GAME DEVOLVES ON TACKLES

Cornhuskers Will Have to Depend Largely Upon Them.

FRESHMEN TRY SPREAD PLAY

Make Good Headway Against First Men with the Tactics that Iowa Will Use in Saturday's Contest.

LINCOLN, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Nebraska's success against Iowa next Saturday will depend entirely on the work of the two tackles, Halligan and Cameron, according to Assistant Coach Dudley, who is giving the squad special attention in the preparation for the closing battle of the year. Dudley has been the Hawkeyes in action and thinks only the work of the tackles can prevent the Iowans from piling up a score against Nebraska similar to those against other schools which the "point-a-minute" eleven has defeated. Owing to the excellent work of Halligan and Cameron in the other games of the season, Dudley believes Nebraska can stop the great scoring machines which Coach Hawley has developed. Halligan has been rated with Williams of Kansas as the best tackle in the valley, while Cameron's work has marked him as a corner in western football.

Freshmen Try Spread. Continuing the hustle program of the week, Stehm and Dudley put the varsity through the stiffest course of practice tonight since the Minnesota game. The regulars were sent against the freshmen in a regular sixty-minute scrimmage. It was the first real initiation which the varsity had to the working of the famous Iowa "spread" parade. The freshmen had perfected the "spread" play with remarkable success and in practice last night used it against the varsity with more than ordinary success. The varsity men were not allowed to tackle the runner, but found it difficult to follow the ball, and had the actual scrimmage been allowed the freshmen could have reeled off several touchdowns.

Baird to Assist. Baird, a former Swarthmore college star, who is now traveling for a western company, was in Lincoln last night and immediately offered his services to Stehm for aiding in the coaching for the Iowa game. Stehm accepted the offer and Baird donned a suit last night and gave his attention to the backfield. He will assist for the remainder of the week. The former Swarthmore star is a strong admirer of the Cornhuskers and is anxious for them to win next Saturday against the second member of the Western conference.

Officials for the game Saturday have been finally chosen and include Walter Ekersall, the famous Chicago star, Haddon of Michigan and Seymour of the Springfield Training school. Ekersall will be umpire; Haddon, referee, and Seymour will be head linesman.

Moving pictures of the Jayhawk bird, which was taken from Kansas last Saturday, were taken at the university campus this morning. The bird was supposed to be pecking at a foot ball just as the picture was snapped, but the only ball which the management could find was the one used in the Minnesota game and when that one was rolled out the bird took fright and fell over.

FINAL SCRIMMAGE FOR IOWA

Hawkeyes End Heavy Practice for Nebraska Game.

ONE CHANGE MADE IN LINEUP

Team Will Leave Iowa City in Special Car Thursday Night and Will Stop Short Time in Omaha Friday Morning.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—The last scrimmage for the Iowa football team ended today, when the varsity worked for a short ten-minute period against the freshmen. The yearlings were not dismissed, however, but will be called out again tomorrow, to stand in against the varsity in a "touching" scrimmage. The workout this evening was a short one, as Jack Watson, the veteran trainer, detected signs of staleness appearing among the varsity candidates, and sent them to the gymnasium early. Brutal battles against heavier teams have tired the Hawkeyes badly, and the men will have to be handled carefully to get them through the Nebraska game in good condition. Some changes appeared in the varsity lineup this afternoon, but only one is expected to materialize Saturday. Carberry was back at right end and showed no bad effects of his injury. Bowen worked on the second team, but it is uncertain which will start against Nebraska. Parsons replaced Penningroth for a time, but the latter will be in his place when the whistle blows Saturday. Parsons' goal-kicking ability makes him valuable, but fear of a recurrence of his injuries of the last season spoiling his usefulness on the track next spring will induce the coaches not to take any useless chances with him. Encouraged by the showing of their team against Northwestern, Indiana and Ames, a good crowd of Iowa voters will follow it to Lincoln Saturday. Iowa alumni from Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, South Dakota and western Iowa will also flock to the game in large numbers, according to reports received here. Following the signal practice and painless scrimmage tomorrow evening, the squad will board a special car stationed in the Rock Island yards here. The men will be sent to bed at 10 o'clock, and their car will be picked up at 11:30. The Hawkeyes will arrive in Des Moines about 4 o'clock and in Omaha about 2. A change will be made to the Burlington there, and the trip to Lincoln will be made before noon. In the afternoon a short signal practice will close the training season for the year and put the men in the best possible trim for the final game.

Army Cadets Practice for the Navy Game. WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 19.—There is not letup in the vigor with which the army cadets are preparing for the grueling struggle with the navy on the Polo grounds in New York. In the ten days intervening before the big game, local observers expect to see the army eleven come along rapidly. The midseason career was one of the hard knocks, but none of the setbacks has caused discouragement. Practice continues to be secret, but it is known that Coach Daly is making several shifts in the team in preparation for the battle in New York. Experiments are being made with the back field, Hocker and Boots being tried behind the regular line yesterday. Captain Benny Hoge was moved back to his old position at left end. The regulars showed considerable strength on the offense, Hoge and Hobbs each securing a touchdown against the second eleven.

Burlington to Run a Special to Iowa Game

The Burlington has perfected plans for running a special train to Lincoln Saturday, carrying parties who may desire to see the capital city to witness the football game between Nebraska and Iowa. The train is expected to leave Omaha shortly after noon and return immediately after the termination of the game. The members of the Iowa team and the rooters will arrive in Omaha Friday morning over the Rock Island and here transfer to the Burlington, leaving a little after 8 o'clock.

COACH SMITH OF PURDUE STRICKEN WITH MALARIA

LA. FAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 19.—Andrew Smith, Purdue university's football coach, has been stricken with malaria, and today it was said he probably would not be able to handle the squad again this season. Coach Smith's illness comes on the eve of the Bolter-Makers' most important game, with their old rival, Indiana, at Bloomington, next Saturday.

Foot Ball Player Dies of Injury

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 19.—Morty Marx, aged 14, died today of injuries suffered in a foot ball game last Friday. Playing with an amateur team, he plunged head first against a telephone pole.

ALUMNI BANQUET TONIGHT

Two Hundred Creighton Men Will Feast at Henshaw. TO EFFECT AN ASSOCIATION Will Be an Amalgamation of the Various Societies Now Fostered by Those Who Once Attended the School.

Nearly 200 Creighton university alumni will be present at a banquet to be given in the main dining room of the Hotel Henshaw this evening. The meeting will be for the purpose of effecting an alumni organization composed of the organizations which have hitherto represented the departments separately, and will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The meeting is unique, it being the first time since the foundation of the school that all the colleges are meeting for a common purpose. For a long time there has been a growing conviction that there should be such an organization in which the graduates of all departments could feel a common fellowship and interest. It will make for a better acquaintance between the graduates of the different departments, and will work for the common interest of alma mater. Similar organizations in other schools are successful, and the new organization being launched by Creighton men is bound to prove popular. Latitude Widened. Membership will not be confined to those who have degrees from any of the five departments of Creighton, but is open to all who have attended classes at Creighton for at least two years, and whose classes have graduated. The December number of the Creighton Chronicle will contain a list of those present. The committee in charge of the affair is composed of Charles Garvey, Edward Creighton and Frank O. McCaffrey. Edward F. Leary, president of the alumni organization of the arts college, will preside, while the following are down for speeches on various topics: Dean A. Hugh Hippel of the dental college, J. A. C. Kennedy of the arts alumni, Dr. E. M. Riley of the medical alumni, William Shaw of the law alumni, W. A. Walsen of the dental alumni, Charles R. Fricke of the pharmacy alumni, William J. Coad, E. J. McVann and Dan B. Butler. Coach Miller and the entire varsity football squad will be present as guests of honor and plans will be made for a big celebration at the coming Thanksgiving game.

"BEAT TARKIO AND PERU" IS UNIVERSITY SLOGAN

"Beat Tarkio and Peru," is the war cry of the students at the University of Omaha this week. Aroused over the bad showing made by the team so far this season, the student body has inaugurated a campaign to encourage the squad to win the two remaining contests. The co-eds of the school are co-operating to a great extent in this campaign, grooming the warriors that should they defeat Peru Saturday, a feed will be given them that evening. At a meeting of the girls held yesterday noon at the University of Omaha, a long earnest discussion arose among the fair co-eds as to giving the foot ball team a feed should they lose the Saturday contest. The game with Creighton last week resulted in injuring several of the Omaha players more seriously than was at first anticipated. Dow's knee has been giving him a great deal of bother and it is feared by members of the team that he may be unable to play in the coming game with Peru. Adams, who hurt his shoulder in a bad manner, may be out of the game for the rest of the season. Members of the team are looking towards the bright side of things and expect to redeem themselves Saturday. Only light practice will be in order the rest

TENER PRACTICALLY ACCEPTS

Only a Few Minor Details to Be Arranged, He Says.

CONFERENCE WITH COMMITTEE

"We Regard the Matter as All Settled," Declares Ebbets When Asked for a Statement.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 19.—Governor Tener said tonight that only a few minor details were to be arranged before his acceptance of the presidency of the National League of Base Ball Clubs. He made this statement on his way to a train for Philadelphia after a four and a half hour conference with the committee of four, representing the clubs of the league, and Charles Ebbets of the Brooklyn club stated that he regarded the matter as settled. The governor was tendered the presidency of the league, being assured of the votes of all clubs by H. W. Hempstead, representing the New York club; Harry Ackerman, representing Chicago; Charles H. Ebbets, representing Brooklyn, and

W. F. Baker, representing Philadelphia. Barney Dreyfus, Pittsburgh; S. B. Britton, St. Louis; August Herrmann, representing Cincinnati, and J. E. Gaffney, representing Boston, were unable to be here, but it was stated they were in accord with the proposition to elect the governor as president at the meeting in New York on December 3. The committee members were guests of the governor at luncheon and spent the whole afternoon closed with him at the executive mansion. Hoped Matter Settled. On the way to the train the governor said: "We had hoped the matter would be settled, but some minor points in the negotiations remain to be considered and the representatives here will consult with their colleagues who are not present. These matters will be taken up later." "We regard the matter as all settled," said Mr. Ebbets when asked for a statement. The governor then continued: "In case I accept the presidency of the National League, I will not resign as governor. Neither will I give my undivided time to the affairs of the league for the remainder of my term as governor." The term will be for five years, at $25,000 a year, according to reports circulated, but about which the governor and the representatives would make no official statement.

STACK OF PAY ENVELOPES STOLEN FROM BIG STORE

While the J. G. McCrorey "ten cent store" was full of customers and employees, just before 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, three shabbily dressed young men elbowed their way through the crowd to the office, where a tray containing the pay envelopes of a number of employees stood, and picking it up, dashed out of the store. The envelopes contained between $20 and $50. A young man formerly employed in the store is thought to be the man who seized the money. One young woman attempted to seize him as he dashed out of the store, but he threw her off and made his escape.
