SHENANDOAH COMES ON FAST AFTER ATHLETICS

The Athletics of Omaha, one of the fastest amateur football teams of the city, were defeated by Shenandoah in the hardest game witnessed on the Iowa's field this season by the score of 20 to 8. Greatly outweighted, the Athletics made a fine showing against their heavier opponents, playing in the Iowa's territory a number of times.

For Shenandoah, Castle was the stellar performer, tearing through the Athletics' defense for large gains. Castle is known by a large number of Omahans by his backstop work, being one of the regulars on the Wichita Western league team. A number of the Shenandoah players were stars on former university teams, among whom is Blackburn, formerly on the Ames team.

A touchdown made by the Iowans in the last quarter was not allowed because of offside plays on both sides.

The injury of Rossiter, quarter for the Athletics, in the latter part of the second quarter, caused the Omahans to slow up in their team work, as they had no other quarter to take his place. Shenandoah made all their points after Rossiter left the game.

The Athletic team plans a number of post season games with other class A teams in the city, planning to get the city championship in the end.

SIoux CITY MAN DIVES FROM TOP OF BUILDING

SIoux CITY, Ia., Nov. 28.—(Special Telegram)—Charles G. Casavant, 46 years of age, this morning dived from the sixth story of the Iowa building and struck on his head on the tile floor of the rotunda, ten feet from the girl in charge of the cigar stand, and was instantly killed. He leaves a widow and four children. A note pinned to his hat read, "Life is a burden."

SALUTING PASSING INDIAN

Eulogistic Bathos for a Race Whose Tomorrows Are Numbered.

Pushed beyond every frontier, his home and his hunting grounds lost to him, shut away from his buffalo and antelope, the old Indian stands at the end of his journey. The generation which is at the fore is doing something, not much, with its opportunities. When the old Indian passes to the spirit land the young men of the plains will receive their heritage of land and bounty; but from all present indications they will do little with it, and a few short years will suffice to see the heritage dissipated and the land purchased and built upon, cultivated and reseeded by the white man.

The Indian's remaining tomorrows are few, and they will soon be lost in the generations yet unborn. The picture is full of pathos. It is like the dead march in "Saul." It is a long, long chapter from the cordial welcome of the red man when Columbus landed to the faded end of the red man more than 400 years later, but the end is almost here. And now our only hope, if we wish to keep the Indian is to carve a statue of him in stone or mold his figure in bronze.

The stupendous possibilities of the Indian, the marvelous resources of the red man, the glittering possibilities of the race, the unconquerable virility of this type of color are all shown by the fact that civilization in its onward march, invention with its mighty pulse beats, the throbbing life of progress, all combined, have not yet been able to snuff out these first and real Americans; but the day will soon dawn when the last real North American Indian will be folded in his blanket and laid amid the sighing branches of the pines upon some lonely and desolate hillcrest, whose only dirge will be the liquid notes of the meadow lark.—New Haven Register.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Nine-Year-Old Henry Yonicek is Burned by Electric Current.

CLIMBS ELECTRIC LIGHT POLE

Comes in Contact with Live Wire and Probably is Fatally Burned—Funeral of Dana Morrill Held.

Henry Yonicek, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yonicek, was terribly burned yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock when he caught two live electric wires near his home on Chitt's road. The little lad had climbed a pole and is said to have been playing with the transmitters. In some way he came in contact with the wires and a powerful voltage passed through his body. He hung from the wires until a neighbor, seeing his plight, rushed to the rescue and helped him down. A hurry call to the police station brought Chief of Police Briggs, Captain of Police Carey and Officer John Jackson. The officers made a record trip in the chief's auto. The child was rushed to the South Omaha hospital, where Dr. E. Humpal and John Koutsky administered to his hurts. It was found that his muscles, in both arms and legs were terribly burned by the current. His recovery is doubtful.

Jackman in Prize Class. Mike Sexton of Thirty-ninth and Q streets is authority for the statement that Officer John Jackman, prize bachelor of the South Omaha police force, served in the civil war at the siege of Vicksburg. Jackman claims that he is only 48 years old. Sexton claims that he knew Jackman during the war. Sexton further adds that although Jackman is enthusiastically in favor of the freedom of Ireland, he is nevertheless a former subject of the Kaiser. Jackman is a bachelor—a prize one at that. He is considered a handsome man even though he is beginning to show baldness. Jackman has money and Cupid's attentions, it is claimed, still show partiality for him.

Centurion Club's Play. For the second time the Theatians of the Centurion club were honored last night by a large audience of friends and patrons who filled the high school auditorium to see the play, "Robert Emmet." The play was enacted under the personal supervision of Rev. M. J. Ballou of St. Bridget's Catholic church and director of the club. The first rendition of the play which apotheosized Ireland's patriot, was given Wednesday night. The proceeds of the show will be devoted to the new school of St. Bridget now under construction.

Dana Morrill's Funeral. Dana Morrill's character for probity and cleanliness of living were eulogized yesterday at the First Presbyterian church, where Rev. Dr. R. L. Wheeler pronounced the funeral sermon over the deceased. The funeral services were attended by a crowd of old-time and representative citizens, who had been business and social companions of Morrill during his long residence in this city. Dr. Wheeler made the statement that if his hearers could look into the hand of the dead man they would see there no taint of ill-got money. He said that while Morrill had been an infrequent attendant at church his life was nevertheless a moral lesson to his fellows because of its cleanliness.

The funeral procession left the residence at 10 o'clock and from the church proceeded to Grace-land Park cemetery, where the body was laid to rest in a marble sarcophagus in the Grace and Park cemetery. The sarcophagus is the first of its kind in South Omaha and is a monument of art and beauty.

Gilder Talks Tonight. President of the library board, E. O. Mayfield, is urging that a large crowd assemble at the home of Robert Gilder, archeologist of the museum of Nebraska university, who will speak at the high school building tonight in the interest of the new South Omaha museum. President Mayfield is very earnest in his endeavor to awaken public enthusiasm over the new museum, where the relics of the prehistoric peoples of Nebraska and the Missouri Valley will be stored. Relics of the pioneer days in South Omaha will also be placed in the new museum when the rooms have been equipped.

Union Services. Congregations from all the Protestant churches of the city met yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the United Presbyterian church at Twenty-third and H streets, where union Thanksgiving services were held. Rev. W. A. Pollock, pastor of the church, opened the service with prayer, which was followed by a reading from the bible by Rev. W. R. Hill of the First Baptist church. Rev. J. W. Hattie of the Christian church delivered the prayer of the day. Rev. J. W. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the First Methodist church, delivered the sermon of the occasion, talking for six text the fourth verse of the hundredth psalm: "Enter into His Gates with Thanksgiving, and Enter into His Courts with Praise; Be Thankful Unto Him and Bless His Name." The speaker gave a brief resume of the history of Thanksgiving. He outlined the social problems of the day, including the social evil, child labor, poverty and dishonesty, but claimed that the world was growing better. He said that education was doing the work and bespoke Thanksgiving for the betterment. The service was well attended.

Improvements by Board. Masonry work has been completed at the South Omaha public library and a sidewalk has also been finished. Because of the extensive grading carried on by the city in the vicinity of Twenty-

CREDIT IS USELESS IF THE MERCHANDISE IS TRASHY

The bare fact that we give credit—cheerful credit—to anyone who wants clothing would be no argument at all if the clothing were shoddy or trashy.

So we wish to make it clear to those who never traded with us that the credit we offer is credit on good, substantial, well made, high grade, reliable clothing. If you are looking for trash, the showy stuff that deceives all but the expert eye for a time and then falls to pieces, don't waste any of your time here. But if you are looking for GOOD clothing at the lowest market price (for GOOD clothing), don't waste time and money by going elsewhere.

There are no ifs, no ands, no buts to our credit. There are no ifs, no ands, no buts to our clothing. Both will stand the grim searchlight of keenest criticism and not be found lacking.

Jeremiah Slightly Altered in Color

Attired like a pair of democratic candidates up for re-election and radiating good nature and glad tidings like two Billikens, Thomas and Jeremiah returned to Omaha yesterday for their annual three months' visit and immediately social activities focused upon them.

The two inseparable friends this year are just as they were last, except that the high price of eggs has caused Master Jeremiah to lose a bit of weight and color. Speaking of the change, Mr. Jeremiah said: "I should bibble! Whad'da I care if I lose my shape. Fifty cents is my sporting limit, and any time respectable eggs hop past the line, I'm off'n 'em."

The two pals, surrounded by a crowd of admiring friends, were seen in many places yesterday. Mr. Champagne Punch, a Thanksgiving day visitor of much renown, was also a great mixer yesterday—in fact, he mixed with co-workers notoriously disagreeable to him. Mr. Punch will leave the city today, but will return to Omaha on Christmas day.

Melba and Kubelik to Be Heard in Every City and Town

The Melba-Kubelik tour has been a succession of ovations, for the joint appearance of these great artists is truly one of the biggest musical sensations of the season. Since the opening engagement on October 9, thousands have heard this famous singer and celebrated violinist, and thousands more are still to hear them for their present tour of the country will not come to an end before April 1. And yet while their tour will extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific, there are countless thousands who will be unable to go to any of these concerts—but they will be able to hear Melba and Kubelik just as well as those who live in the cities where these artists will appear, for the Victor and Victrola make this possible.

Rasmussen Severely Injured Through Fall

Frank Rasmussen, saloonkeeper at 2201 Cuming street, fell down a stairway at 2201 Cuming street last night, fracturing his skull and causing a hemorrhage of the brain. He is probably fatally injured.

DR. WILEY MAY BE HEALTH OFFICER FOR NEW YORK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Friends of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former federal pure food chief, admitted today that the doctor was considering an offer to become health commissioner of New York. Dr. Wiley was away on his Virginia farm out of reach of telegrams and telegrams and is expected to return to the city tonight. None of the doctor's friends knew whether he would take the piece, but said he had conferred once with Mayor-elect John Purroy Mitchell and

Affable Strangers Steal Gesche's Money

Alfred Gesche of Bromberg, Germany, en route to Denver, Colo., was persuaded Thursday afternoon by two affable strangers to stray from the Burlington station, where he was waiting to change trains, with the result that he lost $100. Gesche, meeting two countrymen, accepted their invitation to a glass of lager and while making for an oasis became involved in a dollar matching contest. After losing $5 he drew forth a bulky wallet and paid his companions, when one of them snatched the purse from his hand and the two disappeared. He reported the case immediately to an officer and upon being taken to the station furnished a good description of the men. The $100 contained in the pocketbook constituted Gesche's entire capital.

For Children There is Nothing Better.

A cough medicine for children must help their coughs and colds without bad effects on their little stomachs and bowels. Foley's Honey and Tar exactly fills this need. No opiates, no sour stomach, no constipation follows its use. Sticky solids, wheezy breathing, coughs and croup are all quickly helped, and sweet refreshing slumber instead of feverish tossing at night. It is easy therefore to understand why an increasing number of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is sold yearly. For sale by all dealers, everywhere.—Advertisement.
