WOMEN CROWD TO HEAR 'INNER STUDIES' READ

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—A crowded audience, many of the number being fashionably dressed women, massed in the United States district court here today to hear the reading of "Inner Studies," the book of instructions for the Mandannan savannahs. The book has been denounced as objectionable by the government prosecutor, and Ottomian Zar Adnan Hanish, leader of the court, is on trial for sending it by express in interstate commerce. Hanish formerly was a printer at Salt Lake City.

Judge Hannell declared, in his opinion, that the book is a medical work and that his religion is based on the ethical teachings of Zoroaster. "Every morning and evening the body should be aired, exposing it to the sun. 'Woman is the temple of the living God, for she is the mother, the life-giver. Her children are the most beautiful in the world, for the reason that they walk in the air in a rude condition for several hours each day.'"

Hanish will attempt to prove that the book is a medical work and that his religion is based on the ethical teachings of Zoroaster.
