund, who is now 4 years of age, was at St. Paul, Neb., and it was said that her relations with her husband had been friendly.

Phillips escaped, but was captured and tried and convicted. He has been in the penitentiary at Lincoln for three years. His defense was insanity and the fact that he believed he had cause to be jealous of Hamilton was shown, but the jury convicted him and he was sentenced by Judge Estelle to a life term in prison.

Mrs. Phillips alleges as grounds for divorce that her husband has been convicted of murder. They were married in November, 1903, in Omaha. Mrs. Phillips is a daughter of Mrs. T. F. Gilliam, who at the time of the murder lived at 433 Burdette street.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

MAY HIRE PLAYGROUND EXPERT TO HELP OMAHA

Whether or not a fund of $5,000 is to be raised by subscription in Omaha to bring a field secretary here from the east to determine the needs of Omaha in regard to playgrounds is to be decided by a committee of five to be appointed by Dr. Harold Gifford within the next few days. This was decided at a meeting of some twenty prominent Omaha people interested in playgrounds work at the Commercial club yesterday. Dr. Gifford presided over the meeting. Charles F. Weller of New York, secretary of the Playgrounds and Recreation Association of America, was present to outline the work to be gathered.

A resolution was offered that the money be raised for the services of a field secretary who would look into the situation here with a view to outlining a plan. This did not carry, but it was decided that a committee should be appointed to consider the advisability of raising the money and bringing him here. The committee is to report to the Playgrounds Association of Omaha.

Persistent Advertising is the Road to Big Returns.

Switch Engine Gets Second Money in a Mix With Freighter

A big, heavy freight engine and a lowly switch engine in an encounter in the Union Pacific yards between the Union station and the Burlington station and the switch engine came out of the melee sadly the worse for it, while the freighter went away on its way. The switch engine got up its nerve by putting on a great amount of additional steam and with loud puffing and snorting came tearing down the track, disregarding a switch that was open for it and made a rush for the big freight, leisurely rolling down the rails. The freight merely put up its guard, shoved the switch engine off the track, backed up and switched off onto another track and proceeded on its way. A big steam derrick hoisted the vanquished switch engine back on the track, while the engineer, Jimmie Murphy, puffed and coaxed to keep the hot tears from running down his cheeks.

The switch engine, lost its pilot and was otherwise bungled up.

Goes East a Giant, but Changes Mind

Joe Sykes, assistant to General Manager Ware of the Union Pacific, has returned to Omaha from New York and Philadelphia, where he was a spectator to the slaughter of McGraw's Giants by the Athletics. Sykes was an ardent Giant fan and went to New York filled with expectations of seeing the Giants perform at will at the expense of the Athletics, but he has returned with a very different viewpoint and is now anxiously waiting for next year, so that he can see the Athletics clean up on some other National league team.

CHARLES CLARK ARRESTED WHEN HE THREATENS DEATH

Charles Clark, 1911 California street, was arrested at Fourteenth and Douglas streets Tuesday evening for disturbing the peace. The complaint was made by the proprietor of the Arcade hotel barber shop, who informed the station that after an argument Clark had drawn a revolver with a revolver with which to shoot him. Detective Ring and Van Dusen were sent to arrest the man and from a description furnished succeeded in apprehending Clark on his return to the shop. He was visibly under the influence of liquor and when brought to the station a loaded revolver was taken from his person.

When arraigned before Judge Foster he was discharged and made haste to thank the arresting officers, whom he declared had saved him from committing a crime.

Be Fair to your stomach

and it will prove to be your "best friend."

Safe guard it against any weakness that may develop from time to time by the daily use of

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

It Strengthens and invigorates the entire system, thus preventing Poor Appetite, Headache, Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation and Malaria, Fever and Ague.

TAKE A BOTTLE HOME WITH YOU TODAY

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Orkin Brothers Give Banquet to Their Employees

A banquet was given at the Rono hotel Tuesday evening by W. M. Robinson, manager of the Orkin Bros. piano department, for his salesmen, heads of other store departments and members of the firm.

This like the banquet of last year, was held on the eve of an enormous piano selling campaign which has been inaugurated by the Orkin piano department. After the dinner was over Mr. Robinson spoke quite extensively on the new piano selling venture, which is known as the co-operation plan. Max Orkin, president of the Orkin Bros. firm, spoke briefly on the intense value of co-operation, not only in selling pianos, but in every department of the store. The next man on the program to speak was M. E. Orkin, who also dealt mainly on the subject of co-operation. Ward Burgess, a new member of the Orkin Bros. firm, talked on the advantages derived from co-operation and also the necessity for every man at the head of departments to insist on courtesy to customers by those employed in his department. He also spoke of the new improvements that are being planned for the interior Orkin store in the near future. Arthur C. Smith also spoke on the wrong and the right way to buy merchandise. He emphasized strongly the necessity of never allowing stock to grow old on the shelves and thereby depreciate in value.

Numerous talks were given by the different department heads and piano salesmen along the lines of co-operation and general topics regarding the upbuilding of a department store.

From start to finish the meeting was of a very enthusiastic nature and even more so than the one given a year ago.

Increase Your Happiness by Telephone

The Bell Telephone ministers to the pleasure of millions by keeping them in touch with the world all about—near and far.

A letter is cold and bloodless. It lacks the human touch. Telephoning is almost like a personal visit.

Over the telephone you may hear the living, laughing voices of your distant friends just as if talking face to face.

NEBRASKA TELEPHONE COMPANY

Increase Your Happiness by Telephone

The Bell Telephone ministers to the pleasure of millions by keeping them in touch with the world all about—near and far.

A letter is cold and bloodless. It lacks the human touch. Telephoning is almost like a personal visit.

Over the telephone you may hear the living, laughing voices of your distant friends just as if talking face to face.

NEBRASKA TELEPHONE COMPANY

Increase Your Happiness by Telephone

The Bell Telephone ministers to the pleasure of millions by keeping them in touch with the world all about—near and far.

A letter is cold and bloodless. It lacks the human touch. Telephoning is almost like a personal visit.

Over the telephone you may hear the living, laughing voices of your distant friends just as if talking face to face.

NEBRASKA TELEPHONE COMPANY

Increase Your Happiness by Telephone

The Bell Telephone ministers to the pleasure of millions by keeping them in touch with the world all about—near and far.

A letter is cold and bloodless. It lacks the human touch. Telephoning is almost like a personal visit.