To Pension Library Employees—An ordinance adapting the state law pensioning library employees after twenty years of continuous service was introduced at the meeting of the city commission by Police Commissioner J. J. Ruder.

Member of Plumbing Board—H. R. Stine was appointed a member of the plumbers' board of examiners by the city commission to replace H. Bidwell, who resigned. This committee meets about once a month to pass on applicants for plumbers' licenses.

Gets Limit on Ducks—Lew Stringer, a clerk in the claim department of the Union Pacific Railway company, has returned from a vacation at Woodlake, Neb., where he managed to kill the limit in ducks. Mr. Stringer years ago was a star on the University of Nebraska football team.

Addresses Commerce Students—Dr. Wilbur Crafts, the international secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, visited the Commercial High school Monday. In order that he might have a chance to tell the commercial students of some of his experiences in Europe, an assembly was held. Dr. Crafts told of the men whom he met with while abroad, of the international temperance conference at Brussels, which he attended, and of the hour that he spent with a noted count of Japan discussing the moral possibilities for schools in Japan.

BREAKS HIS NECK FALLING TEN STORIES. GETS $25,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—What is related to be the largest verdict awarded under the employers' liability act in this city was brought in by a supreme court jury today in favor of Fred G. Neun, whose neck is broken, but who still lives. The jury directed the Harris Iron works to pay Neun $25,000. Neun, an ironworker, dislocated his neck when he fell ten stories while at work on a downtown skyscraper last March. Wearing a steel brace around his head and extending down his spine to hold his neck in place, he appeared in court as his own witness. His physician testified that any sudden shock, even a sneeze, may result in Neun's death. Neun is 35 years old and has a wife and three children. He was an athlete before he was hurt.

VOTE TO PUT END TO USE OF MONEY IN CITY ELECTIONS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 4.—An ordinance designed to prevent the use of money to carry municipal elections by financially powerful interests was adopted today by the city council. Among other things, it prohibits:
The expenditure or acceptance of money or other valuable consideration for the canvassing of voters in behalf of any candidate or measure.
Payment for the distribution of literature or solicitation of votes.
Hiring of vehicles for free transportation of voters.
Compensating "workers" on election day.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Civil Service Rules Finally Agreed on for Janitors.

SALARIES ALSO GIVEN LIFT

Petty Politics Plays Part in Final Decision—Kindergarten Teachers Also Will Receive More Pay in Future.

Only the tolerance of President E. R. Leigh saved the proposed civil service rules for the school janitors last night when Rudolph Yechout, democrat, insisted upon changing the drafted copy so that the janitor would have to serve two or even three years before becoming eligible to the permanent list. President Leigh in the rough draft had named the probationary time as six months.
A tentative motion allowing the draft to be introduced subject to amendment was finally agreed upon after Member P. K. Richardson bluntly told Yechout that with the best jobs in democratic hands he felt that the republicans should have a little say on the board. The board agreed to Yechout's amendment raising the janitor's salary $ a month. Yechout, previous to bringing up the rules for permanent janitors, drew the fire of Superintendent, N. M. Graham, whom he accused of discriminating against Corigan and Brown Park schools. The superintendent indignantly denied the charges and appeared to have the support of the board's majority in his denial.

For some time past the board has been heckled by a series of demands and fault-finders on the part of certain politicians not members of the board. The republican majority has been tolerant of the demands made and in many instances has gone to extremes to please the recalcitrant elements. Lately President Leigh and the republican members have begun to realize that a great deal of the trouble can be eradicated only by enforcing the laws against politics among the school employees. It is said that Superintendent Graham's attempt to run the school free from petty politics has merited the bitter opposition of those so falling. It is certain that the serious work of the school board is being hampered by the petty differences.
Auto Bandit Here.
South Omaha now has an automobile bandit. Three times, according to the police, has the auto bandit made his appearance within as many weeks in South Omaha. Last night shortly after dark Mrs. M. Carmagan of Twenty-second and D streets was attacked by the bandit near Twenty-fourth and G streets. The thief approached in an auto and, after jumping out, attempted to wrest a purse from the hands of Mrs. Carmagan. Mrs. Carmagan, however, is not helpless and she battled with the robber successfully. He escaped in the machine. A few days ago Miss Mabel Melcher, a daughter of Chris Melcher, the well known druggist, was robbed of her purse by an auto bandit. A few weeks before, the police say, the auto robbery was tried also. The police department last night received strict orders to be on the watch for suspicious autoists. A good description of the bandit was obtained from Mrs. Carmagan.

Remer Is Robbed.
Miss Remer of 2301 Q street was robbed of half a dozen brace of mallard ducks yesterday evening while his wagon stood at Thirty-ninth and Q streets. The robbery was reported to Officer John Jackman, who at once took up the trail and has already obtained several clues. Investigation by Jackman, who works by the inductive method, developed that the theft of the ducks was a constructive theft only. It appears that Remer left a new hammerless rifle in his wagon while en route to the hunting grounds west of the city. While momentarily absent the gun was stolen. Jackman charges that the theft of the gun resulted in a constructive theft of the six brace of ducks which Remer would have shot had his gun not been stolen. If the robber is found he will probably be charged with an additional accusation of robbing Jackman who might have gotten one pair of the ducks which Remer might have shot had his gun not been stolen.

Spitzer-Borok, bond buyers of Toledo, O., contracted for an issue of improvement bonds aggregating nearly $3,000 last night at the council meeting. City Attorney Henry C. Murphy, however, called the council's attention to several points in the original bond contract, which resulted in an agreement that will save the city money and hasten the payment of contractors whose work has been completed. The council seemed anxious to get away from the meeting, but Mayor Hoctor made it plain that the contract for the sale of the bonds had to be acted on forthwith and the council worked until the agreement had been reached. Ray N. Mann acted for the bond company.
One of the features of the meeting was the unusual occurrence of the whole administration engaged in a public discussion of the bond contract. The discussion was led by City Attorney Murphy, Mayor Hoctor, City Clerk Wheeler and Bond Agent Ray Mann of Toledo.

In Tomorrow's Papers

We will publish the simple rules of the

"Omaha Thrift Club"

In setting aside part of our profits for the development of Thrift in this community we feel that we are using it for a worthy purpose.

Anything that helps people help themselves is Good.

None of us are objects of charity—few of us expect to become rich by inheritance or by a sudden stroke of fortune.

There is not a successful business nor an independent fortune in Omaha that did not have its beginning with a Thrifty person.

Somewhere, sometime, someone began to save, and the first step in fortune-building was taken.

See tomorrow's paper for the rules.
