The Best Dressed Ones at the Thanksgiving Table Do Not Always Possess New Clothes

"Dresher Cleaned" garments present an appearance equal to new—so most people have their garments "Dresher cleaned"

It's simply a case where the economical sense comes into play: Omahans find that their dress clothes, as well as their work-a-day togs, can be cleaned, pressed, dyed, repaired or remodeled at FAR less than the cost of NEW garments: they receive the credit for wearing new garments; no one is the wiser; and there you are, it's indeed an old and useless garment that cannot be spruced up like new at "Dresher's."

Sherman & McConnell Drug Co.

Four Stores in Prominent Locations

Bay Front View of Panama Exposition as it Now Looks

MEMBER OF DRUG FIRM DOING LARGE BUSINESS HERE.

CHARLES R. SHERMAN.

Large Drug Firm Issues Many Votes in Panama Contest

The Sherman & McConnell Drug company was founded in September, 1883, by Charles R. Sherman and Andrew H. McConnell, two practical druggists at that time with ripe experience, both of whom have been constantly up to the present moment, actively identified with the daily work of managing the details of this business.

The first location of this firm was in the middle of the block at 1513 Dodge street, but in January, 1900, the firm moved to the corner of Sixteenth and Dodge streets, which location is still occupied, upstairs and down and under the sidewalks, by the various departments of this firm's business.

Seven years ago the Owl, the first branch store of this concern, was established at Sixteenth and Hargreaves streets, and at this point Mr. McConnell may be found in active charge, Mr. Sherman remaining at the original store.

A year or two later the Harvard pharmacy at Twenty-fourth and Farnam streets, and the Loyal pharmacy at 207 1/2 North sixteenth street, in Loyal hotel, were established. All of these stores have the bustling air of prosperity which is so characteristic of the Sherman & McConnell stores.

Few drug purchasers realize the tremendous detail involved in the buying and selling and manufacturing of more than 125,000 distinct and different items, embracing the rarest chemicals and pharmaceuticals from the laboratories of this country and Europe, as well as toilet requisites as manufactured throughout the civilized world.

In addition to the articles suggested above, this firm carry a most complete line of surgical appliances, trusses, supporters, cotton, gauzes and ligatures, as used in physician's offices, hospitals and the modern sick room.

The catch-line phrase adopted in the advertising of this firm—"Save time and money by coming direct to the Sherman & McConnell Drug company"—has become both an epigram and a truism, the verity of which is taken at 100 per cent face value by some hundreds of thousands of patrons throughout the transmississippi country.

Much interest is being displayed by the Sherman & McConnell company and its patrons in the progress of the Panama contest. Lately requests for cash checks and receipts are being made daily, and indications are a vast number of votes will be had from this source.

Panama Exposition Shows Marvelous

Progress on the concessions section at the Panama-Pacific International exposition is so far advanced that definite information may be given about this fascinating concession district. The concessions center will be one of the most marvelous features of the exposition grounds. At night it will glow with myriads of incandescents; it streets will be paved with gold; shafts of colored light will be hurled against its lofty towers and minarets, the tallest of which will be 220 feet in height. Between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 will, it is estimated, be expended upon installation in the concessions district.

So far the exposition management has received more than 7,000 applications for concession privileges. One hundred of the largest concessions already granted will cost more than $7,500,000. A flood of applications is being received from all parts of America and Europe and a staff of experts is kept busy in segregating them.

Incidentally, it may be observed, the

NOTICE TO CONTESTANTS.

Next Tuesday we will publish the standing of all contestants who have turned in their nomination coupons or cash checks for votes in this contest. If you have not already done so, get yours in by Saturday evening, so that your name will appear in the list, thus letting your friends know that you are competing for a trip to the Panama exposition.

ates to the concession district, as the visitor enters it from Van Ness avenue, will be reproductions of the great spillways at Panama. The concessions center will be 3,000 feet in length, with a great round street running through its center. In the center of the length of street will be a huge plaza, from which will arise the tallest flagpole in the world, a giant fir donated by the citizens of Astoria, Ore. The plaza will be the glory spot of the night life of the exposition; brilliant and scientific lighting will enhance the effect, at night, without tiring the eyes of the visitor.
