

BUTTER APT TO BE CHEAPER
Big Surplus in Storage is Liable to Bring Prices Down.

COFFEE AND EGGS ADVANCE
Eggs Goes Up Half a Cent Per Pound, While Beef Remains Stationary and Mutton Goes Down One Cent.

According to Al King, head of the grocery department of Hayden Bros., butter is apt to come down this winter, as he says there are 5,000,000 pounds more of butter in storage in the United States than there was last year at this time. Mr. King couples with this situation the fact of the reduction of duty under the new tariff, and says it is bound to mean that the price will ultimately be reduced. He looks for Australian and New Zealand butter to be shipped to the American market at once, and feels sure that this will mean a drop. The old tariff on butter was 5 cents a pound, while the new duty is 2 1/2 cents.

Popecom will be high this year in the opinion of those who have had to lay in a supply of it in the larger stores. It is likely to reach 6 cents per pound straight, while last year it was 5 pounds for a dime shell.

Pork has gone up a half cent in the last week. Beef has remained about steady for the last thirty days. Mutton is a cent cheaper. Lambs are steady.

All nuts will be high, it is estimated at the present time. The supply of nuts is already coming in. It is estimated all nuts will be from 25 to 50 per cent higher than they were last year. English walnuts that last year could be had for 14 1/2 a pound wholesale, are this year bringing 18 1/2. Brazil nuts that last year sold at wholesale for 24 cents, are now selling for 29 cents.

Coffee Goes Up.
Coffee has jumped from 1 to 1 1/2 cents a pound, green. This makes the price of roasted coffee 2 cents higher, as coffee is sold to lose some 10 per cent in weight in the roasting.

Grape fruit is coming to the market in great lots at present. Large sizes are still selling from 10 to 12 1/2 cents a crate, while the smaller sizes can be had in abundance at 5 cents apiece. The Kiefer pears are about over. Tokay grapes are about over, although there are still some on the market at 4 cents a basket. New imported figs, size 7-crown, are on the market at 20 cents a pound. Apples are keeping up at a high level. Colorado Jonathans of good quality are holding up at 12 1/2 per crate, while the fancy are selling at 15. Grimes Golden are commanding about the same price. Cheeses is off a cent a pound. Fresh eggs have reached a price that is almost prohibitive. Wholesalers are asking 20 1/2 cents a dozen for the strictly fresh. Storage eggs are around a quarter. The strictly fresh eggs, however, are very scarce.

Mathiesen Enters Quick Disclaimer

John Mathiesen, the veteran assistant license inspector, is quite disturbed to find the license office under fire, and particularly over the possible impression that he has been having trouble with his chief. "I am very sorry the published statements about licenses are misleading," says Mr. Mathiesen. "As my name is mentioned in connection, I want to declare that I never had anything to do with the publication of the report, and that investigation of the facts will show the reasons for the apparent shrinkage in license revenue."

ENGLISH SCHOOLS WANT BOOKLETS ON NEBRASKA

General Passenger Agent Bassinger of the Union Pacific is in receipt of a letter from H. W. Taylor, principal of the schools of Laurel Grove, Birmingham, England, asking for booklets on Nebraska and other western states through which the lines of the company run. He asks for three dozen booklets relating to each of the states and says that he uses them for text books in the higher grades. This is the second request the Union Pacific has had from the Laurel Grove school for booklets. A large consignment was sent six months ago. Mr. Taylor writes that the English geographies and histories give little if any data on the states of the west and central west.

WASHINGTON IS CHARGED WITH WIFE ABANDONMENT

Edward G. Washington, a negro, who is said to receive a revenue of $25 a day from his pool hall, barber shop and tailor shop at 315 North Twenty-fourth street, is being sued by his wife on a charge of non-support and wife abandonment. She charges that her husband allows her $25 a day for herself and their daughter, J. B. Conroy, represents the complainant. Washington was arrested Thursday and released on a $1,000 bond. The case was set for this afternoon in Justice C. W. Britts' court.

SOUL EVERYTHING

Colonel Goetz, who is chief engineer of the Panama canal has become famous recently told a canal zone story. "We had in Ancon," he said, "an engineer who was in constant dread of the sea. He also was a crank on the subject of microbes. "Had everything you drink, no matter where you get it. This was his creed, and he made his raw native cook observe it religiously. "One day, while on a tour of inspection, the engineer was presented with a bottle of champagne by a sea captain, commanding also to pick up a piece of ice as his return to town, he hurried back to quarters with his prize. "A temperate chafin was the first wine that had come his way since his arrival in Panama. He held to his native cook, as he handed over his precious burden. "Get up something extra good today, for I have asked a few friends in to dinner to help me drink this superb wine. "The guests arrived. The cook served the stewed beef and potatoes. "Now the wine," cried the host, rubbing his hands. "The cook disappeared then stalked back, carrying a steaming saucen nearly full of a hot, muddy-yellow liquid. "That's the wine," replied the cook, gravely. "I had him good, and he must all go away. 'Cording to your orders, sear.' "Washington Star.

Little Surprises

"No, sir, you haven't a single tooth that needs any attention. Put your money back into your pocket, Mr. Kajones. You made a mistake in your dates, this note isn't due for six months yet. "I have detained you after hours, young man, to notify you that next week and thereafter your salary will be $10 a week more than heretofore. You can go now." "Hiram, I'm not a mind reader, but anybody can see that you're acting to ask me to marry you; why don't you say so?" "I'd gladly change bertha with you, Mr. Kajones; I prefer the upper one."—Chicago Tribune.

Loan Shark Law is Cause of Shortage

David Berkowitz, city license inspector, reports a shortage of $5,000 in his collection of license money this year. The shortage, the license inspector says, is due to the Simon loan shark law, which put twenty-eight loan sharks, who were paying $100 a year each as license money, out of business. Mayor Dahman conferred with the license inspector. The mayor said: "I can account for some of the shortage of collections. Right after the tornado I gave permits to several peddlers and others to operate without a license, because they had lost their property in the tornado."

New Books

THE CORYSTON FAMILY. By Mrs. Humphrey Ward. 225 Pp. $1.25. Harper & Co.

In this latest story of English home life, with its inevitable commingling of British politics and religion, Mrs. Ward sets out in most magnificent form. No novel she has yet written presents a more interesting situation than does "The Coryston Family" in its opening chapters. As time passes, the height of dramatic possibility attained by this in its middle reaches, and none falls with so completely wishy-washy anti-climactic effect as this does in its conclusion. It is quite within the range of possibilities, to be sure, and in some measure it is satisfactory; in order to reach it, sudden death by violence and otherwise, is resorted to in the disposal of the characters whose presence was awkwardly against the "happy ending," and for the others a compromise strangely out of tune with their earlier professions is patched up in order that the survivors might dwell in a semblance of amity. It will be accepted as inevitable, but one cannot escape a wish that Mrs. Ward had let "The Coryston Family" have been to the ultimate end, to see if her sons had the courage of their professed convictions. Aside from this, the story is valuable as showing some new lights on English beliefs.

THE WAY HOME. By Basil King. 54 Pp. $1.25. Harper & Co.

The son of a New York clergyman, disillusioned by the hypocrisy about him, renounces all interest in religion, dealing with single life, married life, church life, and the struggle between the spiritual and material in the average man. Started out frankly on a career of self-advancement, with no consideration for others, the man was successful in business and won for his wife a girl whose standards were much higher than his. Naturally, they drifted apart, and his existence, in spite of its material prosperity and self-indulgence, grew daily more unsatisfactory until life lost all savor for him. Finally he reached a crossroads, and then, guided by a woman, he started safely on his way home to peace.

WHEN POOLS RUSH IN

Eleanor Moore and Bruce Converse were in love. Their friends were not satisfied to have them happy in the way of lovers; the well-meaning mediators determined that they must find happiness in great careers. But there was one who knew all the while that "there is but one law of love and it cannot be broken." He was Prince Florimonde de Saint-Sauveur, the delightful, sentimental bachelor, no longer youthful, but still young, who turns out to be the hero.

THE TASTE OF APPLES

Jennette Lee. 36 Pp. Jennette Lee. A visionary old New England shoemaker, overflowing with simple human kindness, has become from long years at his work bench an idealistic philosopher, who diagnoses the trials and troubles of human nature as he diagnoses their worn footwear. And for both kinds of trouble he offers simple, practical, but strangely effective, remedies. How this royal-minded old shoemaker and his brisk partner who he treated to a trip to England; how she keeps house in a New England in one of the oldest nooks of old England; how her husband meets beggars and dukes on the same plane of sympathetic friendliness and is met by them in like spirit; all these things help to make this book one of the most wholesome and pleasant novels that has appeared in a long time.

THE WOMAN THOU GAVEST ME

By Hall Caine. 24 Pp. E. S. J. R. Lippincott Company. The subject of divorce occupies the principal theme in the development of this story, and there is much revelation of woman's inner attitude toward man. The author has made Mary O'Neill, a passionate, high-minded woman of pure ideals, regard the letter of her marriage vows only, and that because her church does not countenance divorce. There are Mary O'Neill in every community, and the place of woman in the scheme of things is one of our great problems, but this book furnishes no solution of that problem. The author's descriptions are realistic and the characters not over-drawn.

SQUIRE PHIN

By Holman Day. 308 Pp. E. S. J. R. Lippincott Company. A story of quaint types whose actions and speech are original. The scene is a Maine village, and Squire Phin Look is the peacemaker of the little resort, achieving his pacific purposes by reason, joking or justifiable wiles. His brother returns home after twenty years' absence, bringing with him some of the properties of the circus he has managed. His coming is the signal for the outbreak of certain old animosities, and the squire has his hands full.

GLORY OF YOUTH

By Temple Bailey. 211 Pp. E. S. J. R. Lippincott Company. Should an engagement bind two people who have discovered that they do not love each other? Here is the theme of this story in which four lives are tangled. Two women there are who do not know their own hearts until too late—two men who know where their happiness lies and are bound by their code of honor not to seek it. The comedy runs seriously near to tragedy before a puff of wind clears away the clouds and in bringing tears brings happiness and content.

THE DOMINE OF HARLEM

By Arnold Mullen. 25 Pp. E. S. J. R. Lippincott Company. Pathos and wit are blended in this story of the sturdy Michigan Dutch. True to their racial traits they were terribly "not in their ways," looking upon change and innovation as proceeding from the evil one. To them came Domine Van Woolen, a young minister with the modern viewpoint and the ideals of a less ardent Christianity. Then began the conflict of the old order versus the new, and the struggle was long and arduous.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND

By Jane Bunker. 227 Pp. $1.25. Bobbs-Merrill Company. A tale of crime and mystery which has all the elements necessary to a detective story—an interesting, mysterious crime, a secret perfectly concealed, a daring criminal, an innocent girl and two other innocent, attractive women under suspicion, many tight situations, and, finally, a satisfactory outcome.

THE CITY OF PURPLE DREAMS

By M. Wilson Craig. 41 Pp. $1.25. F. G. Brown & Co. The scene of this story is laid in Chicago and concerns the operations of a poor and friendless young man who first joins the anarchists and nurses a bitter hatred for the rich. After various vicissitudes he speculates in the wheat pit and is successful. This is the beginning of a spectacular career, ending in his running for the mayoralty of the city. For a long time this young man has been in love with a "little daughter of the rich," owing to a kindness she once rendered him, and he never gives up the idea that some day she will become his wife.

AMANDA OF THE MILL

By Marie Van Vorst. 34 Pp. $1.25. Bobbs-Merrill Company. The underlying purpose of the author is to give a picture of the life of the operatives in the great cotton mills of the south. A girl of the great out-of-doors, simple, elemental, innocent, becomes a woman of the world, and a man, once weak and degraded, but finally triumphant over self—these two characters are the central figures in this striking story of life and the intense struggle for survival.
