GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Theat Pit is Flooded with Buying Orders from Shorts.

CORN SHOWS GREAT STRENGTH

While Yellof Cereal is Not at the Hend of the List with Traders it is Looming Up with Renewed Activity.

OMAHA, Oct. 28, 1912.

It is always a noticeable fact that on any pronounced hardening in grain values there is a flood of buying orders and at the same time offerings diminish. This was the case yesterday. When the news was received from abroad telling of advances at Liverpool of 1 penny because of continued unfavorable reports from India and a resported change in the crop conditions in Argentina, together with the reduction in both the Russian and Manitoba offerings, the entire trade was stirred up. This was the case, especially with those who put out short lines Friday and Saturday of last week. To make matters worse for the shorts it was reported that on the Liverpool curb futures advanced another & penny.

In the north of Argentina it was reported the weather is dry and that the plant, being about a foot above ground, needs moisture badly, Considerable seeding is yet to be done in Russia and it is said that in many sections this work has been unsatisfactory.

said that in many sections this work has been unsatisfactory.

Another builish factor and one that in board of trade parlance may be called a "telling" help to the buils, was a decrease of 2,241,000 bushels in the visible, where an increase was looked for in addition to this world's shipmentas were only 12,600,000 bushels, where a total of over 15,000,000 was estimated. This reduction was caused by the mistake that was made by Bradstreet's in figuring up the clearances from America last week, which were placed at 8,325,000, bushels. The pulse of the wheat market was clearly defined by the receipts at the large western markets. They were only 1,568,000 bushels, which was considerably less than helf the receipts for the corresponding day in 1912.

Cash wheat was unchanged to 2c lower.

Cash wheat was unchanged to 2c lower. While corn could not be called the eader yesterday it showed great strength.

leader yesterday it showed great strength. The average trader in corn is afraid of wet weather and this was reflected yesterday. The new crop needs could and frosty conditions to become seasoned, while the weather is unsettled and it is said will continue so for several days. Cash corn was unchanged to %c higher. The hard spots in oats yesterday were to the liking of some of the large elevator concerns, and prices failed to hold as strongly as those in wheat and corn. Another cargo of Canadian oats was bought to come here, and one of the big elevator companies put 50,000 bushels of contract in store.

Cash oats were unchanged to %c lower.

elevator companies put 50,000 bushels of contract in store.

Cash oats were unchanged to 4c lower. The strength shown in the hog market, coupled with the upturns in grin, were the leading bullish factors in the provision market. There was a disposition on the part of those having profits to secure them, as it has been a difficult matter for some time to take money out of the provision pit.

Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Relief from drouth in Argentina led to a setback today for the price of wheat. As a result the close was at a decline of 1/4c. Corn showed a gain of 1/4c over last night and oats a decline of 1/4c to 1/4c 1/4c. In provisions, the outcome varied from 2/4c loss to a rise of 10c.

Argentina dispatches that told of sufficient moisture for wheat everywhere except near Bahia Blanca had a bearish inflience which was not entirely overceme during the day. There was also a general snow fall throughout Kansas and Nebraska, making the best conditions for the growing crop. Accordingly short sellers who had withdrawn from the market yesterday, came back in force and put quotations under an amount of pressure that the buils of even the most stubborn sort could not entirely withstubborn sort could not entirely with-

Wheat prices would doubtless have had a greater fall had it not been for the fact that primary receipts were much smaller than a year ago. Further sustaining power came from knowledge that the world's available supply increase appeared absurdly slender compared with what experience would suggest.

Prospect that the winter hasts of feeding would be established without delay of rated the corn trade from wheat Religing of profits by longs eased off the market a little about midday, but the close was almost at the top figures of the session.

Freaviness in oats resulted from hedging, sales here by Winnipeg buyers of ca. lots. The stock of oats in Chicago is accreasing but the supply still shows an unwieldy excess, judged by last year's Moderate investment demand with covering by shorts made provisions generally firm. Predictions that the cold weather would bring increased hog receipts were not needed.

HOGS—The market opened out in good shape this morning, first sales being made at an advance of about 10c. A heavy fall of snow delayed traffic considerably, and when buyers first started out a small portion of the estimated supply had shown up. For a while buyers took everything just as it came in, but toward 9:30 they began to get pretty well filled up, and as there were indications that the receipts would be even larger than the early estimate values began to weaken. Prices never regained their early strength and the balance of the weaken. Prices never regained their early strength and the balance of the offerings sold at figures that looked to be about a nickel below the opening.

On the whole the market can be quoted as 56300 higher. Bulk of the sales was made at $7.6001.70, with quite a sprinkling up to $7.75, the latter price being the top. Trade was fairly active during the early rounds, but the receipts came in so slowly that it made things more or less dragey along toward the close, and it was well along toward noon before a clearance was made.

Supplies totaled in the neighborhood of a cars, or 5,300 head. For the week the receipts amount to 6,525, about 1,100 smaller than a week ago and over 1,500 short of the corresponding days of last year.

SHEEP—Most all kinds of killing sheep were steady to strong, trade being brisk right from the outset and and packer buyers having a somewhat limited supply of decent killers to pick from. There were no strictly choice of-imited supply of decent killers to pick from. There were no strictly choice of ferings, consequently the range of prices was much the same and no really toppy sales were made. The best lambs sold up to $1.60, with the bulk of the good ones selling from that on down to $8.85. It is still the consensus of opinion if any right choice lambs were on sale they would bring as much as $1.25. Fat ewes, wathers and yearlings were again scarce. The situation in feeders showed no material change. Strong weight feeding lambs of the best quality continued in very moderate supply and the bulk of such grades as were on the market was of the light class, this being usual at this time of the year. Early in the forence at thought if some strictly good grades of the right weight were available they would sell at $5.256.30 and some traders thought if some strictly good grades of the right weight were available they would sell at $5.256.30. According to weight and quality feeding lambs might be quoted at $5.256.30. According to weight and quality feeding lambs might be quoted at $5.256.30. A Million-Dollar Land Offer On Easy Terms. The Republic Trust Company Will Sell a Million Dollars' Worth of South Texas Land, in a Single Body, or in Blocks

Grown from unselected seed, and in-differently cultivated. Gathered from the field Aug. 20, 1913.

The land consists of about 36,000 acres, situated in Chambers County, twenty-seven miles, in a southwesterly direction, from Beaumont, and nearly fifty miles from Galveston. It is in a solid body and is a fine black prairie soil with abundant natural drainage. There are six flowing artesian wells on the property, and the rainfall is always abundant.

The Gulf and Interstate Railroad, which is a part of the great Santa Fe system, traverses the eastern line of this property, and there is water transportation on three sides of the land. Oyster Bayou on the west, Onion Bayou on the south and East Bay on the east. From many of these bayous, each of which forms a boundary line on this land, there is direct water transportation to Galveston,, Port Arthur and neighboring towns, which is now utilized for the transportation of farm products and other freight and passengers. The great intercoastal canal will pass through a portion of these bayous and will thus be accessible from three sides of the land. The south boundary line of this property extends to within a few miles of the Gulf coast. It has splendid natural drainage to the bayous surrounding it, and practically every acre of this entire body of land is ready for the plow without a penny's worth of expense in preparation. entire tract is prairie land and the one lone live oak that has stood sentinel for a century, about center of the north half of the tract, is known as "Oak Grove." Three or four thousand acres nearest the coast line will require some inexpensive drainage, to render it reliable for crops during years of excess rainfall.

That it is adapted to the profitable growing of fruits and vegetables has been abundantly proved, and that staple crops here grow to full perfection is attested by the actual experience of practical farmers during a dozen years past. The corn shown in this advertisement was grown near the ranch house on this land, selected, planted and cultivated in the crude manner characteristic of the ranch farmer, who grows each year twenty-five to fifty acres of feed stuff for winter use. These ears were pulled from the stalk at random, by a man who didn't know corn, during the third week in August. Sixty-five bushels to the acre was the estimated yield when this corn was taken from the field. Cotton, under favorable conditions, yields a bale or more to the acre, and the cane crop throughout this belt is always abundant because of the fertility of the soil, and the absence of frost until the year has practically closed.

This piece of property is, in all probability, the best colonization proposition in Texas, and will be sold in its entirety at a price and on terms exceedingly attractive for development purposes. Or, it will be sold, for immediate development, at satisfactory prices and terms in small blocks.
