

ECHOES OF THE ANTE-ROOM

Dannebrog Lodge of Odd Fellows to Move into New Home.

RED MEN TO DECIDE ON BY-LAWS

Many of the Lodges Will Give Hallows'en Parties This Week—Some Will Entertain with Masked Balls.

Dannebrog lodge No. 26 of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will move into its new building...

Ivy Rebekah lodge No. 23 will give a Hallows'en dancing party next Thursday evening at Odd Fellows' hall.

Ruth Rebekah lodge No. 33 held a successful card party last evening.

Fontanelle tribe No. 15, Independent Order of Red Men, met last Monday evening in regular session with a very good attendance.

Woodmen of the World.

Schiller camp No. 29 will give a dance at the German Home this evening.

Lithuanian camp No. 44 will dance at the New Settlers' hall, Thirty-sixth and U streets, Saturday.

Gay Furness and his Omaha Boy Scout camp No. 16 are working for the big class of November candidates.

K. O. T. M.

Omaha tent No. 75, Knights of the Maccabees, had an open meeting last Monday evening, when a large attendance of the membership and friends was present.

Mogulians.

Owing to the large class of candidates to be initiated at the next session, consisting of the band mostly, the Mogulians will start the bangle at 7:30 p. m. sharp.

Tribe of Ben Hur.

The members of Ben Hur will give a party next Thursday night at their hall, 138 Harney street.

A. O. U. W.

Union Pacific lodge No. 11, Ancient Order of United Workmen, will not hold a regular session next Friday night on account of the dance.

Mystic Workers of the World.

Mystic Workers of the World will give a masked ball Thursday evening, November 6, at Bayright hall, Nineteenth and Farnam streets.

Fraternities of America.

Mendamin lodge No. 111 will give a Hallows'en dance for the benefit of the women's drill team Wednesday evening at Odd Fellows hall.

The Persistent and Judicious Use of Newspaper Advertising is the Road to Big Returns.

Men Welcome Mother's Friend

A Duty that Every Man Owes to Those who Perpetuate the Race.

It is just as important that men should know of progressive methods in advance of motherhood. The suffering pain and distress incident to child-bearing can be easily avoided by having at hand a bottle of Mother's Friend.

This is a wonderful, penetrating, external application that relieves all tension upon the muscles and enables them to expand without the painful strains upon the ligaments. Thus there is avoided all those nervous spells; the tendency to nausea or morning sickness is counteracted, and a bright, sunny, happy disposition is preserved that temperament of the little one soon to open his eyes in bewilderment at the joy of his arrival.

PATRIOTISM PULLS THE COIN

Ferry Naval Battle Celebration Classed as Money-Making Affair.

The announcement made at Columbus, O., that an appeal had been made to President Woodrow Wilson on behalf of Mrs. Mary Chapman of Put-in-Bay, to investigate an alleged injustice done her in appropriating land upon which to erect the national monument to Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, is likely to uncover a most unusual state of affairs concerning the project.

The appeal is filed by her brother, E. A. Foster, who, in grandiloquent language, speaks of the condemnation as a "nation's disgrace." There are a number of public officials at the capital who are willing to assert that instead of the disgrace being national, that it is local to Ohio, and that it bears upon the promoters of the monument enterprise.

In the memorial addressed to the president an appeal is made that Governor James M. Cox be requested to institute an investigation into the affair. It is quite likely that before very long both Governor Cox and Auditor of State A. Y. Donahay will be the midst of an investigation to ascertain what has been done with the thousands already expended from the liberal appropriations made by the state.

Intelligence has been received that many of the commissioners appointed by other states to participate in the enterprise left Put-in-Bay, after the cornerstone laying exercises last Fourth of July, declaring that they were humiliated by what they had seen practiced upon their legislatures.

They were not at all backward in asserting that the whole scheme was a money-making device, devised for the benefit of the hotel keepers and resort owners on South Bass island, who were described as "hogrich in their mad desire to get rich."

At least one of the commissioners asserted that the appropriation from his state should be canceled, and declared that the federal authorities should be advised of the conditions existing before any more work was done upon the memorial.

The reports are to the effect that the island in the vicinity of the memorial is filled with cheap and tawdry shows and hazy sales, which poison the air with hideous odors and smells. On the fourth place was crowded with pleasure-seekers from Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and other lake cities, who, instead of participating in the exercises, gave themselves up to drinking, dancing and indulging in the games of chance found on every hand.

The great address of Henry Watterson of Kentucky was delivered to fewer than 100 persons at a dancing pavilion, under a tent which was noise-making instruments operated for the benefit of 1,000 people in the beer garden below.

There being no police, Secretary McKenke Todd of Kentucky was compelled to stand at the entrance and keep order among the hundreds of partially intoxicated women and men who chafed at the dancing being suspended for a few hours.

Visiting officials found themselves charged outlandish prices for hotel rooms with little or no accommodation.

The legal department of state stands ready to combat the claim of Mrs. Chapman and has no hesitation in denouncing the entire condemnation proceedings as a "hold-up" on the part of the islanders.

The land, for which the state paid about $2,500, was on the duplicate for about $2,500. Some of it, particularly the actual site of the monument, was set down as swamp land of no value. Yet claims aggregated about $25,000.

The present affairs of the Memorial association now are in the hands of an interstate commission, of which Commodore Worthington of Cleveland is the president general. The land purchased by the state at fancy prices has been conveyed to the federal government through an act passed by the general assembly last winter.

Upward of $125,000 has been granted at various times by the state for the benefit of the enterprise. All told, nearly $1,000,000 has been raised by contributing states and the federal government.

Proceedings for the safeguarding of the beautiful memorial and for the cleaning up of the island from a moral and sanitary standpoint may soon be undertaken by both federal and state officials.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SLAVE LABOR IN INSECT LIFE

Kidnaping Expeditions of Red Ants on Their Black Infestors.

Among the treasures of my harnas laboratory, I place in the first rank an ant hill of Polyergus rufescens, the celebrated red, the slave-hunting Amazonian. Unable to rear her own family, incapable of seeking her food, of taking it even when it is within her reach, she needs servants to feed her and to undertake the duties of housekeeping.

The red ants make a practice of stealing children to wait on their community. They ransack neighboring ant hills that contain a different species; they carry home the nymphs, which soon attain maturity in the strange house and become willing and industrious servants.

When the hot weather of June and July sets in, I often see the Amazons leave their barracks of an afternoon and start on an expedition. The column is five or six yards long. If it meets nothing worthy of attention upon the road, it keeps its ranks fairly well; but, at the first hint of an ant hill, the leaders halt and deploy in a swarming throng, which is increased by the others coming up hurriedly. Scouts first detach the column starts on again.

It crosses the garden paths, disappears from sight in the grass, reappears farther on, threads its way through heaps of dead leaves and continues to seek at random.

The distance that the nymph-stealing column covers will vary; it depends on the number of black ants in the neighborhood. At times, ten or twenty yards suffice; at others, a journey of 100 yards or even more may be necessary. I once saw an expedition go beyond the garden. The Amazons scaled the surrounding wall, which was thirteen feet high, and went on into a cornfield. The route taken seems always a matter of indifference to the marching column. It crosses bare soil, thick grass, piles of dead leaves, heaps of stones, masonry, clusters of herbs, without showing any marked preference for one kind of road over another.

The homeward path, however, is strictly determined; it follows the outward track in all its windings and over all obstacles, no matter how difficult. The red ants, laden with their booty, return to the nest by the same road that the accidents of the chase compelled them to take originally. They repeat every spot that they passed before; the necessity for doing this appears so imperative to them that no additional fatigue or even the

Officers High School Senior Class

Ruth Koch—Secretary

Harold Torell—President

Earl Ketcham—Treasurer

Mildred Barber—Sgt. at Arms

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

Earl Ketcham, Treasurer, and Mildred Barber, Sgt. at Arms, are among the officers of the High School Senior Class.

LACY TO ASK FOR HEARING

Discharged City Employee Says the Case is Not Ended.

SAYS MCGOVERN HAD SPIES

Wants to Keep the Record Straight, as He Has Been Working for the City for the Last Twenty-Seven Years.

M. J. Lacy, chief field engineer of the city engineering department, who was along with Chief Draftsman Harry E. Cotton, discharged by City Commissioner Thomas McGovern, may ask for a hearing before the city commission. Lacy said:

"I have never, as McGovern charges, given a minute of my time during the working day to private contractors. The commissioner has seen cause to reflect on my character and he will have to answer for it."

"The commissioner employed spies to watch his men work. He asked me to spy on and report on other employees and I refused. My trouble with McGovern dates back to last year."

"I have been in this department twenty-seven years, and all I ask now is that my character be kept clean. This affair has not been settled yet."

Lacy said the men removed by McGovern were discharged to make room for the commissioner's friends. McGovern did not discuss the appointments he will make to fill the vacancies caused by the discharge of Lacy and Cotton.

M. F. Black of the drafting department will, it is rumored, replace Cotton. No successor to Lacy has been chosen. Cotton refused to discuss his discharge at this time.

MOHLER AND MUNROE WILL INSPECT UNION PACIFIC

President Mohler and Vice President Munroe of the Union Pacific leave for the west today, making an inspection of the lines of road through the mountain states. They probably will go on to Los Angeles, where they will meet Chairman Lovett of the executive committee of the Hariman system.

TEACHERS WILL USE THE GAYETY FOR MEETINGS

The Gayety theater will be used for the accommodation of the primary section of the Nebraska State Teachers' association when it meets here the first week in November. This branch of the association has grown to such proportions that large accommodations are necessary.

A Warning!

Several Omaha coal dealers have lately been known to substitute INFERIOR varieties of COAL for the GENUINE "ZEIGLER," featured by US at $6.50 a ton.

"Zeigler" has made an enviable name for itself, otherwise its good repute would not be used as a mask by unscrupulous dealers. Therefore this warning!

Should you be in doubt about it phone us and we will give you the names of the dealers featuring GENUINE, sootless, clinkerless and almost smokeless "ZEIGLER" coal; the coal that burns surprisingly clean; the coal that is MARVELOUS in heat units.

The experienced "ZEIGLER" user would notice the imposition in a moment if an inferior coal were to be palmed off as genuine "ZEIGLER"—but it's the inexperienced First-Time-I-Have-Used-It customer we wish to protect ESPECIALLY.

We are Exclusive Distributors for Zeigler in Nebraska, Kansas and Western Missouri.

Advertisement for PEOPLE COALS, B.H. KEMPER-OMAHA, featuring a telephone number and address.

Advertisement for HOTEL FLANDERS, 133-137 West 47th St., New York City, with details on room rates and amenities.

Advertisement for HENDERSON Cars, highlighting fuel efficiency (66% cost cut) and listing various models and prices.

Large advertisement for the New Auburn '40 automobile, featuring a large illustration of the car and detailed specifications.

Advertisement for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, featuring the headline "PALS" and describing the benefits for digestion and health.