The Piano Came From ORKINS', Made Possible Through the

GREAT CO-OPERATIVE SALE

Now in Progress in the Piano Department

Summing up the main points again

"Self praise may be half flattery"-but telling again the story of this sale and what led up to it, cannot be resisted.

This co-operative idea was born of bigness. Its organizers, including ourselves, gave it breadth, scope and liberalities.

We put a good piano back of it—upon which the idea could stand: a piano which for years has sold at varying prices up to as high as four hundred dollars.

We fixed its price at the lowest possible dollar that the most economical selling methods would permit-two hundred and forty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents.

We arranged the easiest sort of payments-one dollar and twenty-five cents a week. We charged the most nominal cash fee to participate in this sale five dollars and even credited this five dollars to the price of the instrument selected.

We delivered the instrument immediately-notwithstanding, in scores of instances, the five dollar initial payment did not cover the cartage.

We planned an exchange privilege, which gives the purchaser a year to fully satisfy himself as to the high character of the piano he obtains.

We got up a joint guarantee which stands today as the strongest guarantee given upon anything that is offered for sale.

We are making it a voluntary practice to cancel all payments remaing unpaid, in event that a purchaser dies before his piano has been fully paid for.

We worked out a cash premium feature, whereforts to expel it from the blood. They by every purchaser can earn cash premiums by suffer with a dull misery in the kidney making extra weekly payments when they wish.

And finally—we offered to give any one their money back-provided they would but ask for it within thirty days of the time their piano was

After reading over this big, broad-gauged, cleanse the kidneys and flush off the liberal plan, is it any wonder we remind you not Jad Saits from any pharmacy here; take to put off-"Lest you forget." Saturday will be fore breakfast for a few days and your a good day to inspect these instruments.

How to obtain one of these plan

To take advantage of this unusual sale, all you have to do is to send or bring in five dollars, for which we will at once give you a receipt.

This five dollars is credited to your account on the co-operative books - leaving two hundred and fortythree and seventy-five cents to be paid.

The co-operative plan then allows one hundred and ninety-five weeks' time in which to pay this amountat the rate of one dollar and twenty-five cents a week. There are no further payments of any kind to be met.

You can select your own piano at once-tomorrownext day-next week or any other time convenient to you. It will be delivered immediately-next week or next month. The time you select your piano and the date of delivery is wholly optional with you.

If not convenient for you to personally select your piano, we will make the selection for you under your instructions, with the understanding that, if at the end of a thirty days' trial the piano is not satisfactory, we will refund your money.
