Liverpool Market Precipitates Many Heavy Local Losses. WEAKNESS REACTS ON CORN Yellow Cereal is Given a Substantial Boost When Oats Lose Strength, But Later Takes Tumble.

OMAHA, Nov. 1, 1913. The abnormal action of the Liverpool wheat market for the last week has caused heavy losses among the local traders and some of the losses have been suffered by speculators, who are now wearing long faces. It is not certain that the foreign markets have been forced upward and downward for a purpose, but there are many in the trade who say these fluctuations at the door of the men who are long wheat and hold the whip hand at the present. The business in the Chicago wheat pit has narrowed down and it is now almost wholly confined to the regular room traders. The Minneapolis market is complaining of a lack of outside as well as Chicago business. A message received from New York last yesterday said that the trade there has been at a standstill for some time past. The fact that the United States is unable to sell any of its wheat for export around the present level probably the principal cause of the narrowness of the market. The business transacted at Chicago in cash wheat yesterday amounted to only 40,000 bushels. The professional in wheat pits is without a market compass, and is unable to determine as to the proper course in order to head off the powers in wheat who are able to make prices to suit their own sweet will. Cash wheat was 1/2c lower. The weakness in oats, coupled with the bright weather throughout the corn belt, acted as a bearish help in the latter market yesterday, at least two of the larger lots in corn gave that market support when it was needed early in the day, but they refused to absorb the offerings later on and the consequence was lower prices all around. Cash corn was unchanged to 1/2c higher. Oats were heavy, with cash values also lower. Cash sales in Chicago were 100,000 bushels. Cash oats were 1/2c lower. Clearances: Wheat and flour, 607,000 bu.; corn, 11,000 bu.; oats, 22,000 bu. Liverpool close: Wheat, unchanged to 1/2c lower; corn, 1/2c lower. Primary wheat receipts were 1,041,000 bu. and shipments 494,000 bu. Primary corn receipts were 377,000 bu. and shipments 615,000 bu. Primary oats receipts were 70,000 bu. and shipments 127,000 bu. A year ago today was a holiday, therefore no primary movement for that date.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade. CHICAGO, Nov. 1. -Oklahoma reports of an average 20 per cent larger than last year and of growth conditions the best in a long time put a weight today on the price of wheat. There was a heavy feeling at the close, which was 1/2c to 3/4c off under last night. Corn finished 1/2c to 3/4c off and oats down 1/2c to 3/4c. The outcome for provisions varied from unchanged figures to 1/2c decline. It was an official state report that gave prestige to the news regarding wheat in Oklahoma. Plastering advice from the wineries and referring also to the winter crop elsewhere obtained thus a degree of credence which was speedily apparent in the downward course of the market. Argentine products were likewise of a character to discourage the bulls' side, and, too, were lower quotations from Liverpool.

Advertisement for Washington Crisps. Features an illustration of a child and a box of crisps. Text: 'Children look for Washington CRISPS. It tastes good and it's good for them. 10¢. GEORGE WASHINGTON and all rugged Americans in the early days, depended on old time corn foods for the special strength and energy needed in the work of building this great country. Today in millions of American homes, corn is served two or three times a day in the form of WASHINGTON CRISPS—the crisp, toasted, delicious corn flakes that melt in your mouth. These crisps have the wholesome, nourishing and sustaining elements of the corn foods famed for generations. They are splendid for the business men who need a satisfying food but must have clear minds—fine for men and women who work or study hard—highly recommended for growing children. Youngsters thrive on WASHINGTON CRISPS. Give them plenty of this strengthening food to start them right when young, and fit them for the future when they will take up the work and responsibilities of the Nation. This is a good day to begin.'
