

TWO-THIRDS VOTE REQUIRED

Deputies Would Not Let Majority Change Prayer Book.

AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION
 Womansions of Candidates to Fill Five Vacancies in Episcopate Will Be Made Today.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—An amendment to the constitution making it impossible to change the title page of the prayer book or otherwise revise it without a two-thirds vote of both the house of deputies and the house of bishops was adopted overwhelmingly late today by the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church in triennial convention here. Both houses must ratify the amendment before it becomes effective.

Important action by the house of bishops was taken this afternoon and announced tonight negatives the proposal endorsed by the house of deputies to make the presiding bishop of the church elective. Evidently of consequence now decides the choice. Nominations of candidates to fill five vacancies in the episcopate raised by the resignation of four bishops and the death of another will be made tomorrow.

The debate in the house of deputies over the constitutional amendment affecting prayer-book revision was extended and spirited.

While efforts were made to keep out of the debate any direct reference to the proposal to change the name of the church from Protestant Episcopal to American Catholic, Dr. William Manning, who offered the amendment, plunged directly into that phase of the matter, and afterwards, President Mann of the house of deputies declined to rule out of order Manning's arguments.

The debate brought out the important announcement that the proposal to change the name of the church, which it had been believed was dead, so far as this convention was concerned, would be brought up in direct form on the floor of the house of deputies before the conclusion of the present sessions.

It was said the question was to come up through a memorial from the diocese of California.

Dr. Manning made it clear in his address on the amendment that his proposal was made in the interest of church harmony. He explained his objection to the present name of the church—that it was too cumbersome and did not sufficiently express the church's "splendid catholic comprehensiveness," but he did not believe the church was yet ready for a change.

"I believe," he said, "that it would be wrong and unjust and could do nothing but harm, to make such a change until a great majority in the church shall be convinced that it is desirable."

Creighton Students Parade Before Game

Creighton university students, at a mass meeting at the Creighton college last evening, made plans for a student parade to precede the opening of the game between Marquette and Creighton on Creighton field Saturday. Dr. E. H. Breuning of the dental department, presided, and rousing speeches were made by Coach Harry Miller, Athletic Director Wiles, and others.

The parade will be through the center of Omaha and 1,000 students will take part. The college band will be in the lead. All students will congregate at the law college, Eighteenth and Douglas, at 1:30 p. m.

The Creighton team took its final scrimmage Thursday afternoon, the varsity tearing great holes in the scrub lineup. The game with Marquette will be called at 3 o'clock.

Swindlers Intimidate Lancaster Farmers

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Oct. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—Two men, representing themselves to be a deputy sheriff and judge of Lancaster county, secured $200 from two farmers by the name of Charles and Theodore Strehlow last night and succeeded in getting away.

The Strehlows are Germans and live on a farm in the southwest part of Lancaster county near the town of Kramer, and neither can read or write English. The men rode up to the house and told the farmer that they were wanted for a murder committed thirty years ago, and had their victims so badly scared that they readily put up the money all they had, as security for their appearance in court Monday morning, receiving from the men a receipt for the same.

The men drove a white horse hitched to a black top buggy. Both were thick set, one wearing a black overcoat and the other a tan coat.

LINCOLN APPEARS NEUTRAL ON REMOVAL QUESTION

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, Oct. 17.—(Special.)—It is evident that the people of Lincoln are beginning to see the light as related to the coming submission of the proposition for or against removal of the state university to the state farm, for the Lincoln Commercial club has notified W. B. Delano, secretary of the farmers' congress, that the club will furnish no representative to argue the question of university removal from a Lincoln standpoint.

The farmers' congress will be held in Omaha at some time in the near future, and Secretary Delano had thought it would be a good stunt to pull off a debate between Ross Hammond on the side of removal and some Lincoln man on the side of stay-where-it-is, but the action of the Lincoln end of the deal looks as if the capital city was really willing to let the people of the state have something to say about where their university should be located.

The petitions in circulation asking for the submission of the people to a referendum vote are nearly all in, and according to Chancellor Avery there will be sufficient names to insure the submission of the matter.

His Distribution of Imperial Pattern Outfits by The Bee.

It is not improbable that many of our lady readers are on the tip of expectation, anxiously awaiting the great opportunity of getting a complete assortment of the most up-to-date embroidery patterns which will be available tomorrow at The Bee.

These embroidery patterns are in keeping with this progressive age and are operated by a new and improved process, which permits them to be transferred a number of times in perfect detail and without injury to even the most delicate fabric.

When it is considered that embroidery patterns bought in the usual way never cost less than 10 cents each, and often more, the lady readers of The Bee will appreciate the advantage of a complete outfit for 25 cents, which at the regular rate would entail an expenditure of more than $10. To obtain one of these outfits it will only be necessary to clip six coupons from any date or dates of The Bee and present them with 25 cents at The Bee office, or if the outfit is to be forwarded by mail, send six coupons and 25 cents, the extra 7 cents being required for postage on the packet.

TOMORROW IS THE DAY

His Distribution of Imperial Pattern Outfits by The Bee.

It is not improbable that many of our lady readers are on the tip of expectation, anxiously awaiting the great opportunity of getting a complete assortment of the most up-to-date embroidery patterns which will be available tomorrow at The Bee.

These embroidery patterns are in keeping with this progressive age and are operated by a new and improved process, which permits them to be transferred a number of times in perfect detail and without injury to even the most delicate fabric.

When it is considered that embroidery patterns bought in the usual way never cost less than 10 cents each, and often more, the lady readers of The Bee will appreciate the advantage of a complete outfit for 25 cents, which at the regular rate would entail an expenditure of more than $10. To obtain one of these outfits it will only be necessary to clip six coupons from any date or dates of The Bee and present them with 25 cents at The Bee office, or if the outfit is to be forwarded by mail, send six coupons and 25 cents, the extra 7 cents being required for postage on the packet.

A coupon will be printed in this paper each day during the distribution until the enormous consignment of Imperial Pattern Outfits is completely exhausted.
