SUFFRAGISTS GO TO LINCOLN

Special Car Carries Thirty to State Suffrage Convention. HUSBANDS SEE THEM START Largest Delegation the Ever Left This City for Such a State Convention Gets New Names to Petition.

Thirty delegates to the Nebraska suffrage convention, which opened yesterday morning at Lincoln, left on a special car at a few minutes after 9 o'clock yesterday for that city.

It was the largest delegation that has ever gone from this city to a state suffrage convention, and many of the husbands were at the station to bid God-speed to the delegates. Even the station master, John M. H., as he is pointed out by the women, said that he was a firm believer in woman's suffrage and hoped the women would win.

"Will you vote to give us the ballot next fall?" asked an enthusiastic little delegate of Mr. M.

"Sure I will," came the prompt reply, and a button "Votes for Women" was thereupon pinned upon the coat of the station master and a new name assigned to a petition.

John L. Kennedy, James Richardson, Dr. H. C. Sumner and Fred Creigh were among the men who were at the station to see that the car was there and everything in readiness for the delegation.

A few stray travelers who did not know of the special car for the suffragists boarded it and were not permitted to leave until they had pledged their support for the cause. This was done most willingly by a stunning young man who was anxious to find the smoker, but was stopped by Mrs. W. C. Sunderland and asked to sign a petition.

Every delegate wore a suffrage button, and the delegation included Mesdames John H. Baldwin, H. C. Sumner, John L. Kennedy, E. T. Lindsey, W. C. Sunderland, George Covell, James Richardson, Mary I. Creigh, Sherman Felt, J. M. Metcalf, Halleck Rose, Charles Kountze, Mary B. Newton, W. E. Shaffer, J. P. White, F. J. Bites, T. R. Ward, Lanscoy Smith, Paul Gettschmann, Harvey Morse, C. E. Brady, Frank Moore, Fred Carey, Fred Wead, S. A. Capen, George Cooper, Abbie Rawlston, G. H. High, I. Conner, McCoy, W. H. Hartwick, W. Hatteroth, Misses Belle Dewey, Arabella Kimball, M. T. Dykeman.

Mrs. Draper Smith and Miss Daisy Doane left Wednesday evening for Lincoln.

The officer promptly arrested Jones for carrying concealed weapons, but later it developed that he was a good friend of Mayor Dahman, and upon the latter's recommendation the prisoner was allowed to go.

BRAYTON MAN KILLED Under an Automobile When Car Hits Bridge

E. W. Cannon of Brayton, Ia., was killed and Perry Hallock of the same town was badly hurt when an automobile they had just bought in Omaha and were driving home fell from a bridge over a gully on the River-to-River road five miles east of Council Bluffs last night. Hallock was driving the car, which belonged to Cannon. The machine was not going at high speed, but in some way skidded off the bridge. Cannon was dead when found by an Omaha motorist, who came along the road shortly afterward and assisted in giving aid.

Cannon was a wealthy stockman of Brayton.

Too Many Vacations, Say Board Members

In passing a resolution asking the State Teachers' association to hold its annual session Thanksgiving week, the Board of Education section of the organization yesterday agreed that there are too many breaks in the school year.

It was decided that it would be best for teacher and pupil alike if the sessions were held at a time when the vacation for the annual holiday and the association meeting could be brought together.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: Senator H. P. Shumway, Wakefield, president; E. C. Youl, Brock, vice president; Mrs. J. H. Melville, Sterling, secretary.

Foreign Notes.

Major Nathan and the abductions of Rome, after a heated discussion, yesterday decided to resign from office. This action was due to the fact that November 2 in the second ballot of the general elections of the two candidates in Rome supported by the municipal "bloody barons," the murders of Princeess Giulietta Trivona, a lady-in-waiting to Queen Helen, was operated on in prison at Civita yesterday for the extraction of a bullet which he fired into his head in an attempt to end his own life after the murder occurred. The operation lasted two hours, but was not successful. Another attempt to remove the bullet will be made in a few days.

CREW ABANDONS SCHOONER

Lives Lost When Sailors Take to Boats with Seas High. VESSEL LEFT UNNECESSARILY Craft Stuck on Shoal and Pounded by Heavy Waves Later Works Off and Drifts Undamaged to Where Picked Up.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 6.—Nine members of the crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner Annie M. Parker, which was picked up Monday with all sails set and its hold full of fish by the British steamer Astrakhan, sixty miles east of Nantucket, and which was towed to New Bedford, in the same manner as the schooner was brought here tonight.

The story told by the survivors of the Annie M. Parker's crew solves the mystery as to why a vessel apparently seaworthy and safe had been abandoned. The men of the Annie Parker were brought here by the lumber schooner Tifton from Jacksonville, which picked them up in forty-three miles off Nantucket Sunday morning after they had been adrift in small boats for twenty-four hours without food or drink. They reported that Reuben Kennedy, the cook, had been swept overboard from a dory and drowned and that Captain Vincent Nelson and three of their mates probably had been lost.

The men missing besides Captain Nelson are: Lester Fletcher of Arroyo Sound, N. S.; Isaac Worther of Pabodie Head, N. S.; and Thomas Landry of Archibald, C. B.

Henry Nelson of Beverly, son of the captain, was left behind on the Boston fishing schooner Josie and Phoebe, exhausted from his experience, but hoping to find trace of his father.

Until they reached here they were ignorant that they had abandoned their vessel unnecessarily and that the loss of life might have been avoided.

They reported that the Annie M. Parker, bound home from the fishing grounds off New Foundland with a full catch, was driven off its course by adverse winds and went aground on the Coast and Crown shoals off the Nantucket rock Saturday morning.

The vessel was being pounded by heavy seas and the crew agreed with Captain Nelson that their only hope of safety lay in getting clear of the craft. So they abandoned it. Evidently the vessel later worked off the shoal in deep water and drifted undamaged to where it was picked up.
