FURLOUGH TO ANDY HAWKINS

Governor Releases Man Who Has Served Record Time in Prison.

WILL GO TO HIS SON IN KANSAS

Executive Takes Step Because Man Has Been Model Prisoner and Is Seventy-Two Years of Age.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Andrew Hawkins, convicted of murder, who has served a longer sentence in the Nebraska penitentiary than any other man therein and who is the oldest man in the place, being over 72 years of age, will have the privilege of spending the balance of his years away from the shadow of the penitentiary, Governor Morehead having decided to grant him a furlough. In giving the old man a chance to leave the institution, the governor says:

I have had the application of Andrew Hawkins for a pardon under consideration for several months. I have gone through the record of his trial and the statements from the judge who tried the case and others, and have personally visited him three times. It appears that he was convicted on purely circumstantial evidence, and while I have no desire to criticize the attorney who conducted his defense, it is hard to go through the record of his case without reaching the conclusion that his case was so tried as to protect other parties without much regard to what the effect on Hawkins might be. He is an illiterate and could be easily imposed upon.

I am not going to say that he may not be guilty. At any rate he is probably guilty of having something to do with the murder, or at least with assisting to conceal the identity of the real guilty parties. Since going to the penitentiary, he has made a statement involving others, but there has so much time elapsed that corroborating evidence of his statement cannot now be secured; and at least one of the parties named, I understand, is now dead.

Since he was committed to the penitentiary his wife died. His home is gone and no member of his family is left except one son who lives in the state of Kansas. The old man is now past 72 years of age and has been in the penitentiary approximately fifteen years. His son has sent the money to pay his fare to his home in Kansas and offers to take care of him for the balance of his life. I am not going to say that I am granting him a furlough and permitting him to go to his home, where he may spend his declining years. He has been a model prisoner during the fifteen years he has been in the penitentiary, and the fact that there is some doubt as to his guilt leads me to extend this consideration to him at this time.

FREMONT RESIDENCE ROBBED OF JEWELRY

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Some time yesterday afternoon between 11 and 9 p. m. the residence of R. B. Fields, 538 North I street, was entered by burglars. Jewelry, consisting of diamond rings, a diamond set pin and two watches, worth more than $700, were taken. Mr. Fields and family were away and discovered that the house had been ransacked for jewelry and the police were at once notified, about 9 o'clock. Bloodhounds were placed on the scent and followed it to the east part of town, then back into the business portion to the rear of a pool hall on Main street, where it was lost. No doors or windows were broken and the house was found securely locked as it was left.

Sheriff Condit of Fremont has notified the Omaha police to watch for any evidence that will lead to a knowledge of the whereabouts of the thieves. The local department believes the job was done by some persons familiar with the premises.

DIRECTOR'S CAUSTIC LETTER ANGERS YOUNG SCHOOLMA'AM

FAIRBURY, Neb., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Angered because the director of her school wrote her a sarcastic letter for being late to her school on Wednesday morning, November 12, caused Miss Beryl Pottinger, a pretty Jefferson county school teacher, to run away from her school and her home without a moment's warning.

A great deal of unrest prevailed in the Pottinger home for several days, as no trace of the missing school teacher could be found. However, she was finally located at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Burkhardt, a mile north of this city. Miss Pottinger came to Fairbury on the night of November 11 to attend the Stegeman-Ferguson wedding at the Methodist parsonage the following morning and did not reach her school until late that morning. This angered the director of her school board and he wrote her a letter, criticizing her for being late. Miss Pottinger graduated from the Fairbury high school last May and is 18 years of age. County Superintendent R. C. Harrison and friends have been trying to induce the young woman to go back to her school, but she says she will not return; neither will she go home. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pottinger, Jefferson county farmers, living near Jensen in this county.

MICHIGAN MAN WILL CLAIM O'CONNOR ESTATE

HARTINGS, Neb., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Convicted that he is the son of the late John O'Connor, who died here on August 17 last without known heirs, Edward O'Connor of Lapeer, Mich., is preparing to make claim to the $100,000 O'Connor estate.

"Information that I have secured here fits exactly with the facts known in our family and makes me feel quite sure that John O'Connor was my father," said Edward O'Connor yesterday. "My father came west from New York state when I was 8 months old. My mother heard from him a few months before the Hartings O'Connor died. She is coming from Lapeer and will be here in a day or two. I think she will have no difficulty in proving by letters, family records and photographs and other evidence that the John O'Connor who lived here was her husband and my father."

In his erect carriage and in certain characteristics of his facial features, the Michigan man might easily be said to bear a strong resemblance to John O'Connor.

MELROY MURDER TRIAL ON DOCKET AT BEAVER CITY

BEAVER CITY, Neb., Nov. 17.—The November term district court convened here today. The docket contains but sixty-nine cases, and of these there are but few that will attract much interest. There are but two or three divorce cases, and the equity cases are of the usual character, devoid of interest aside from the litigants. The one important and all-absorbing case is that of Gluver Melroy, charged with murder. His trial will be the feature of the term. The crime for which Gluver Melroy will face a jury of twelve men was committed on July 14, when his father, John Melroy, was shot and subsequently died. There had been a family feud, and the senior Melroy acknowledged before his death that he had been "acting mean." Considerable sympathy has been shown for Gluver, who has been confined for the last six months in county jail.

Italians Celebrate After Country's Way

The Italian colony of Omaha Sunday afternoon and evening enjoyed a most unique and unusual ceremony at Columbia hall, Twenty-second and Pierce streets. The celebration was in honor of the engagement of two prominent young people of the Italian colony. It was the Sicilian-Italian ceremony and was carried out according to the old traditions and customs of that far-away country and island. Bernard Carvello and Angelo Tedesco are the happy two, and Mr. Carvello presented his future bride with a diamond necklace, gold bracelets, set with diamonds and a beautiful solitaire diamond engagement ring. Miss Angela Tedesco is the eldest daughter of Joseph Tedesco, a prominent merchant. Many prominent Italians were present at the ceremonies, among whom were Joseph Salerno, Sabastian Salerno, Jasper Cini, Samuel Mancuso and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ferris of Council Bluffs.

The hall was most beautifully and attractively decorated in honor of the occasion. A supper was served to about 1,000 guests, the refreshments being almost all imported from Italy and Sicily, and an Italian orchestra played patriotic Italian and American airs. Large pictures of Christopher Columbus, Garibaldi, Washington, Lincoln, Grant and the late Edward Rosewater decorated the room, together with American and Italian flags.

Attorney Julius S. Cooley delivered a speech on "The Italian as an American Citizen," and paid a beautiful tribute to the Italian-American citizens. Judge Cooley spoke of Mayor James C. Dahlman and his many kindnesses and the big things he had done for the Italian Americans in Omaha and Douglas county. He also referred to County Attorney Magee and Judge English in the same way.

Lauren O. Scott Has Good Hunt in Arizona

Lauren O. Scott has just returned from a two weeks' hunting trip to Bowie, Ariz., where, according to Scott, every imaginable kind of bird and beast make their homes in the mountains waiting for mighty hunters of the north.

Scott reports that quail, rabbits and other small game can be knocked down and killed with a club. Deer abound in the mountains, as do eagles and other wild birds. Scott shot one eagle that measured six feet from tip to tip. It has only been recently that game laws were passed for the mountain regions around Bowie, and since then hunters from all parts of the globe have assembled to hunt. Around Bowie Scott met several other people from Omaha. The game was almost two deer to one hunter, and Scott says it is an awful temptation, because it is generally an easy matter to run more than two deer from cover. But the laws are fairly strict and are so well enforced that few men shoot more than the allotted limit.

NEW ELECTRIC WIRE RULES ARE PREPARED

M. J. Curran, city electrician, is preparing a new set of regulations for electrical wiring in homes and office buildings, the same to be put into effect as soon as they can be made to conform with the underwriters' code, which was issued a few days ago.

One of the requirements, it is understood, will be the forcing of home owners who are wiring their houses to construct conduits, the expense of wiring being greatly increased thereby.

Mr. Curran said: "The changes will not be radical. I will have the new code ready for submission to the city council within two weeks, and will tell you the new provisions then." Property owners who have appeared before city commissioners privately to pro-

JUDGES WILL NOT TRY PROPOSED NEW PLAN

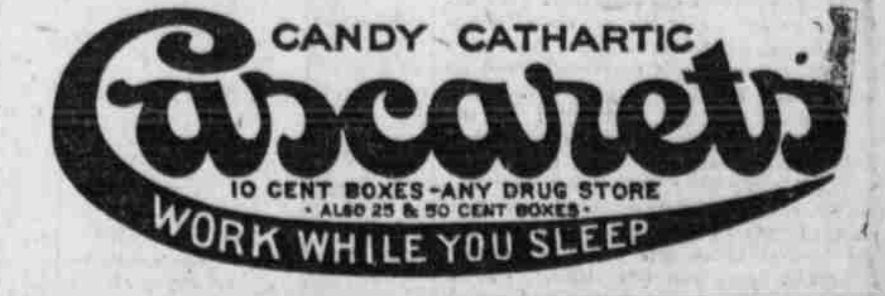

Judges of the district court have decided against a proposed plan to put all cases on one "call," to be tried as they might be assigned to the various courts, without regard to whether they were equity or jury cases. The present system, under which two judges handle all equity cases, will be continued. The proposed plan involved the placing of equity cases on one docket under the direction of the presiding judge.
