Society

By MELLIFICIA. Tuesday, October 28, 1913.

All roads led to Lincoln Monday as far as society was concerned. There were no large social entertainments scheduled in Omaha, but a large number of guests from here attended the dinner dance given at the Lincoln hotel Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Mullen in honor of former Ambassador D. E. Thompson and his bride. Both hosts and honor guests have many friends here and quite a number attended.

The attractive banquet room of the Lincoln hotel was beautifully decorated with huge bouquets of chrysanthemums. There were six large round tables, having centerpieces of the chrysanthemums surrounded with smaller vases of the same kind of blossoms, and more than 100 guests were present.

Mrs. Thompson, who is a charming blonde, wore a white satin champagne evening gown and Mrs. Mullen wore an American Beauty velvet evening gown trimmed with shadow lace.
