CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Prices on Board of Trade.

Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Oct 24.—Best prospects ever known for winter wheat in the United States put the bulls today at a disadvantage. Closing prices were weak, 14% to be down. Corn showed a net loss of 16% and cats a drop of 140% c. In provisions the outcome ranged from 2% c deciline to 7% c advance. Whenever wheat prices bulged a little today the volume of selling increased to a noticeable extent. Aggressive ness on the part of the bears came chiefly from reports concerning the winter crop. Expert opinion was to the effect that taking the country as a whole such favorable conditions had never before prevailed.

Buyers of wheat derived their courage mainly from the fact that seaboard clearances for the week were the largest in ten years. There also were reports that Duluth was doing an active business in Manitobas and durum for export. Bears, however, maintained their front and were reinforced at the last by statements from country points northwest that spring wheat receipts were likely to be more interest.

wheat receipts were likely to be more

Deral.

Corn was freely sold on account of the fine weather. Oats followed the lead of corn. The principal feature of the day's sary weakness at the outset was due a decline in the price of live hoge.

were fully steady with yesterday's packer market, or about 56:00 lower than yes-terday's average. Summing up the gen-eral market values look to be a big nicket lower. Bulk of today's sales was made at $7.56;7.56, while the best price paid was $7.70. The trade was very slow and dull throughout and it was nearly 11 o'clock before the moderate supply was finally closued up.

Receipts were estimated at forty-nine cars, or 2.26 head, the smallest Friday run since April. For the five days the total is 21,816 head, a shortage of over 4,006 head as compared with last week, and more than 6,000 annalier than for the same days of last year.

Representative sales:

in the mutton line. It was a nominally steady market on fat lambs, there being none here, but most sellers and buyers thought if a strictly choice bunch of lambs had been offered they would have brought $7.20.

The measur offerings of feeding sheep that of Preceding Day.

The meager offerings of feeding sheep and lambs was not enough to meet the demand and as a result prices were generally strong and in spots a little higher. There was considerable competition for what few feeders were on sale and it was not long before everything was sold and weighted up.

The top price for fat lambs at the close of this week was $7.60, having been paid for one or two small bunches of natives as against $6.00 for several loads of range lambs a week ago. Taking today's strong feeling into consideration and the quality of the lambs coming in of into prevailing values are quotable logistic up for the week. The best feeder grades are logiste lower, with the common kinds being very uneven and anywhere from logistic off. Fat and feeder sheep continue scarce.
