

BEFORE AND AFTER THE GAME

Citizen Starts to Celebrate the Victory Too Early.

POLICEMAN BLOCKS COURSE

But There Was No Restraint to the Celebration of the Cornhusker Victory After the Game Is Over.

ST. PAUL, Neb., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Some time ago an invitation was extended to the editors of the Loup valley to meet at St. Paul on October 17, with a view of organizing an association. The St. Paul Business Men's association wished to help entertain the visitors, so when the train arrived, bringing a goodly number of the editors and their wives from the surrounding towns, they were met by a delegation of the business men.

After being shown the business part of the city, they were invited to join members of the Business Men's association and ten auto loads were taken for a drive through the residence section of the city and surrounding country, that they might get a better idea of our beautiful farming country.

They were returned in time for dinner and at 1 o'clock were escorted to the city hall, where Editor Taggart of the St. Paul Republican called the meeting to order and introduced Mayor F. R. Nicholson, who addressed the newspaper men, welcoming them and tendering the freedom of the city.

H. M. Davis of the Ord Journal responded on behalf of the visitors, after which H. D. Leggett was chosen temporary chairman and Perry Gage of the Palmer Journal, secretary.

Then followed a genuine, old-fashioned round table session, everyone taking part, and matters of general interest to the newspaper boys were discussed.

C. W. Pool, president of the State Press association, and C. C. Johns, secretary of the same organization, took part in the discussion, and were of great assistance to the local newspaper men.

E. V. Parrish, publicity manager of the Omaha Commercial club, was also present and gave a talk.

It was decided to organize the Loup Valley Editorial association, and H. M. Davis of Ord was chosen president and J. F. Webster of St. Paul, secretary-treasurer. The membership fee was fixed at $1 and it is desired that every newspaper man in the Loup country join.

J. F. Webster, H. D. Leggett and Perry Gage were chosen a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws. After voting to meet in St. Paul early in January, the meeting adjourned, leaving the officers to fix the date of the meeting.

The Business Men's association had arranged a banquet and at 7 p. m. eighty people, including the visiting newspaper men and their wives, and the members of the Business Men's association and their wives, sat down to a banquet in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. Robinson's orchestra played. After the banquet came two hours more of speeches, with Attorney T. T. Bell of St. Paul, toastmaster.

After the banquet the business part of the city, they were invited to join members of the Business Men's association and ten auto loads were taken for a drive through the residence section of the city and surrounding country, that they might get a better idea of our beautiful farming country.

New County is Plan of Ravenna Editor

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—A new county to be called Bryan county, with the corner stone of the new court house to be dedicated with a bottle of grape juice is the scheme of the editor of the Ravenna News, who sets forth the advantages of such a county and the duty which Nebraska owes the secretary of state to perpetuate his memory in this lasting monument in a copy sent Governor Morhead.

In order to form the county he proposes to take the south tier of townships of Sherman and the north tier of Buffalo county and make a county covering about 48 square miles and having a population of 6,000 to 8,000 people. It would take in the towns of Ravenna, South Ravenna, Hazard, Sweetwater, Nantasket, St. Michael, Poole and Pleasanton. Ravenna would be the county seat.

The plan in the continent, however, is whether Sherman and Buffalo counties will allow a slice to be taken off from what they possess. Sherman county at the present time has only sixteen townships and a tier of four taken from it would make it the smallest western county in the state and it is not likely that the people there would care to have that distinction.

HYMENEAL

Kinney-Nelson. OXFORD, Neb., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Miss Ora Nelson, daughter of Peter Nelson, was married Thursday evening at 5 o'clock to George Kinney of Colorado Springs, Colo. The wedding was a quiet one and Mr. and Mrs. Kinney left the same evening for a wedding trip to Chicago and St. Louis, after which they will make their home in Colorado Springs.

The bride is a graduate of the Oxford high school. The groom is a prominent business man of Colorado Springs. Dr. Bailey of the Presbyterian church officiated.

RESINOL CURED AWFUL ITCHING IN ONE NIGHT

Had Suffered Six or Seven Months. New York, April 26, 1913.—The skin on my hand got red and rough. It itched and I began to scratch it. It itched so that sometimes I could not sleep all night. I was suffering very much. I used Resinol and in one night, but they did not seem to help me. This went on for six or seven months. Then I tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. I used them one night. In the morning, to my surprise, my hand was all well and the trouble has never returned. This is the absolute truth.

(Signed) Miss Celia Kleinman, 61 Columbia St.

Nothing we can say of Resinol equals what others, such as Miss Kleinman, say of it. It does its work quickly, easily and at little cost. If you are suffering from itching, burning skin troubles, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, warts, boils, scalds, sores, or rashes, it will cure you nothing to try Resinol Ointment and Soap. Send to Dept. 18-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for a five sample. Sold by all druggists.

TOTAL REGISTRATION LARGE Number Reaches 15,340 by Saturday Night, When Booth Closes.

CROWDS ARE WELL HANDLED

Bureau of Information Is a Valuable Adjunct to the Booth and Helps Many Who Come in Search of Homes.

BROKEN BOW, Oct. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—When the doors of the booth closed at midnight Saturday, the total registration of the week numbered 15,340. Many people on the night trains knowing they could not get here in time to register by 12 o'clock, stopped over at Grand Island for the night and day.

The association of notaries yesterday decided to move the place of registration from its former location in the Dierks block to the basement of the court house and for the remainder of the week all registrations will be received at the latter place. The court house is one block west from the former location and easy of access.

The bureau of information, which has been a valuable adjunct to the opening will also be moved to that vicinity.

Crowds Handled Well.

Judge James W. Witten was in the city last night and in looking over the field with Receiver John Reese, highly complimented the system that had been adopted by Broken Bow. Judge Witten later left for Hyannis and will return here tonight.

As a big crowd is expected here tonight on both the early evening and midnight trains of the Burlington, train No. 4, which leaves here at 3:45 a. m., will be run in two sections. The first section will be made up at 8 o'clock with the coaches lighted and heated. This is done in order to accommodate those passengers not stopping at hotels and who wish to find warm and comfortable quarters.

Cloudy weather prevailed during the forenoon, but not at all disagreeable. A general clearing took place in the afternoon and conditions are now favorable to a pleasant week.

Total at Valentine.

VALENTINE, Neb., Oct. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The total registration for the week reached 5,628 at midnight Saturday. South Dakota was represented with a large delegation tonight who streamed in today in cars. Over fifty automobiles are here. The fact that the weather was cold and raw today did not deter hundreds of housekeepers from looking over the land.

On account of the scarcity of autos and other vehicles over a hundred persons walked out over the land, which is within a radius of five miles from here.

Frontier Farmers Have Annual Feast and Institute

STOCKVILLE, Neb., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The Frontier county Farmers' institute held its annual meeting and big dinner at Stockville Friday.

The dinner, which is the feature, handled by the farmers, wives through an organization of their own, was served in Hilton hall to 200 persons. The hall, court house and other buildings were decorated with flags for the occasion.

The afternoon program opened at the court house with a talk by Superintendent C. V. Williams of the state school at Curtis. His subject was "The Nebraska School of Agriculture as Related to the Agricultural Problems of Southwest Nebraska." He presented this matter in a forty-minute talk, showing the farmers the aims and conditions of the school, what it is doing and what it wants to do for the young people of this part of the state.

The next speaker, Ernest Spencer of Maywood, the representative of the farm schoolboy from this county at the boys' symposium of the Nebraska State fair, talked on "Nebraska State Fair as I Saw It." Mr. Spencer, though but 17 years of age, is one of the best specimens of young manhood in the county, and the largest boy by considerable at the symposium. In a fifteen-minute talk he showed the people that he had an observing mind, a retentive memory and could tell his experiences in a pleasant way.

The preliminaries over with, the practical side, or regular program, was opened by Colonel L. W. Leonard, "Live Stock Management" was his theme, and he held the close attention of his audience for an hour and thirty minutes.

The following officers were elected at the business session: President, Joseph Hengeler; vice president, Lee Daughy; secretary, A. G. Williams; treasurer, Edward Grouser, all of Stockville; executive committee, I. A. Wymore, Freedom; E. A. Hull, Stockville, and J. M. Gammill, Freedom.

The women had adjourned to Hilton hall before the business meeting, waiting for their speakers, and were given a talk by Miss Richards of the state school at Curtis and a lecture and cooking demonstration by Miss Aural Scott.

RAIL BOARD TO ORDER GERING DEOPT CHANGED

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—There will be rejoicing in Gering when they discover that the railway commission, in an opinion which is being prepared by Commissioner Taylor, will order the depot moved to another location at the foot of the main street instead of its present location, which was in the interest of certain land speculators, according to allegations made by the people of what is known as the "old town."

In making its decision the commission will take a decided stand against the practice of railroads of allowing land speculators to dictate where new towns shall be located or in placing depots where they will be inconvenient for the settled portions of a community.

Safe Robbed at Republican City. REPUBLICAN CITY, Neb., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The general merchandise store of W. H. Williams of this city was broken into Friday night by burglars. They found the safe unlocked and helped themselves to nearly $100 in cash. Blood hounds were brought here from Phillipsburg, Kan. The dogs took the scent and followed it to the depot at Napoleon, Neb., seven miles east of this place.

SUPFRAGE LEADER'S CASE TO BE TAKEN UP BY CAMINETTI TODAY

represented. There is no doubt that my detention is unjust."

Three Things Anger Her. Three things in connection with the examination of Mrs. Pankhurst seem to arouse her indignation:

One is that she was accused of "moral turpitude," another, that the proceedings were in secret, and the third, that her political opponents in England had, in her belief, furnished much of the material used by the special board in questions put to her. Her examiners were courteous "more or less," she admitted.

"The climax came," she said, "when they said I was guilty of moral turpitude. Then it was that I said: 'Your ancestors were guilty of moral turpitude when they threw the tea into Boston harbor.' I reminded them that Charles Stewart Parnell, Michael Davitt and John Redmond, Irish political leaders, who were actually convicted under the same act of Parliament under which I was convicted, were received here with open arms, although they destroyed property and were guilty of acts of a political nature and convicted by Parliament for them."

Mrs. Pankhurst, according to the stenographic report of her examination, admitted that she had made incendiary speeches in the United States, but denied that she had ever advocated taking human life.

Urged Riot and Rebellion. "I have made speeches urging riot and rebellion and the destruction of property when necessary," the minutes quote her as saying. "I have always urged that care be taken against destruction of human life."

Her object in coming here, she said, was that which the ancestors of present day Americans had in visiting Europe in the time of the revolution.

"For support and sympathy." She admitted that she had several times come in contact with the English authorities and been imprisoned.

After the questioning was over and the newspaper men were permitted to talk with her, Mrs. Pankhurst was quick to register her objection to "star chamber proceedings." They create a bad moral effect," she contended. As to the decision of the board she said:

"Who is responsible for the action taken by the special board in ordering me deported? I am of the opinion that it was done by our political opponents on the other side. I think the minds of members of the board were made up before I arrived here."

Her Experience Painful. "My experience before the board was very painful to me. At the beginning I asked to have a lawyer present to look after my rights, but this was refused bluntly. The board refused to let me make explanations, they interrupted me at almost every word, excepting that which I said about the charges of moral turpitude. I told them they were certainly prejudiced. The board had a copy of the act of Parliament under which I was convicted, and most of the questions seemed to me to be prepared or stereotyped. The members of the board did not seem to me able to define 'moral turpitude,' I did it for them."

"I was severely cross-examined in a manner, that I believe, was intended to make me fall into a trap. My denunciation was ordered specifically on my conviction on an indictment found against me in England as the person who placed a bomb in Lloyd George's home."

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch and other suffragists went to Ellis island early this evening to talk to Mrs. Pankhurst. Samuel Untermyer had volunteered to plead Mrs. Pankhurst's case, they said. They were informed that the island was officially closed for the day and that their interview would have to wait until tomorrow.

Counsel Leaves for Capital. Herbert Rees, Mrs. Pankhurst's counsel, spent the latter part of the day consulting authorities to cite to the government in arrears of Mrs. Pankhurst's case, only taking a copy of the minutes of the inquiry held with him, left tonight for Washington, where he expected to consult with Commissioner General Caminetti tomorrow. He apparently had not learned at the time he left that there was no probability of a formal hearing in the case at Washington tomorrow, as no decision was likely before Monday, as tonight's late advice indicated. The argument is expected to be that Mrs. Pankhurst's alleged offenses are purely political and that the government has no warrant in law for excluding her because of them.

Mrs. Pankhurst's coming has stirred up woman suffrage circles here as few incidents in the history of the suffrage movement have done.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who, it has been understood, was ready to supply a bond for the English militant, should one be allowed, did not appear actively in the case today. Among other suffrage leaders the note of sympathy, while sometimes sounded, was frequently lacking.

Not Interested in Visit. Mrs. Mary G. Hay, president of the Women's Suffrage party in this city, said the organization was not interested in Mrs. Pankhurst's visit. "We are in no sense militant and not in sympathy with Mrs. Pankhurst's idea," she said. "She, moreover, came to this country entirely on her own initiative and without any invitation from the Women's Suffrage party in America. We deplore the action of the United States government representatives, however, because it gives Mrs. Pankhurst a lot of undue notoriety and advertising, without benefiting the real work of our society in the least."

So far as the personality of Mrs. Pankhurst is concerned, many preconceived notions of her were upset by her appearance and her general attitude as she was taken to Ellis island and appeared before the inquiry board.

There was no suggestion of the woman who could face self-starvation to gain freedom. The immigration inspectors waiting her as she sat in the "Well" in the board room, saw a delicate, pale woman, of motherly appearance. Her voice as she responded to the formal questions was that of a woman of good breeding. Tonight, weary after her experience of the day, she retired early, to all appearances composed for a good night's rest and without worry as to the outcome of her case.

NO DECISION BEFORE TOMORROW

Camminetti Will Not Hold Formal Hearing of Case Today. WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Commissioner General of Immigration Camminetti tonight received the papers in the record of the hearing today of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst by the board of special inquiry at Ellis island. Commissioner Camminetti had directed the Ellis island authorities to forward the papers by mail, as is usual in such cases, but had directed also that they be expedited as much as possible.

Tomorrow the commissioner and Acting Secretary of Labor Post will take up the record for consideration, but the commissioner said tonight that he had no intention of holding a formal hearing of the case on Sunday.

"Such a proceeding would involve the holding open not only of the bureau of immigration, but also of the immigration station at Ellis island and would be unprecedented," he said.

It appears scarcely likely that final decision of the case will be announced before Monday.

Post and Camminetti to Decide. Then it will be determined by Commissioner Camminetti and Acting Secretary Post whether Mrs. Pankhurst shall be permitted to land in the United States, or, as the Ellis island board decreed, shall be deported to France, whence she came, for her acts committed for "the cause in England."

Protests and appeals on both sides of the case, couched in terms ranging from legal to extravagantly sentimental, continued to pour in on the immigration bureau and began to reach the White House. These addressed to President Wilson were referred to the immigration authorities, and White House officials pointed out the section of law which vests the secretary of labor with final authority in deportation cases.

Suffragists at headquarters of the National Association for Woman Suffrage, aroused at Mrs. Pankhurst's detention, engaged two attorneys to act with those coming from New York to plead for the British leader. One of the local lawyers is Miss Emma C. Gillette, a suffragist and daughter of a local law college, who has appeared before congressional committees in the cause of votes for women.

Commissioner Camminetti, while taking pains to make clear that Mrs. Pankhurst's case was being treated exactly as that of any other immigrant, pointed out that she was in ill health and that considerations due to a woman in such condition would be accorded to her.

To Go Over Records Today. Following the practice in such cases, Commissioner Camminetti will go over the records tomorrow, consider her answers to questions propounded by the immigration inspectors and the special board at New York with a view to determining whether any crime Mrs. Pankhurst admits having committed or for which she has been convicted involves "moral turpitude." His opinion will go to Acting Secretary Post, who, in the absence of Secretary Wilson, may sustain or reverse the immigration commissioner.

If the deportation ordered by the Ellis island board is sustained, Mrs. Pankhurst may be placed aboard the ship sailing for France to the port for which she sailed. Such an order might be stayed by habeas corpus proceedings in the federal courts, as was recent done in the case of General Cipriano Castro, the Venezuelan exile, and which resulted in his liberation. In the Castro case court action was held in abeyance until the immigration authorities had finished with the question.

Might Protest as English Woman. With all officials agreed upon a speedy decision in Mrs. Pankhurst's appeal, it probably will be decided late tomorrow or early Monday. Today there has been no communication between the State department and the British embassy over the incident. Diplomats pointed out that the suffrage leader might avail herself of a protest in her capacity as a British subject.

Commissioner General Camminetti remained at his office until nearly midnight awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Pankhurst's attorney, Herbert Rees, who left New York later than had first been planned.

During the evening the commissioner received numerous telegrams bearing upon the case, some protesting against the British suffragette's admission and others urging that the action of the Ellis island board be reversed.

SYNOUD SOLVES GREAT PROBLEMS OF CHURCH

colleges remaining the synodical college. That Bellevue college has no intention of asking for reinstatement on the old basis.

"The college board committee be instructed to endorse Bellevue's request for aid from the college board."

The adoption of that resolution by the Presbyterian synod at North church settled the so-called synodical college dispute that has dragged through several synods and satisfied both sides. President S. W. Stookey of Bellevue manifested his satisfaction by voting for it and heartily congratulating its author afterward. He and Vice President Baskerville, as well as members of the Bellevue board of trustees, said it was "just what we have been asking all along."

Dr. Young the Pacificator. Dr. Leon D. Young of Beatrice, recognized as a strong friend of Hastings college, offered and spoke for the resolution and was hailed by delegates as the man who "poured the oil on the troubled waters." But Hastings college took no hand in the debate, which waxed warm for some time. As one of its sponsors explained: "Hastings is not concerned at all, except in seeing a happy solution of an unfortunate situation."

"This resolution," said Dr. Young, "simply enables Bellevue to derive the financial support it seeks from the college board. It does not make Bellevue a synodical school, nor give it permission with the synod's endorsement to seek financial aid from the churches as Hastings does. Neither does Bellevue ask that concession."

As soon as the resolution had been adopted by a rousing standing vote the synod broke forth into singing "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow."

find the situation, though administration officials were in hopes that the elimination of General Huerta eventually might materialize.

There had been little disposition at any time, however, to credit the report that President Huerta actually had submitted his resignation to his cabinet and that it was refused because no successor able to cope with the situation could be found. Officially he declared it inconceivable that General Huerta should submit his resignation to a cabinet of his own choosing, with any sincere intention of having it accepted.
