SYNOD SOLVES COLLEGE CASE Endorses Bellevue for Board Aid and All Are Happy.

HASTINGS SYNODICAL SCHOOL Dr. Young of Beatrice Becomes the Pacifier by Drawing the Resolution Whose Adoption Settles the Matter.

"That it be the sense of the synod of Nebraska that the educational status of the synod remains the same, Hastings college remaining the synodical college."

The adoption of that resolution by the Presbyterian synod at North church settled the so-called synodical college dispute that has dragged through several synods and satisfied both sides.

Dr. Young of Beatrice, recognized as a strong friend of Hastings college, offered and spoke for the resolution and was heartily applauded.

As soon as the resolution had been adopted by a rousing standing vote the synod broke forth into singing 'Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow.'

This leaves now the other big contest of the home mission policy yet for settlement, and that is under way, the matter having been referred to a large committee.

Madison was selected for the next meeting place of the synod, a year hence. It will have a new edifice for the meeting.

LANE SAYS GRADING IS ONLY GRAIN MEN'S FIGHT

"It is purely a grain man's fight," said C. J. Lane, general freight agent of the Union Pacific, when asked what the proposed regrading of corn by the federal government would mean to the railroads of the west. "I don't see that it should affect us much. I do think they are splitting too fine in the proposed grading because corn will take more moisture or less moisture according to the climate and condition of the weather during various parts of the year. Also, corn shipped from here will take more moisture when it gets near the Atlantic coast, where the climate is damp and soggy."

George Kills Self by Turning On Gas

J. H. George, aged 49 years, a painter for the Standard Oil company, was found dead in bed yesterday morning in his rooms at 2305 North Eighteenth street, as the result of asphyxiation by gas.

His failure to appear for work led to the discovery of the body by E. L. Blackledge, a fellow employee, who had been sent to the house to learn if he was ill. George had been dead for several hours.

A rubber tubing connected with the plug and a gas stove had been jerked from its connection. No letters were found, but the fact that George several nights before hinted that he might take his life and the windows of his room being down while he always left them open on retiring, pointed directly to suicide.

Mrs. Clancey, who conducts the rooming house, said the man had lived with her for two years and lately had worried considerably over domestic affairs. At present a suit filed by George for divorce, charging his wife with cruelty, is recorded in the courts.

BAR HOLDS SECRET MEETING Reporters Excluded from Association's Closed-Door Assembly.

Reporters Excluded from Association's Closed-Door Assembly. TALK OF "HOUSE CLEANING" Chairman of Investigation Committee Says Complaints, However, About Some Lawyers Are Not Serious Enough.

The committee on inquiry of the Omaha Bar association, which is charged with the duty of examining charges of irregular practice made against any member of the local bar, held a meeting at noon at the office of M. A. Hall in the Omaha National bank building. Reporters were excluded.

Charles S. Egituter, chairman of the committee, said that letters which had passed between the chairman and Victor Rosewater, editor of The Bee, with relation to charges that reputable lawyers were derelict in their duty in failing to have a "house cleaning" of the bar were considered, and that F. A. Brogan of the committee of lawyers appointed by the judges of the district court was present, but that he had nothing to give out to the newspapers.

Mr. Egituter admitted that some complaints with regard to misconduct on the part of local attorneys came before the committee, but added that none of these was of grave nature.

UNIVERSITY OF OMAHA SOPHS TAKE A HIKE

The sophomore class at the University of Omaha took a "hike" to Albright Friday afternoon. The sophomores had planned to go Wednesday, but because of the bad weather were unable to do so. Members of the other classes of the university were asked to come along with the result that over seventy-five students were in the party. When the destination of the hike was reached a luncheon was served by the sophomores. One of the unique affairs at the outing was the fact that each student had to roast and bake potatoes and witness. A most enjoyable time was had, the students returning home about 12 o'clock, rather tired, but happy. Several faculty teachers accompanied the students.
