Asserts He Did Not Know it Was Crime to Solicit Commissions from Companies-Goes Before Grand Jury.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 - George H. Mc-Guire, the Syracuse bonding agent for state highway and harge canal contracors, is a partner of Charles F. Murphy, nephew of the leader of Tammany Hall. He so testified today at the "John Doe inquiry" into highway graft and said he had an agreement with Murphy to divide all the bonding business they ob-

McGuire confessed to having attempted to force at least three asphalt companies o make $5,000 contributions to the state democratic committee in return for securing them contracts from the state highway departments. McGuire was to receive a commission of 1 cent a gallon for all the asphalt the companies sold to the state or to contractors, he said. and the companies were to charge the contributions against the commission.

Two of the companies, the Warner-Quinlan company and the Union Oil campaign contribution to Governor he said. Whether the third, the Barber Asphalt company, contributed, McGuire said he didn't know, but the Barber company was given the contract. He said he had received a total of $1,250, from Arthur S. Johnson, sales agent of the Barber company, but insisted this did not represent commissions, but was given him as a campaign contributions to Governor

John Mitchell Appeals to Convention Not to Hamper Wilson.

GOMPERS REVIEWS SITUATION

Declares All Corporation Interests at Work for Undoing of Predecessor of the Present Mexican President.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 21.-The American Federation of Labor refused today to adopt a resolution condemning armed intervention in Mexico on the ground that such intervention might be justifiable and desirable.

The convention unanimously adopted the following resolution:

The American Federation of Labor ndemns attempts being made by Amercan and foreign corporations and certain lingo newspapers to force armed intervention by the United States government in Mexico and urges upon the president of the United States the continuance of a policy looking to the praceful adjustment of the conflict among the Mexican people, and that the president and secretary of the American Federation of Labor be instructed to transmit the position of the federation upon that matter to the presi-dent of the United States."

John Mitchell took the floor and begged the convention not to hamper President Wilson. While he was a peace advocate, he believed there were conditions that sometimes justified war within a nation and between nations.

Both Sides Heard. President Gompers said the subject had taken much time of the executive council, which had listened to representations of both Mexican factions and had had much correspondence on the subject.

"We are unconcerned in this contest," he said, "if it means displacement of an armed man like Diaz by another armed

Mr. Gompers recited the causes that led to the Madero revolution, saying in part; "The lands of Mexico were parceled out by President Diaz to his favorites and his friends, and to American and other foreign corporations for purposes of their own private gain, with additional royalty paid to President Diaz. His fron rule fastened peonage upon the Mexican people. Madero, although himself a rich man, embodied the best concept of the people of Mexican redistribution of the lands of Mexico to the people who worked upon the land. Madero was an idealist. He was given no chance. All the corporation interests were at work for his undoing."

Denounces Huerta Mr. Gompers sulogized President Madero, denounced General Huerta as an assassin and pointed out the importance of maintaining the Monroe doctrine. He

"Interests honestly as well as dishonestly have been vested in Mexico, and these interests are protected or proposed to be protected by the countries in which the holders reside or are subjects. If we say to Germany or England: 'Hands off; this is an American affair,' we must keep our house in order. One of two alterna tives confronts us: To make Mexican tions tolerable, or foreign countrie will intervene to overthrow the Monroe doctrine and cast it to the four winds "President Wilson has approached this subject in a statesmonlike way. We ought to strengthen his hands in trying to find a peaceful solution of the prob lem; but I do not think we ought to enable General Huerta to say organize labor will not permit interventi that he may go on with his bloody eral Huerta and praised Francisco Ma dero, but some said intervention by the United States would never be necessary; that the insurgents would win if given a chance. All the speakers declared the trouble in Mexico could never be settle until the land problem was solved.

The main question was brought u after the convention had adopted a stron declaration in favor of international Position of Huerta.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21.-Most of the happenings here today continue to indicate that Victoriano Huerta is unalter ably determined not to accede to the demands of the United States government for his elimination as presdeint of Mexico. However, there is some basis for the belief that he will give in, but in much a manner as to leave the impressoin of his own free will, defying Washington to the

The parliamentary action in the cham ber of deputies this afternoon gave rise to much speculation. The roll of members was called and it was quite evident the number necessary for a quorum was present, but Colonel Victor Corral, presiding in the absence of Eduardo Tamariz, the speaker, who was said to be ill, looked the deputies straight in the eye and declared that there was no quorum. Not a deputy protested and the chamber stood adjourned until tomorrow. It was suggested this action might be part of a plan to bring about the death of congress and thus split hairs with the Washington government, which through John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, had insisted that this new legislative body should not come into ex-

Under the law should there be no quorum three times in succession, the house would be automatically dissolved. One Mexican, speculating upon the motive for today's adjournment, suggested it was merely a time saving device adding time for Huerta today is fine spun
