NE of the cafes nearly had a run Sunday evening, when it was discovered that Mile. Gaby Deslys, Mr. Harry Pilcer and their manager were dining in the main cafe. Following the matinee, Mile. Gaby walked from the theater to the cafe, and was followed by numerous curious admirers. She wore the wonderful fur coat of Russian sable lined with American Beauty brocade, which she wore in the last act of her play. This is probably the most valuable wrap ever worn in Omaha. With this she wore a close-fitting black velvet toque, with high algrette in front, which was much more artistic than most of the weird headdresses she wears on the stage. Her gown of old gold and black was also quite simple.

When they left the cafe, Gabrielle of the Lillies again insisted on walking, although there were taxis there waiting,

A prominent dressmaker who attended the performance thought that the Parisienne's wraps were by far the most artistic of any of her clothes, her hats and gowns being too weird and too extreme, with a few exceptions. Most of her wraps were long, enveloping the entire figure, and were luxuriously trimmed with fur. A black embroidered chiffon evening coat had a wide band of brown fur with the heavy fox tails. Another gorgeous wrap was mostly of rare chinchilla, with a trimming of purple brocaded

The extravagant headdresses were a disappointment to most of the feminine part of the audience, for they were too large to be graceful, but Gaby at least deserves the credit of starting the idea of wearing the fancy tulle and aigrette headdresses now being worn by nearly all of the actresses on the stage, and at nearly all of the weddings, not even excepting the White House wedding, and it has been discovered that a stunning and becoming headdress adds the finishing touch to an elaborate costume.

Together were Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Kinsler and Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Kennedy. Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Nash and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Westbrook were together.

Visitors Return Home for Holidays. Attractive visitors in Omaha have been the Inspiration for most of the entertain ing during the last few weeks, but quite a number are planning to return home for the holidays. Mrs. Olive Latta Watson of Lincoln, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gould Dietz, this week, has offnire, and returned this morning to Misa Evelyn Stickney, another attactive guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dietz, leaves this week for her home in Minne apolis after being much entertained dur ing the last few weeks. Mrs. Lillian Jacobs of Littleton, Colo., guest of Miss Lynn Curtis, will be honor guest at some social affair each day of her stay, but will leave Friday for the west.

Among the institutions represented in the Social Settlement, which will receive the proceeds of the sale of an attractive assortment of beautiful and useful articles made by the girls' camp club and the women's club of the settlement. Three churches also present tempting displays of goods suitable for Christmas gifts, and all enjoyed a liberal patronage from many visitors and friends.

The goods offered for sale by the women range in character from Mexican baskets to ginger snaps, from German Christmas cake to guest towels and from artificial apple blossoms to interesting books for children. A large display of fancy work and aprens was also a center of popularity, and a number of handsomely dressed dolls were also sold. Miss Ella M. Stoddard Unable to Get Resolution for Pipe Line Presented

A resolution prepared by E. Stoddard, 2001 Ohio street, and submitted to the clent to go on and complete the entire church building next year, there is resolutions' committee of the Farmers' enough to give it a good start and, after this is done, Mr. Loomis is of the congress in convention in Omaha, has created considerable comment. This resoutlen recommended that the states of Nebraska and Wyoming put in a pipe line from the Wyoming oli fields to the Missouri river, 600 mlles, thus supplying fuel to Nebraskans direct from its source Stoddard, in his resolution, said the cor trusties have had a number of offers on the ground, but up to this time have of such a pipe, two feet in diameter, that would flow 10,000,000 gollons of oil every twenty-four hours, would be $3,000 per mile, and that each inhabitant of Nebraska could secure eight gallons of

Already Has Stirred the Keenest Interest

The end of the first week of the M. & M. voting contest shows a large number of nominees already entered to compete for the various prizes.

The generous voting value placed on the different products and the largo number of merchants who issue voting coupons make it easy to secure votes. One of the attractive features of this big contest is the fact that all of the manufactured products listed are leaders in their respective lines. Everyone knows the high quality of Calumet baking powwhile Parmer's coffees, tens and spices need no introduction to the buying public of Omaha and the surrounding country. Wherever soap is used Swift's products have a permanent demand. T C. Brunner & Sons, flour jobbers, handle flour brands that are noted for their superiority. In fact, the Brunner brands are so numerous that they can be had from practically every grocer in the territory covered by the contest. The voting value on all of these different brands of flour is very generous. The man who smokes knows that no better cigar than the Lawrence Barrett can be had for the price-10 cents. The ladies who are competing for the handsome prizes are already talking Lawrence Barrett to their men folk. When one thinks of quality, cleanliness and all of the goodness that goes to make a delisoda biscult, Iten's Fairy Soda comes first. All of the Iten products are listed in the M. & M. contest. When contestants fail to buy them, it means the loss of lots of votes. In The Bee Contest Reporter will be found the names of many other manufactured goods-all high grade-on which votes are given. The names of these products and the voting value on each are published from time to time in The Bee. The Bee's M. & M. voting contest will be one of the big events of the winter. The interest already shown is proof that the race for votes will be keen and ex-

Council Recommends Passage of Amended Match Ordinance

Parlor matches, accidental conflagrations, insurance and kindred subjects occupied the time of the city commission in committee of the whole, when the Commercial club's ordinance prohibiting the sale of non-safety matches came up for recommendation. The council recommended the passage of the ordinance. W. F. Taube, the local manager of a match manufacturing company, protested against the passage of the ordinance. declaring the situation was covered by a new federal law which prohibits the manufacture of the ordinary match after January 1, 1914, and prohibits the sale of the same after January 1, 1915.

Representatives of the Commercial club said the ordinance was requested at the instance of insurance men who believed it would materially lessen the number of fires. Police Commissioner Ryder moved that the ordinance be amended so that it would not go into effect until April, and this amendment was carried. The measure will be passed at the regular council

Court House to Be Decorated for Big Tree Celebration

Elaborate decoration of the court house building in Christmas greens will be a feature of the municipal Christmas eve celebration, according to a decision of the Board of County Commissioners. The entire front of the big building will be appropriately festooned with the greens, which will add greatly to the general ap pearance of the square, with the giant Christmas tree in the center. The tree itself will arrive in Omaha tomorrow morning and will be set up and decorated with incandescent lights by the electric light company.
