CITY MUST MEET SHORTAGE

Police Must Lay Off Five Days and Health Officers for Month. PEOPLE TO CARE FOR GARBAGE. Commissioner Ryder Explains the Reason for the Shortage and the Way it Will Be Met by the City Dads. Members of the police department will be asked to take a voluntary layoff of five days each before the year is out; citizens will be asked to dispose of garbage at their own expense beginning December 1; health inspectors will be laid off during the month of December. This plan was announced by Police Commissioner J. J. Ryder, following a conference with Mayor James C. Dahlgren, City Attorney John A. Rine, Health Commissioner R. W. Connell, Chief of Police Henry W. Dunn and City Comptroller Charles McElwain. Shortage of funds in the police, health and garbage appropriations has caused the commissioners to decide upon laying off so many city employees. Commissioner Ryder added seventeen policemen to the force during the year. If the appropriation for the police department had been as large as was agreed upon by the commissioners at the beginning of the year $100 would have been left over in the fund at the close of the year. As it is the fund will be about $1,900 short. The emergency hospital funds will carry the institution through to the close of the year with its force of employees intact. Must Take Care of Garbage. Commissioner Ryder said the company to which the garbage removal contract was let last year removed the garbage at its own expense during the last month of the year, but refused to do so this year. The citizens have been asked to burn their own garbage or else to keep it until the health department can remove it immediately after the first of the year. Police Commissioner Ryder said: "Extraordinary appropriations of $75,000 and a probable shortage of tax receipts have put the administration up against a difficult situation. At the first of the year we had to set aside $50,000 to make up $50,000 to redeem a bond issue which could not be renewed. Advancing county later in March, the tornado forced on the council an emergency appropriation of $25,000, but we had to meet this calamity without hesitation. We cannot have our loaf and eat it, as the old saying is; hence the present serious shortage. However, we will come out all right with the willing assistance of the people in the matter of caring for the garbage."

Student Council Has First Meeting

The first meeting of the student council of the high school was called by Principal McHugh Tuesday afternoon. The purpose of the council will be to discuss plans for raising the scholastic standing and discipline of the students at the school and to consider any innovations which will be of assistance to the pupils. At the meeting Miss McHugh roughly outlined the duties of the organization and urged all of the members to be on the lookout at all times for weak points in the school which are capable of remedy. Badges will be furnished the members of the council which will be worn by them at receptions and entertainments at which visitors at the school are present. These badges will mark the council members as ushers and nurses and the designated students will act as directors for the strangers. It is Miss McHugh's plan to hold a series of entertainments in the auditorium of the school this year at which the parents of the students will be given an opportunity to become personally acquainted with the faculty. The first of these receptions will be held next Thursday evening when the freshmen will have charge of the program. At least three other similar receptions, one for each of the three remaining classes at the school, will be held during the school year.

Teachers from Out-in State to Attend the Meeting on Full Pay

Letters are pouring in from various parts of the state to report that quite generally school boards in the cities and towns are allowing their teachers the time and railroad fare to attend the State Teachers' association meeting in Omaha November 5 to 7. Superintendent C. A. Mohrman of Neligh writes: "Your array of talent looks good to me. We will be there with every teacher." Superintendent C. B. Moore of Osceola writes: "The Board of Education took the initiative this year and arranged for our teachers to attend the state association meeting this fall on full pay and the district to pay the railroad fare besides. They don't hit a good investment." Superintendent Wilson of North Platte writes: "The Board of Education here decided to allow all teachers two days, and all principals and supervisors with the superintendent three days without loss of pay, and further directed the superintendent to urge all teachers who possibly can to attend this meeting and get all the benefit possible." Superintendent O. R. Bowen of West Point writes that the board has given the teachers the time off without loss of pay. "We'll all be there," he adds. Superintendent R. J. Barry of Grand Island says: "The board of its own volition requested all the teachers to attend." Superintendent John Speedie of Benson writes: "The board has given all teachers permission to attend without loss of time. We will all be there."

What! No Sponsors? School Girls Grieved

Is gallantry on a decline at the high school? That is the question the high school girls have been asking. It all came about with the rumor that there are to be no sponsors in the regiment this year. This rumor is becoming more of a certainty daily. Up until two years ago it was considered one of the duties and privileges of office for the captains and majors to select one of their sweethearts as sponsor of their battalion or company. Presentation day, when the sponsors were made known, and presented to the companies, was the big day of the year for everybody. All is now changed. There is no romance at all floating about high school corridors. Cupid is mooping. But two of the company captains have incriminated themselves as desiring sponsors, while the rest are strongly opposed to the idea. The officers give no excuse for their attitude other than "It's too much bother."

Last Relief Station Permanently Closed

With the greater part of the relief work necessitated by the Easter tornado now completed, the relief station in the Elk's building on Fifteenth street is to be permanently closed today. Only three regular employes have been kept there for several months. Two of these, John McAllister and C. B. Kraus, will be retained by the relief committee to superintend rebuilding work now in progress. There are about twenty property owners who have not yet begun the rebuilding of their wrecked homes, although the relief committee early made appropriations for them. Money for them is still held in trust by the relief committee. The committee is in touch with all these persons, some of whom are out of the city. The general relief committee is to hold a meeting with a week or so at the Commercial club, when a special committee is to be appointed to review and audit the work accomplished by the committee. A final report is to be eventually made when the auditing and reviewing committee finally finishes its work.

ALLIANCE IS AGAINST NATIONAL PROHIBITION

It was primarily the sense of the German-American alliance meeting held at St. Louis and from which Val Peters, editor of the Omaha Tribune, has just returned, that nation-wide prohibition is a farce and an undesirable thing. In defense of its stand the alliance points out that in states where prohibition has been in order that there has been recorded more inebriety than ever before, and that new poisonous drug habits have also culminated among people who were otherwise satisfied with moderate drinking of stimulants. Resolutions to that effect were drawn up by the alliance and copies of it have been sent to each member of congress, asking assistance in preserving what the alliance terms, the individual liberty of Americans.
