WOULD TEACH THEM TRADES

Congressman Barton Advocates Training for Boys and Girls. OPPOSES THE CURRENCY BILL. Because in His Estimation It is Wrong in Principal and Disturbing to Financial Conditions of Country.

A national law making the teaching of vocational work in high schools mandatory will solve the problem of the "educated floater," according to Congressman Silas R. Barton, who is in Omaha on his way to Washington after a three weeks' visit in the state. "Our high schools turn out graduates who must become floaters—young men and women who are fitted for no particular kind of work," said Congressman Barton. "Vocational training has been attempted in a modified form by several city schools, but it will take a national law to bring it up to its full efficiency."

Congressman Barton, speaking of the currency bill which he opposed in the house, said: "This bill will place the currency of the country under the control of a political board which will hold office during the president's tenure in office and will go out with each new president. This is wrong in principle and will tend to disturb the financial conditions of the country continually." "This bill, in my opinion, will show whether the republican party is right or wrong. We have stood for protection. This bill was drafted without regard for protection. It will take eighteen months or so for its effects to be clearly demonstrated, but in that time we will know exactly what it will do. "I believe the tariff enactment will prove that the republicans have been right and the democrats wrong. It will not do it in a few months, but ultimately the republican position will be vindicated."

Gifts for Christmas at Orchard & Wilhelm's

"Nothing that is not either useful or beautiful"—Wm. Morris.

With the coming of December begins the quest for gifts. And for those things that beautify and lend character to the home. Omaha people turn first to this store knowing they will not be disappointed. Those seeking the unusual, the unique and different in gifts will find many queer things from other lands, mostly but one of a pattern and not to be found elsewhere in Omaha.

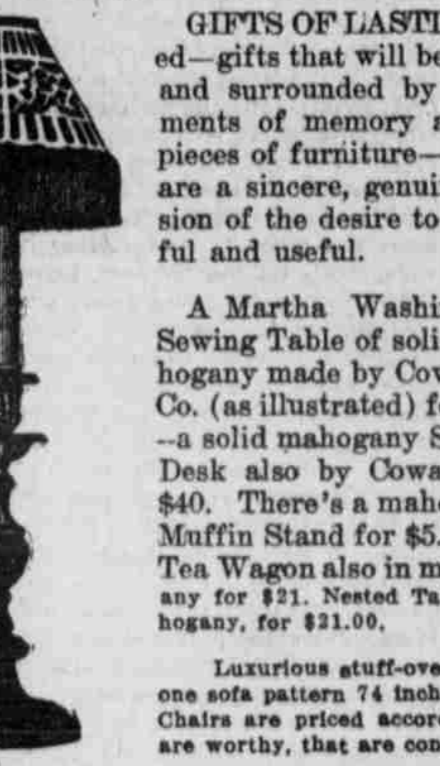

POTTERIES from Italy—creamy white and blue, Della Robbia's and gay Majolica—queerly decorated plates from Brittany—Italian subjects reproduced in Austrian patterns, their warmth and color subdued to northern grayness. A few sturdy, useful-looking things from Germany and beautiful reproductions of old-time things from the Wedgewood potteries. And then there is Copenhagen Fayence from Denmark glowing with colors. Some pieces are very inexpensive and the prices range from 25c for a candlestick from Flanders to a costly vase from the Sevres Potteries in France.

There are beautiful things in GILDED CARVED WOODS—one particularly beautiful Desk Set in Italian carved wood—tall electroliers with large shades of silk edged with gold galloon deeply fringed. Other lamps of carved oak or mahogany—on some of them the price is no more than $10.00 without the shade.

Fascinating, Oriental looking Chinese ginger jars are displayed, the small ones for $2.75; larger ones more costly—attractive English ware and odd vases and pieces in ornamented glass.

DAINTY TRIFLES FOR THE BOUDOIR—Covered in French brocade; desk sets, pin cushions, water coolers, telephone book covers and registers, some of the pieces are priced as low as 75c, others cost up to $15. A line exclusive with this store.

BASKETS, too—a big stock of Turkish baskets, from the Mount Lebanon of Palestine, in 3 sizes, at 75c, $1 and $1.25. Then there are numerous Japanese baskets—the rich mahogany colored ones—in all shapes and sizes, some for $1.00, others as costly as $9.00.

Other substantial gifts—rockers, library tables, dining room and bed room furniture are found in wide variety of price and design. For smaller gifts are book blocks, candle sticks, trays and boudoir clocks, odd cabinets and cases, all the novelties in wood that are at once useful and lasting, and the prices are very reasonable—many attractive gifts can be purchased for $5.00, $6.00, $7.50 and $8.00.

ORIENTAL RUGS—Their rich and lasting colorings, their fascinating designs and the romance of their origin make them the most prized of gifts. OUR ENTIRE COLLECTION IS SPECIALLY PRICED, and all weaves and all sizes can be secured at unusual prices. Many Oriental rugs are priced as low as $15, and they range to the largest and costliest carpet sizes.

GOLD BROCADED Tapestry Table Covers, for $4.75 and higher, and Velour Table Covers for $2.95 up to $10.00 are welcome gifts. Then there are cretonnes, to cover bags and for card table covers. Also, if your order is placed early a cretonne covered skirt or shirt waist box makes a useful gift.

FOR UTILITY coffee percolators, as low as $4; chafing dishes for $4 to $22; 5 o'clock teas, $5, $8 and $11.50, in copper, nickel, aluminum—the best makes only, Starnall, Rochester and Manning Bowman.
