HUSKERS LOSE BY ONE VOTE

Stiehm Tells of Lineup in Big Nine Against Nebraska.

FEELING IS MOST FRIENDLY

Sentiment of Five Members Against Enlargement Responsible for Negative Vote in Foot Ball Meeting.

LINCOLN, Dec. 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Nebraska lost out by a single vote in being admitted to the Big Nine, said Coach Stiehm today on his arrival from Chicago, where he attended the conference last week.

"Nothing but the friendliest feeling was expressed by the conference members for Nebraska," Stiehm said. "It was the stand taken by the conference against further expansion, which made it impossible for Nebraska to gain admission."

LYNCH OFFERS SOME ADVICE

Retiring President Tells Directors to Acquire Some of the Dignity They Expect Executive to Bring Them.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—John K. Tener, governor of Pennsylvania, was this afternoon elected president of the National League of Professional Base Ball Clubs, to succeed Thomas J. Lynch.

In a parting statement delivered to members of the National league, President Lynch suggested that they acquire themselves some of the dignity which they expected Governor Tener to bring to the league.

"In choosing your next president you have gone on record as wanting a man who will lend dignity and prestige to the league," reads Mr. Lynch's statement.

"In your selection of Governor Tener you have the right man; but I hope that you will inject some of the dignity expected of him into yourselves and be a help instead of a hindrance to him.

BOYS THRILL THEATER CROWD

The Bee's Newsboys, 100 Strong, Entertained at the Orpheum.

MAKE GAY GANG OF CRITICS

Even Blase Patrons Catch Enthusiasm of Youngsters and See the Show for a Night from the Boys' Viewpoint.

Billy Byrne's big Orpheum crowd was settling down for the opening of the show last night, when a sudden spasm of enthusiasm thrilled through it as 100 of the Bee's newsboys came clattering in and climbed the marble stairs to the balcony, where Manager Byrne had reserved a whole block of seats for them.

They were a grave bunch of critics—these newsies—as they silently waited for the show to justify itself and the Orpheum's invitation to them to come and enjoy the whole thing free.

For about two minutes they were grave and then unanimously their clean-washed hands clapped in glee, and their shiny, well-soaped faces were wreathed in the wrinkles of delightful childish laughter.

Though the whole show they sat and only occasionally were there need for the leaders to call: "B-sh-sh-sh, there, Joe," for they devoted their entire time to thorough enjoyment of the performance.

Down in the "bald-headed" circle the sound of the loud enthusiasm from the youngsters in the balcony created a sympathetic wave and the grownups joined the youngsters in cheering the funny and the good things as the youngsters saw them as well as the "stuff" that "went over the heads" of the newsies.

So completely did the youngsters appreciate the show that Manager Byrne again expressed his pride in Omaha's newsies and his pleasure at being able to play theatrical Santa Claus to them.

This was the third time this season the Orpheum has given a theater party to the newsboys, the boys who sell the other Omaha papers being entertained, one bunch in October and the other last week.

KARLUK ADRIFT IN ICE

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 9.—Somewhere within the confines of the Arctic circle is drifting Vilhjalmur Stefansson's stanch little vessel, the Karluk, safely frozen in an ice pack. But the leader of the expedition is not with his vessel and is unaware of its whereabouts, according to a dispatch received from the explorer himself today by George J. Desbarats, deputy minister of naval affairs and acting minister of marine and fisheries.

Stefansson's message states that he is leaving the Karluk safe in his wife's hands and that he will be back in 15 to 20 days. The next day heavy gales sprang up and then a fog. When the weather cleared the Karluk was not in sight and had undoubtedly been carried away by the wind which drove the ice pack off shore.

So far the search for the Karluk has been unsuccessful, but as there is a crew of twenty-five men on board no anxiety is felt for their welfare.

Young Man Brought Back to Face Law

Sheriff Lindsey returned early yesterday morning from the Dallas, Ore., where he went to bring back Charles Harvey, former cashier of the Great Western railway freight house here, who fled last March after embezzling nearly $300 of the company's funds. A man by the same name had been placed under arrest in a small town in Alabama, and for a while it was believed he was the right man, but he quickly proved an alibi. At about that time the real Harvey was located in Washington. Harvey is only 24 years old. Three years ago he married an estimable young girl, a member of one of the pioneer and prominent families of the city. One child was born two years ago and the second a few days after the young husband fled.

Harvey admitted his shortage when talking to Sheriff Lindsey on the train, but when arraigned in district court yesterday he pleaded not guilty. It is expected he will admit his guilt in connection of the lightest penalty that can be placed upon him. He was working on a government canal job in Oregon and had been employed there about a month. He had regularly sent to his wife all of the money he could earn.

Young Negro Dies After Exposure

George Perkins, the young negro from Crescent, N. C., who was found on Sunday morning in the sandhouse in the Milwaukee railroad yards, chilled with cold, died in the city jail yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The unfortunate negro boy had been exposed to the rain all Saturday afternoon tramping into the city and when he reached the railroad yards he crawled into the first shelter that offered. When found Sunday morning by yard employes his clothes were frozen and he was entirely helpless. He was taken to the city building in the police ambulance and City Physician Tubbs gave him emergency treatment. The shock, however, was too great, and he died in the steam heated room where he was placed. But little could be learned about him. He appeared to be intelligent and was cleanly dressed. He said his age was 22 years.

FAKE PICTURE ENLARGERS ARE SOUGHT BY POLICE

The police are seeking two young men, who represented an art gallery, since learned to be a mythical one, obtained money from women in the west-end residence district.

The game was the old picture enlarging game whereby an advance of $4 is made for enlarging a photograph to a size that most photographers charge three times as much for.

Mrs. Charles Bauer, 3310 North Twenty-fifth street, is one of the victims whose complaints spurred the police to action. A number of other complaints have also been received at headquarters.

JURY SAYS DEATH CAME BY MAN'S CARELESSNESS

A coroner's jury yesterday after hearing the evidence of trainmen and others concerning the death of Charles McGrew, who was killed in the yards of the Great Western Railroad company in this city on the night of December 6 returned a verdict that his death was due to his own carelessness and that no blame could be attached to the railroad company. McGrew was engaged in making up a train of Pullman coaches and when the couplings failed to clutch, permitting the coaches to separate, he stepped forward just in time to have his head crushed between the vestibule platforms.

SUNDAY NIGHT ROBBERIES REVEALED BY VICTIMS

Three burglaries that occurred Sunday night were revealed yesterday morning. Two of them were evidently the work of the much detested but always uncollected "matchlight" burglar, and the third was a fellow who took nearly a wagonload of groceries and provisions. The home of F. W. Pierce, 614 South Seventh street, was entered during the absence of the family and money and jewelry to the value of nearly $100 was taken. The home of Mrs. M. E. Patterson, 515 First avenue, in the same neighborhood, was entered and about $50 worth of jewelry was stolen. Trails of burnt matches marked the progress of the burglar through both houses. Mrs. Patterson was spending the evening with friends.

The largest haul, if not the most valuable, was made at the grocery store of E. Sax, 600 South Fifteenth street. En-
