

MALONEY SPEAKS HIS MIND

Detective Chief Tells Police Judge Where to Get Off.

FRICITION AT THE CITY JAIL

Each Asserts that the Other is Interfering with the Work of His Department and Hot Words Follow.

Dainty Police Judge Charles W. Foster's shell-like ears were shocked, his whole day was spoiled for him yesterday all because Chief of Detectives Steve Maloney, speaking the exact usual in vogue in police circles told him something that translated is said to mean, "If yah don't quit neglectin' yer own job an' tryin' to run mine, there'll be trouble."

Judge Foster was dumfounded. He couldn't speak a word. The silence had a cooling effect on Maloney's wrath and the bulky sleuth retreated to his office, some fifty pounds lighter in weight. Foster put on his coat and hat and left the court room.

The story goes that a man was arrested Wednesday night for being in the wrong house. He was held in jail all night so that Maloney's men could investigate him. At that time, it was thought that the man was a housebreaker. After investigation it transpired that the prisoner had only become confused and got into the wrong house and Maloney seeing no reason to file a complaint set him free.

The prisoner's name appeared on the court docket, but the prisoner himself was not in court. Prosecuting Attorney Anheuser told Judge Foster that Maloney has released the man because there was nothing to the case.

The judge is then said to have passed several caustic remarks about Maloney; the way Maloney's department is being operated, and intimated that the chief is incompetent and was usurping authority not belonging to him. Maloney was not present, but kind friends carried the news to him. After court had adjourned Maloney faced Foster and told him "what's what" in language that is not usually heard in the best conducted Young Women's Christian associations.

Foster took the "lectures" in silence and when it was over donned his coat and hat and departed.

According to police station attaches relations are strained between Foster and not only Maloney, but nearly every other police official, because of his habitual statements derogatory to the department that he makes no attempt to prove and frequent dismissal of cases "just because he don't like the administration."

Judge Foster, of course, denies this charge and says that the police try to run his court and do everything they can to hinder him.

Postpone Douglas Bridge Celebration Until Along in June

The bridge celebration to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of street communication between Council Bluffs and Omaha and South Omaha, is to be held next June. This was the decision reached by the committee which met at noon at the Commercial club, with Acting Mayor Dan Butler, Mayor Maloney of Council Bluffs, and Mayor Hoctor of South Omaha present. The celebration is to be held in Dodge park, on the east side of the river, extending some distance up and down the river.

The celebration was delayed until June for several reasons. The park will not be finished much before that time. The committee desires to have United States troops participate, and at present there are practically none stationed at either Fort Omaha or Fort Crook. Again, on account of the recent closing of the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities, it was thought best to delay the next great celebration for some months.

State militia troops, as well as federal troops, are to participate in the ceremonies. The committee in charge of arrangements was made permanent, with Dan Butler chairman.

Excavation Bids for New Hotel Now Being Submitted

Only five of the nine bids expected on the Fontenelle hotel site, were in at noon at the office of Architect Thomas C. Johnson. More bids were expected after noon, although it had been previously announced that bids would close at noon. The contract for the excavation will likely be let within the next day or two. The dimensions of the lot line, which will also be the dimensions of the excavation, are 12x15 feet. At the southeast corner of the excavation will be some fifteen feet, while farther west the depth will be greater, as the surface of the ground is higher. This excavation will yield a tremendous quantity of dirt. The disposition of this will depend upon the plans of the individual contractors whose business it will be to get rid of the dirt elsewhere. There are always places in the city where it is filling, and the question here will be of finding the nearest dumping place that will be to the advantage of the contractor.

League Entertains Methodist Nurses

The Epworth league of the Walnut Hill Methodist church gave a reception Wednesday evening for the nurses of the Methodist hospital. Autumnal decorations were used with a profusion of pennants, flowers and especially arranged electric lights. The reception line consisted of Rev. and Mrs. William Boyers, Miss Mary Morissette and the officers of the league.

The program for the evening was announced by little individual programs in autumnal design, as follows:
Violin Solo—Mr. Donald Smith, accompanied by Miss Vera Smith.
Vocal Solo—Mr. Hiram Salisbury.
Violin Solo—Miss Christensen, accompanied by Miss Hart.
One-Act Comedy—"The Trouble at Waterloo"—Caleb Burleigh, Day, Alice, Jess Woodruff, Mildred, Vera Smith, Bertha, Sybil Woodruff, Marian, Genevieve Roberts, Miss Ophele Starline, South Johnson, Kathleen, the maid, Mrs. L. W. Hoffman.
Assisting in the rooms were Misses Owens, Kaufman, Day, Woodruff, Blaine, Platt, Cavett, Arnold, Williams, Fletcher, Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hoffman.
Singing songs were Misses Pichard, Lester, Gayz, Day, Gordon, Treiblock.

Tip-Top Bread is the best for all members of the family; you may eat it piping hot or you may eat it cold—it is equally palatable and nutritious. Why? Because it is thoroughly baked in Mammoth ovens in a heat of 550 degrees Fahrenheit; every yeast germ is killed by this terrific heat. It is made from spring wheat flour with milk, sugar, shortening and all other ingredients of the best. Baked in the only automatic bakery in the state. All grocers have it for sale, fresh daily, wrapped in airtight wrappers with the Tip-Top label printed on every wrapper.
