Joe Tinker offers an allid for Jimmy Callahan in letting Winnebago Johnson go. Tinker says it was not because Callahan did not consider Johnson a good pitcher, but because he has the same style as Lange and Bens and that Callahan wanted variety. How would you like to have a whole staff of pitchers, all pitching with the same style of delivery that Waiter Johnson has?

Fans Boast Williams. They say the bleacherites made it so hot for Gus Williams in the Southern league because he dropped a fly ball that he couldn't stand it and that is why he jumped Montgomery, but St. Louis fans pardon any muffs as long as Gus continues to hit the ball like he has been doing.
