By MELLIFICIA. Monday, December 1, 1913.

RARELY have we had either a debutante or a bride on Friday, especially in the year 1913. The Saunterer of the Chicago Tribune has the following to say of Miss Florence Cudahy, formerly of Omaha, who braved these superstitions:

"Friday's debutante is full of courage or else she is so ultra-modern that there is no place in her thoughts and plans for any remote suggestion of superstition. And perhaps, after all, Friday is a perfectly good day on which to make society's acquaintance formally and ceremoniously, but it is not generally popular. There have been only two or three this season. Miss Florence Cudahy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy of 22 Banks street, was the courageous debutante of Friday. She was introduced at a reception given by her mother in the afternoon at the family residence, Mrs. Cudahy was assisted by Mrs. John Cudahy, Mrs. Hugh T. Patrick, Mrs. J. A. Edwards, Mrs. Glenn Wharton of Omaha, and Mrs. Paul Doty of St. Paul. The young women who assisted were Miss Judith Mabbatt, Miss Helen Morton of Lake Forest, Miss Marguerite Mellen, Miss Gladys High, Miss Louise Meadowcroft, Miss Madeline Wakem and Miss Gertrude McCarthy. The reception was followed by a dinner dance."

Suffrage Luncheon.
Complimentary to Mrs. E. M. Fairfield, the Equal Franchises society will entertain at a large luncheon at the Commercial club Tuesday. They have been fortunate in securing Mrs. M. F. Hall of Lincoln to speak at the luncheon. Mrs. Hall and her husband are art connoisseurs as well as interested in suffrage and have an excellent and valuable art collection. Not long ago they entertained the Omaha Society of Fine Arts at their home in Lincoln.

Mrs. Hall is one of the leaders in suffrage in Lincoln and is the county chairman of Lancaster county. Acceptances for the luncheon have been sent by:
Mesdames: E. M. Fairfield, M. F. Hall, Clement Chase, W. J. Connell, Thomas Crane, Harry Cummings, Alfred Darlow, P. H. Davis, F. T. Eastman, F. J. Fitzgerald, A. A. Garner, W. H. Gerratt, E. W. Gunther, Burke, Hilleck Rose, W. A. C. Johnson, George Doane, F. H. Cole, J. L. Kennedy, Warren Rogers, A. J. Love, T. D. Kimball, W. D. Hestford, E. M. Martin, Charles T. Kountze, Louis C. Nash, E. Shuler, Misses: Daisy Doane, Arabella Kimball, Hope Hanchett, Carolyn Dodge, Helen Matters, Lida Wilson.

Bridge Luncheon at Loyal.
Miss Hedwig Rosenstock was hostess at a beautifully appointed bridge luncheon at the Hotel Loyal Friday for some of the December brides, including Miss Florence Hiller, Miss Radia Kirschbraun, Miss Martha Hadra, Miss Evelyn Bergman and Miss Dorothy Mayne. Yellow chrysanthemums formed the decorations and covers were placed for twenty-one. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Emil Rosenstock and Mrs. Jake Newman, both of Sioux City.

Sings in New York.
Miss Gladys Chandler, an Omaha girl, who has been singing with the Aborn Opera company, made her first appearance in New York at the Thanksgiving day matinee. The following is taken from the New York Sun:
"Gladys Chandler was the Hansel and Mary Carson of the Gretell. These two singers had not previously adorned the Century stage. They acquitted themselves creditably, for they sang the music passably, acted with some spirit and meaning, and brought into the fairy story about all of the atmosphere which was present."

Orpheum Party.
Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Carlisle will entertain at an Orpheum party this evening, followed by supper at their home in honor of Miss Dorothy Morgan and Mr. Ralph Peters. Those present will be:
Mesdames: Dorothy Morgan, Gladys Peters, Daphne Peters, Ben Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Carlisle.

Miscellaneous Shower.
Miss Pearl Spann entertained at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Jessie Hoefter, who is a bride of the week. Those present were:
Mesdames: Jessie Hoefter, Ada White, Mary Deane, Anna Durbin, Pearl Spann.

For Denver Guest.
Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Huntley entertained delightfully at their home Sunday evening at supper in honor of Mrs. Lester Bridgman of Denver, guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Swobe. Covers were placed for ten guests.

Dancing Party.
Miss Sue Ebbons will entertain at a tango party this evening at her home. Roses will be used in decorations and will be given as favors. The guest list includes:
Mesdames: Mildred Tukey, Marie Carmody, Gladys Klein, Mona Rossett, Claire Moorhead of Lincoln, Ruth Howe, Leona Holiday, Messrs: Leo Jackson, Richard Chalmers, Howard Moorhead of Lincoln, John Patterson, Jack Chapman, Paul Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. George Ebbons.

Spellman-Palm Wedding.
Miss Judith Palm and Mr. Frank S. Spellman were married Sunday afternoon at Kountze Memorial Lutheran church by Rev. O. D. Baltisy. A reception for the bride and groom and relatives was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Palm, 288 1/2 West street, in the evening. Mr. Spellman is with the Cady Lumber company.

Leigh-Shapley Wedding.
Mrs. Mary Shapley and Mr. Jesse F. Leigh of Omaha were united in marriage at 288 South Sixteenth street Wednesday evening, November 28. A number of relatives and friends were present. Rev. C. C. Meek officiated.

Pleasures Past.
A Thanksgiving party was given by Misses Mabel and Jennie Michelson at their home Wednesday evening. The evening was spent in music and games. Prizes were won by Amanda Hansen and Esther Garrard. Those present were:
Mesdames: Amanda Hansen, Esther Garrard, Mabel Michelson, Jennie Michelson, Messrs: Alfred Johnson, Glen Wurm, Glen Nielsen, James Kenyon.

Postponement.
The informal musicale planned for Tuesday evening at the Colonial has been postponed until Wednesday evening owing to the fact that it will be given Tuesday evening by Mrs. Lena Ellsworth Dale.

Attend Foot Ball Games.
Miss Mona Cowell has been unusually fortunate in being present at two of the largest foot ball games of the season. She attended the army-navy game and the Yale-Harvard game. Miss Cowell, who attends Vassar, has been visiting Mrs. Franklin Irvin of Bookline, Mass., formerly of this city, and also Prof. Hester in New York.

In and Out of the Bee Hive.
Mrs. E. L. Huntley will leave this evening to spend a few days in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Royal D. Miller are home from Seattle and other Pacific coast points.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snyder have returned from the west, having spent a month visiting relatives in Seattle and Tacoma, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Byram and little daughter Helen, who spent Thanksgiving in Lincoln, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Tukey, returning to their home in Chicago Sunday evening.

Plainview Woman in Omaha Seeking Her Lost Husband
Mrs. James I. Jacobs of Plainview, Neb., is in Omaha with her three little children, looking for her husband, who mysteriously disappeared on the evening of November 16. The family had moved from Verdigris to Plainview, where Jacobs, a laborer, had secured employment.
"Since my husband was ill in the spring he had not been exactly in his right mind," said Mrs. Jacobs, "and we believe he walked away in a fit of temporary insanity."
"He was five feet eight inches in height; with blue eyes, dark brown hair, which was turning gray; he wore a light gray overcoat and a blue serge suit. He has a scar on his left cheek, as if two fingers had been drawn across the cheek from the ear. The scars are the result of a burn."
Mrs. Jacobs is staying with a friend in Omaha. Unless she soon hears from her husband she is going to La Porte, Ind., where his aged mother is grief stricken over the affair. Jacobs was 49 years old and came from Indiana.

Internal Revenue Collections More
A greater output of distilled spirits is held responsible for an increase in internal revenue collections in Nebraska of $25,713.93 for November of this year over those of the corresponding month in 1912. Last year the internal revenue collections totaled $247,714.78, while the aggregate collections for the month just closed amounted to $282,882.64.
It is not implied in the statement given at the offices of the internal revenue collector, or in the explanation which accompanied it, that unusual quantities of alcoholic beverages were consumed in Omaha or in other places throughout the state during November. It is merely pointed out that, because many of the distilleries were closed down much of the time during the summer months, many orders were filled as soon as full-force operations were resumed.

LAYMEN IN PULPIT AT THE HANSCOM PARK CHURCH
Christianity as a factor in business success was discussed by five business men in addresses before the congregation of the Hanscom Park Methodist church Sunday evening. The pastor of the church, Rev. C. W. McCaskill, merely introduced the speakers, allowing them to testify to the soundness of the doctrines he has been preaching.
William E. Foshier, William Redgwick, building contractor; C. H. Walrath of the Walrath & Sherwood Lumber Co., W. E. Weeks of the Weeks Grain company, and B. A. Wilcox, assistant cashier of the Omaha National bank, were the laymen who delivered the practical sermons in the pastor's place.
High ideals and hard work, Christian giving, the observance of Sunday, the elevation of character above capital, and the practice of right habits, honesty and fair dealing, were the elements of Christianity that were emphasized by the business men as factors in successful business life.

Fashion Hint

By LA RACONTEUSE.

Wedding frock of aventurine (blue) velveteen and black silk muslin. The bodice is of black silk muslin, gathered at the waist line and over the shoulder. It gives a very short sleeve, which is edged as the decollete, with a long flourish of black silk muslin. A ribbon passing beneath the muslin, draping itself at back in long ends, makes the low part of the bodice. A tunic of black silk muslin, gathered at the waist and trimmed with three "religious" pleats, falls over the skirt, in a cutaway line. As to the skirt, it is a plain and round model, developed in aventurine velveteen. A drape of the same material, broad as a scarf, lightened it at half length and is drawn up to the front.

Withnell Will Give Ordinance a Test in Behalf of Nuisance
C. H. Withnell, commissioner of fire protection and water supply, will ask for a warrant for the arrest of the members of the real estate firm of Russell & McKirrick and will prosecute them for "maintaining a nuisance" at Twenty-fourth and Grant streets. The nuisance is a two-story frame house which was badly battered by the tornado and is standing vacant.

"There are several similar houses," said Withnell, "and the real estate men refuse to remove them or tear them down or repair them. I want to know how far I can go in the matter and will make the case of Russell & McKirrick a test case."
Withnell says there are forty or fifty such buildings in the city, and if he has the power he will order them all demolished. Many of these houses were in the tornado district and were damaged in the storm. Withnell says they are left open and constitute a fire menace. So far he has been unable to compel any of the owners to repair or tear down the buildings.

Will Be Tried Upon Charge of Insanity
Ed Nash of Minnesota, charged with placing railroad ties on the tracks of the Northwestern railroad at Forty-eighth street and Grand avenue, with intent to obstruct the railroad in operation, was bound over to the district court with bonds placed at $500. An insanity complaint may be filed against the man by the county authorities.

PRINCIPALS IN FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT ARE ALL FINED
A free-for-all fight at 154 North Sixteenth street was interrupted by Officer Nichols Sunday night and O. E. and Margaret Golden, Elizabeth Babbington, Charles Saville and George Clark arrested. Nichols' attention was attracted to the place by residents of the neighborhood and upon entering the room he found O. E. Golden armed with a huge club drilling the rest of the occupants about the room. Black eyes and lacerations were evident on the persons of all concerned. In police court each was treated to a fine of $10 and costs. No one seemed to be aware of what the trouble was really about.

SANTLEY FORGETS THE PAST

Star of Musical Comedy Here Many Times Before.

RAPID RISE FROM THE RANKS

Cannot Remember the Days When He Was the Hero of the Galeries in Thrillers in the "Pop" Houses.

While Billie Burke, Elsie Ferguson, Marie Doro, Hattie Williams and several other dramatic stars can proudly boast that they became stars over night after serving years of apprenticeship in the chorus, there is only one man, now in the elite rank of stardom, who can remember over fifteen years of experience with "Curses, the Villain," "Give Me Back My Child" shows, playing the kerene circuits and then haughtily announce that he is a star in a modern musical show. Joseph Santley is the one man who made such a sudden flight from the ranks of melodrama to the part of a dancing juvenile in a big musical show.

When a mere child Santley was an object of worship by gallery gods in the pop houses. Playing the hero in "From Rags to Riches," "Billy the Kid" and several other shows calculated to appeal to the emotions of the most bloodthirsty, Santley outwitted many a heinous villain and caused the men in the audience to shout with joy while the women wept copious tears which signified the same identical feeling. For several years Santley was a regular, annual attraction at the Krug here during the Blair and Havin regime of melodrama, and when he appeared Sunday night at the Brandeis old gallery was out in full force to greet their favorite, but they were mightily disappointed because Santley had abandoned the intense dramatics, and he never so much as looked toward the roof, let alone smile in that direction.

Santley abandoned the melodrama for musical comedy about three years ago and entered Marjorie Cahill's "July Forget" company, which played here as a subordinate juvenile company. The following year Mort Singer gave him a dancing part in "The Modern Eve," in which role he was seen by Philip Bartholomae, who took fancy to the youngster and gave him the leading dancing role in "When Dreams Come True."

Since his advance to stardom, Santley has outgrown his old traits, and he no longer recollects the days when he was the pride and hope of every little street urchin. For now he is a real star and a star must have a temperament and it is

Dunn Asserts Police Department Direly in Need of Equipment

At least thirty additional patrolmen, eight more motorcycle cops, a new central police station and three substations—these are the needs of the police department according to Chief of Police Henry W. Dunn.

Police Commissioner J. J. Ryder, who long has urged the need of a new police station, will ask for the full legal appropriation of $100,000 for the police department next year.

Chief Dunn said the department really needed $6,000 a year more than the $100,000 it received last year.

A request may be made for the submission of a proposition to vote bonds for a new central station and to use the new fire engine houses for the substations.

Cuts that print— There is often all the difference in the world between a cut that shows up well in the engraver's proof and one that shows up well when it is printed. Cuts made for a newspaper have to be made so that they will give good results under the most adverse conditions. For that reason, a newspaper engraving plant produces cuts that the ordinary printer can use and get good results. If you have some engraving to be done, send us the work and compare both the results and the prices with that of ordinary engraving plants. Bee Engraving Department Bee Building, Omaha
