SCHOOL AND COLLEGE WORK

Showing of Wasted Time in Present Education Plan.

AT LEAST TWO YEARS LOST

Summary of Conclusions of Investigators—Activities of Nearby Schools—Educational Notes.

There is a waste of at least two years in the present plan of American education. This is the conclusion reached by a committee of prominent educators in a report on "Economy of Time in Education" just issued by the United States bureau of education.

This conclusion follows an investigation lasting nearly ten years by a committee of the National Education association, of which President James H. Baker of the University of Colorado is chairman. The committee have endeavored to form a plan that would do away with the two-year loss. They propose that six years be assigned to the elementary school, instead of eight as at present; that the high school period be from age 12 to 18, divided into two parts, of four and two years each; that college work extend from 18 to 20, or 16 to 20, according to the method of distributing the last two secondary years, and that graduate or professional work at a university cover the years from 20 to 24. This would enable boys and girls to get ample vocational training after the age of 12; it would enable those who go on to college to get through their college work at the age of 20; and it would save the professional man from having to wait until 27 to start his professional career.

The report insists that the present elementary course is too long; that the ground now covered in eight years can be covered just as efficiently in six, allowing secondary work to begin at the age of 12. To save on elementary schooling, they suggest the most important subjects and the most important topics; make a distinction between first-rate facts and principles and tenth-rate. Confine the period of elementary education to mastering the tools of education. Include the last two years of the present elementary school in the period of secondary education and begin the study of foreign language, elementary algebra, constructive geometry, elementary science, and history two years earlier than at present.

The report takes up the problem of saving time in education from the point of view of the college, the school and society at large as well as of the individual pupil; and it contains opinions on every phase of the question from representative school men and the general public.

HASTINGS COLLEGE.

Continued Growth Assured by Synod Support.

The synod of Nebraska, in session at Omaha, received the report of Hastings college with real interest and approval and heartily seconded every appeal of the college for larger and better support. The showing is said to be the best ever made to the synod financially. The report of growth in student enrollment was given the assurance that its right to occupy the field as the synodical college would hereafter go unquestioned. With this matter settled in such a good spirit, there should be little question of its continued growth.

Twenty Hastings college students and alumni assembled at the Young Men's Christian association at Omaha during the synod and pledged themselves to come together next June at commencement time to renew old acquaintances and again partake of the joys of commencement season.

Through the chairman of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the synod, Rev. Rudolph Caughey of Lincoln, Hastings college was voted the proper place for a young people's conference of the state next summer.

Rev. T. C. Osborne of Scottsbluff, class of 1901; Rev. L. Keller of Axtell, whose two sons are in college, and Rev. A. M. Shepperd of Cothenburg, whose daughter is a member of the senior class, spent some time at the college on their way to synod or return. The first two attended chapel and spoke to the students.

FREMONT COLLEGE.

Faculty and Students Give Boost to Lincoln Highway.

The Lincoln highway demonstration Friday morning was of unusual interest to both faculty and students. Miss Karpick who is particularly skilled in drawing, had a fine map of the United States displayed on the board in chapel showing the course of the highway by a broad line. Prof. Mobler made an interesting explanation of the leading cities through which the road passes, the quality of construction, probable cost and the advantages afforded the country by a national road. The male quartet under the direction of Prof. Phillips sang "When the Band is Playing Dixie." The quartet was warmly greeted and the appreciation of the audience was evidenced by the continued applause. They sang in response "The Back Sliding Brother" which was equally well received.

President Clemmons attended the Lincoln highway banquet at Arlington. Saturday evening a Scotch mascol program was given in Star hall. Miss Le Prath, Miss Miller and Mr. Phillips and the male quartet furnished excellent music to a good audience.

Fremont college alumni will give a reception at the Paxton parlors Thursday, November 6, from 4 to 6, for old students and friends. They are looking forward to a large rally of alumni who will be in attendance at the state association.

Miss Ida Anderson, who has been seriously ill at the Fremont hospital, is convalescent. Her father left for Belmar, his home, a few days ago. Her mother will remain until Miss Anderson is able to return with her.

Coach Earl Johnson on Wednesday and Friday lectured in chapel on the subject of foot ball.

Educational Notes.

Mrs. Grace Roseberry has been appointed superintendent of the Kansas State School for the Blind.
 The report that a school superintendent in a West Virginia town has installed a spanking machine caused an avalanche of inquiries about the machine and its efficiency.
 "We are destroying the eyes of a large number of school children by the burden of continuous near work to which they are subjected," says Dr. F. Park Leach of Buffalo. "Let us have more thinking and fewer books," he declares.

Students at Wellesley feel the higher cost of living is making it pay higher board, $5 a year being added to the expenses of those living in the campus dormitories. This increases their board from $75 a year to $80, the total annual charge for tuition and residence to be $90.
 Students of Ohio state university have formed a co-operative association to lessen the cost of living. Twenty-five fraternities and clubs are in the scheme, and it is estimated that nearly 3,000 pupils are reaping the benefits. Supplies are bought in carload lots from producers—meat, fruit, vegetables and coal. The students are financing and managing the enterprise. The university could hardly offer a more practical course in applied economics.

Alameda, Cal., has a high school course in the rational expenditure of family income. The students will be told how to make out the family budget. They will be required to investigate the cost of renting and furnishing a home and of buying a dwelling, and of buying supplies for the household. The "engaged" girl will be taught to prepare her trousseau, and the intended "bride-groom" how to save money in anticipation of marriage.

Yale's report for the college year 1912-13 shows that the total gifts for the year amounted to $1,415,864, as compared with $1,164,715.90 in the preceding year. A summary of the university's investments—excluding real estate used for university purposes—dormitories, advances, cash on hand, etc., shows a total increase of $1,234,638.99, of this $1,071,375.75 in stocks and bonds, $132,450 in real estate, and $30,812.24 in investments average 5.91 per cent.

SACK OF PEANUTS BRINGS BOYS WITHIN LAW'S REACH

A sack of peanuts, worth just 5 cents, but which had a $1,000.000 sent to two small boys, caused the arrest last night of Charles Sheppard, 124 Pierce street, and Arthur Prieser, 195 South Sixteenth street. The two boys are only 12 years old each, and the temptation was too strong. They pilfered the bag from a south Thirtieth street merchant, who had them arrested.

The juvenile authorities released the boys after giving each a reprimand.

Avoid Sedative Cough Medicines.

If you want to contribute directly to the occurrence of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia, use cough medicines that contain opium, morphine, heroin and other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world-wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Board of Education Considers Rules to Govern Janitors.

MEXICANS BUY CAVALRY HORSES

Agents from South in Magic City to Buy Animals for the Service of President Huerta.

President of the School Board E. R. Leitch will present a code of rules governing the admission of school janitors into the permanent service of the school district tomorrow night at a meeting of the board. The rules have been drafted by the instance of many of the janitors, who have repeatedly asked that they be placed upon a permanent list such as affects other departments of the city government. Several members of the school board favor the measure, it is said, while others are opposed to it.

President Leitch stated that while he believed the proposed measure a good thing to eradicate politics as much as possible from the school department, he would content himself with presenting the amendment to the rules as directed by the board.

Some of the janitors were afraid that the board was about to draft a list of rules that would require them to apply again for positions and undergo examinations. The rules provide that all who have been in the service of the school board for six months or more at the time the rules go into effect will be placed on the permanent list. The rules also provide in the event of others coming later into the service and asking to be placed upon the permanent list, that the board may by examination satisfy itself of the qualifications of the applicant after a six months' probation.

Apart from all politics, the placing of the school janitors under a civil service program ought to do away with many of the disagreeable features of the present system, which hang as a burden about the necks of all new members of the board. Regardless of party, no new member, it is said, is anxious to fire a good man merely because he happens to belong to the other side in politics nor to displace an old employee merely to make place for a new one.

The local horse dealers are anxious to sell some more American horses to the Mexican army purchasing agents at South Omaha.

J. Shanahan. Unkosevich is growing weaker according to Dr. Shanahan and his death may occur at any moment. The surgeons say that the only thing that has kept Unkosevich alive so long is the fact that the fiasco made by the knife blade in the wounded man's liver has been stuffed with gauze, which has stayed the flow of blood to some extent. The intestines of the wounded man have been severed. Babich, the man accused of the stabbing, is held at the police station awaiting the outcome of his victim's injuries.
