ACCEPTS MONROE DOCTRINE

Lord Haldane Announces Britain's Approval of Policy.

WORLD LOOKS TO UNITED STATES

Lord Chancellor Princes President Wilson in Address at Thanksgiving Dinner of the American Society.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Thanksgiving dinner of the American society here tonight was noteworthy because of the pronouncement of the British government's endorsement of the Monroe doctrine by Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor. Three hundred and fifty American men and women, with a large number of British guests, were present and they cheered Lord Haldane's words again and again. Robert M. Fairbanks, president of the society, proposed "the king," and Lord Haldane proposed "the president of the United States."

"I recently made a visit to the United States," said Lord Haldane, "and came back not only with a vivid recollection of the cordial welcome I received, but with a deep sense of the high ideals the British and American nations hold in common—the high ideals of citizenship of the two countries."

Referring to the president, he said: "Before he became president Mr. Woodrow Wilson was a thinking man and a moralist. In studying his career I can not fail to be impressed by his detached character and find that he has not ceased to be a thinker and a moralist because he has become the holder of a great office. We are expressed to the world in him the aspirations and ideals of his nation. It is not his expressed declaration that the policy of the United States is not one of conquest or annexation; but the world looks to the United States, with its enormous position and possessions, to carry on its traditions without adding to its possessions."

British Course Also.
"That is our course also. Nor is it the case that when the United States intervenes in any matter it is done for its own advantage. It was not the case with Cuba, to which the United States has restored independence. England itself has done the same thing in South Africa, where we gave back liberty to those with whom we fought."

Proposes Wilson's Health.
"I am not sure that any one should speculate upon the interpretation of that policy," continued the high chancellor, "but I thought myself at liberty to say what I have, it is true indeed that a high spirit and a high aim have been brought into the policy of the United States in its dealings with adjacent countries and it is because the president has taken the attitude he has—a step which none can but admire, whatever its consequence may be—that I propose good health to Mr. Woodrow Wilson, the president, and Mr. Woodrow Wilson, the man."

Sir John A. Simon, the attorney general, proposed the health of the American ambassador, Walter H. Page, and declared him to be the worthy successor of his predecessors. He said: "America and England have given their best and their worst to each other. America has sent us regiments; we have sent you militant suffragettes."

PRUNES PULLED IDOL'S BEARD

Decorator of Chinese Joss House Has Lively Run for His Life.

In the parish prison in New Orleans is a man who has traveled much and had many adventures, one of which follows. "Four years ago, when in San Francisco," he said, "I had a chum named 'Prunes' Wisard. One day when we were walking in Barbary Coast, San Francisco's tendorin, we decided to invade a 'joss house.' It was on the second floor over a Chinese store. We entered the place and found it deserted. "There were three idols in the room. All were dressed in long, red silk gowns. The two end ones had small, white beards about two feet long. In front of each were lighted punk sticks. "After viewing the idols from a distance we moved closer. I noticed 'Prunes' glancing over his shoulder, and I knew, by the expression on his face, he was up to some mischief. "Leaning over to me he whispered, 'You are not game to pull his whiskers.' I admitted I was not. I would have just as soon entered a lion's den and pulled the beard of the beast. "Prunes was beginning to get on my nerves. "Well, if you won't, I will," he said. "I begged him not to do so. I told him of all the tales I had heard of the revenge the Chinese priests take on anyone who insults one of their gods. "No use. He had made up his mind to pull those whiskers, and nothing could make him change. He walked slowly up to the center idol. I began to look for an exit. "Very deliberately 'Prunes' caught the beard in his right hand and, glancing toward me, gave it a yank. "The idol was top heavy and the beard was in tight. When 'Prunes' gave the yank the idol fell and broke in a hundred pieces. "We both started for the door. Just as we reached it and saw safety ahead a priest appeared. In one hand he carried a large knife. At the time it looked to be about two feet long. I will almost swear he was seven feet tall and four feet across the chest. "Seeing the door blocked, we turned toward the windows. We each went out a different one, and found ourselves on a gallery. Not looking to see what 'Prunes' was doing, I started running until I saw a telephone pole about four feet from the railing. Deciding to take a chance, I made a jump for it and caught on. "When I was on solid ground I began to look for 'Prunes.' I found him in a saloon calmly drinking beer. He told me he had swung under the gallery and gone down a stanchion. He proudly held up one hand and showed me where he had been slightly cut by the priest as he swung over the railing of the gallery. "Needless to say, we never entered another 'joss house.'"—New Orleans Picayune.

Woman to Adopt Fifteen Babies of as Many Racial Types.

TO BE MOTHER TO THEM ALL
Family to Consist of Negro, Indian, Arabian, Jap, Chink, Malay, Irish, American, German, Scandinavian and Other Children.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Mrs. L. Brackett Bishop, wife of a wealthy business man, made known today that she planned to become the mother, by adoption, of fifteen children, each to represent one of the fifteen most characteristic racial types. Her plans became known when her representatives visited local orphan asylums in search of the nucleus of her future family. Mrs. Bishop said later that friends now touring Europe had been asked to find babies representing such as she could not recruit in Chicago. The unique family, according to Mrs. Bishop, will include a negro baby, an Indian, an Arabian, a Japanese, a Malay, a German, a Chinese, a Scandinavian, an American, an Irish child and babies representing several of the South American countries.

Mrs. Bishop, in explaining her plan, said she hoped to obtain babies in which the racial characteristics promised to develop most thoroughly. The plan, she said, had been under consideration since the death of her two daughters twenty-five years ago. Mr. Bishop opposed it, however, until recently, when, she said, he had been won over. She hopes to obtain babies 1 year old. "We will move from the hotel where we are now living to a comfortable, good sized house in the outskirts as soon as the family is started," said Mrs. Bishop. "And we intend to bring the children up as nearly as possible like the average American family of moderate means. "They will go to the public schools and I hope to show that in spite of their different nationalities and racial traits, they will grow up brothers and sisters, as I mean to be a mother to them all."

Mrs. Bishop said some of her friends had attempted to dissuade her from the idea, suggesting the family would become known as "The Human Zoo."

JOHNNY DUNDEE HAS THE BETTER OF CHARLIE WHITE

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 28.—Johnny Dundee of New York had the better of nine rounds of a ten-round, no-decision bout here tonight with Charlie White of Chicago. The other round was even. At the end of the second round White seemed to be in trouble and between the second and third rounds the lights in the theater where the fight was staged went out and the house was in darkness for thirty-six minutes. The fighters weighed in at 130 pounds.

Circular Saws of Paper.
The latest use for paper is perhaps the most peculiar. A factory in England manufactures circular saws from paper. These paper saws are used for the manufacturing of the fine furniture, veneer and other thin plates of wood, which must be treated with special care. Some time ago circular saws made from drawing paper were shown in an English exposition. The saws were driven by an electric motor and produced fine boards, which could not have been made better by the finest steel saw. The veneers made in this way are said to be so smooth that the cabinet makers can use them without further planing.—New York Outlook.

A Good Provider.
The topic at a social session the other night turned to husbands who are good providers, when an incident was recalled by former Governor Joseph P. Folk of Missouri. Some time ago a colored girl left the place in which she was employed as a domestic to get married. Two months later her former mistress met her on the street, and, feeling interested in the girl's welfare, she stopped to talk to her. "Well, Linda," she said, "how are you getting along in your new home?" "Betty fine, ma'am," was the smiling reply of the happy Linda. "And your husband, Linda," continued the former mistress, "I suppose he is a good provider." "Oh, yes, ma'am," was the hasty assurance of Linda. "Only last week he got me six new weekly washes to do."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Clothing Stocks Here Are Thinning Down, but SOME Clothes Are LEFT!

I say "some," because I have NOT a gigantic stock remaining. Some lines are FAIRLY complete; others are sold DOWN on sizes. But—if you DO find a suit or overcoat you like, in the SIZE you need, you are going to enjoy a "tumble" in prices; you are going to buy at COST; you are going to buy clothes of STANDARD make; clothes that fit; clothes that wear. (I feature such lines as "Society Brand," "Stern-Mayer," and "Strouse & Bros.," and you CANNOT better THOSE makes.) I AM going to sell out here and am going to sell out COMPLETELY. Better buy while the buy is right.

$11.75 That's My Final Argument—My Last Cut on Any Suit or Overcoat Worth Up to $20.00. Unbeatable!	$13.75 An Unprecedented Offer—It Takes Any of My Choicest $25.00 to $27.50 Suits or Overcoats!	$17.50 This Price for the Very Best Suits and Overcoats I Have—Garments Worth from $30 Up to $35.

This is the sale THEY COULDN'T STOP—I am an Eye Sore to the Other Clothiers—My prices disgust 'em—But I quote clothing this way because I AM SOON TO GO OUT OF THE BUSINESS!

NEWSPAPER ENGLISH IS BEST

Its Style is Becoming Necessary for Every Writer.

GOES TO THE HEART OF THINGS

Ability to See the Essential Through a Mass of Nonessentials is Valuable in All the Walks of Life.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 28.—"The newspaper style which is becoming more and more essential in the equipment of every writer is the clearest, most concise and most interesting style in which things can be written," declared Prof. F. W. Beckman of the department of Journalism of Iowa State college today in addressing the professors of Journalism of eighteen colleges and universities gathered here for the second meeting of the American Conference of Teachers of Journalism. "The news sense, the ability to see what is news and its news meaning to the great mass of humanity is necessary to men in every field of endeavor, but especially to the men who write. "It is the news sense which enables the writer to see through a mass of nonessentials to the essential, through dead sublimity to living facts, through husks and shells to the kernels of truth," continued the speaker. "It is the news sense that gives the writer understanding of and sympathy with common activities of men so that he can find what will interest them even in unexpected and unfavorable places.

Most Efficient Style.
"With all its faults I still believe in the news style as the most efficient style of the modern day for presenting information through the written word. It has been hammered out in the heat and stress of newspaper work to meet the demands of the millions for something to compel their attention, interest them and give them information in the quickest, clearest way possible. "The news writer comes fresh from things he writes and puts the energy and life of it may be the joy and sorrow of what he has just seen or heard, into the living, breathing words of his story. "There is a vital, living quality in news writing that demands attention and grips interest. This style is more widely used than any other. It is of the people and for them, and it has come through years of trial and error that cannot be denied.

Newspaper Training Effective.
"The ranks of present day literary success are filled with men and women who had their training in the newspaper offices. The demands of editors and publishers everywhere is for matter written in the same clear, concise, interesting way that has made the American newspaper the most readable publication printed, either today or in any time." The kind of men needed in agricultural journalism was described by Charles Dillon, former head of the department of industrial journalism at Kansas Agricultural college, now of Topeka, Kan. Prof. James Melvin Lee of New York university discussed instruction in advertising, circulation matters and other phases of the newspaper in connection with college courses in journalism.

In the Zone.
Appropos of President Wilson's linking of the Atlantic with the Pacific by the tour of an election button, a diplomat said in Washington: "President Wilson told a Panama canal story the other day. He said that two men were washing one of the great Culabra dredges that lifted from the bottom of the water, every five seconds or so, an enormous iron bucket filled with mud. "I understand," said the first man, "that they pay good on this government work. How'd you like to be workin' cully on that dredge?" "Fine," said the other man "fine, but," he added, "I'd hate to be one of them fellows under the water. They fillin' them big iron buckets."—Washington Post.

Falling Hair Means Dandruff is Active

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderrin right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and straggly hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff; that awful scour. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching scalp, which if not removed causes the hair root to atrophy, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderrin tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderrin from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and glossy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.—Advertisement.
