SCHOOL AND COLLEGE WORK

What Becomes of Our American College Graduates? MARKED CHANGE IN LIFE WORK (Closing Days of Schools Marked with Usual Commencement Activities—Educational News.) What becomes of our American college graduates? There have been great changes in the kinds of work that college-trained men have entered since the beginning of higher education in America with the founding of Harvard university 267 years ago. These changes of two and a half centuries are set forth in a way that gives many interesting revelations in a little book published by the bureau of education of the Department of the Interior called "Professional Distribution of College and University Graduates." At the start nearly three-fourths of the young men graduated from college entered the ministry. A century later, when there were more colleges and many more students, the ministry was still far in the lead over any other profession, but the percentage had fallen to forty-five. In the next century the legal profession came far to the fore, but in the last quarter of the nineteenth century the teaching profession led. With the dawn of the twentieth century, the preachers, who were 70 per cent in 1845, are now less than 5 per cent. Taking three periods a century apart the following percentages are given:

	1845-1865	1865-1885	1885-1905
Ministry	1000	1700	1000
Law	100	214	539
Medicine	100	214	539
Education	47	57	257
Business	4	3	18
Public service	3	1	1

The results were obtained by a careful study of all the available records of thirty-seven of the leading colleges and universities of the United States. The great technical schools, all of them of colonial and recent origin, are not included, and this fact should be remembered for the statistics they would furnish would certainly greatly increase the showing of the engineering professions.

CHADRON STATE NORMAL. Elaborate Program Arranged for Commencement Week. The exercises of commencement week will begin Monday, May 18, at the Loomer opera house, at 11 a. m., where Dr. Shepherd, pastor of the First Congregational church of Lincoln, will address the patrons, faculty and students of the Normal. The model school entertainment will be given at the Normal building, Thursday evening, May 22. The exercises for graduating the class of 1913 will take place on Friday morning at 10 o'clock, May 23, at the Loomer opera house, at which time the usual address will be given by Dr. T. W. Jeffreys, pastor of St. Paul's church, Lincoln, and diploma and certificates presented to the candidates. Music will be furnished by the Glee clubs, in charge of Miss Copeland, of the music department. On Saturday, the Normal Dramatic club, assisted by the Girls' Athletic association, gave the great Greek tragedy, "The Antigone." This is a play of the highest order, written by Sophocles over 2500 years ago. Over thirty-five girls took part. Mrs. Rustin, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Watson, and Miss Frazier, entertained the faculty informally at a 6 o'clock tea, last Saturday. The decorations were in delect shades. The seniors and sophomores, with their sponsors, Prof. and Mrs. Philpott, went to Bordeaux for a picnic last Thursday, where they spent the day in outdoor sport and "jaunts." Meals were prepared in true pioneer style over camp fires.

BELLEVEUE COLLEGE. Oratorical Contest, Examinations and Commencement Recital. The annual Haskell oratorical was held last Friday evening in the Presbyterian church, and was won by Phillip Johnson, of the freshman class; second honor went to Charles Budwig, a sophomore. J. D. Examination will commence in two weeks in the majority of courses and will continue through the first week in June. The time intervening is being devoted to review in the balance of the classes. The students of the music and dramatic departments are busy preparing for the annual commencement recital to be given during commencement week. Interest in these departments is centering upon this event, which will terminate the work of the year.

HASTINGS COLLEGE. Prize Winners in the Temperance Oratorical Contest. The decision of the judges in the temperance oratorical contest was announced early last week. Ray Crawford, '13, won first place, with "Alcohol and Public Health" as his subject, and Stephen Weyer, '14, with "The Alcohol Evil and the Principle of Prohibition," and Chris Rimer, '14, with "Personal Liberty or Individual Obligation," ranked second and third. The General Assembly committee on temperance offers two prizes of $15 and $10 for the first and second orations. Misses Kelley, Rosell and Carey, members of the senior class, entertained a number of women at a Kensington Monday afternoon. Van Buren is enjoying a visit from his father, who arrived in the city on Wednesday evening. Dr. A. C. Planchon of the department of education delivered an illustrated lecture on Italy and Italian art Friday in the normal chapel. The lecture was well attended and enjoyed by all. Prof. C. N. Anderson of the department of history and economics attended the Mississippi Valley Historical association as Omaha last week and gave the school a very instructive report on the work of the association in a chapel talk on Tuesday.

AD MEN ARE COMING MONDAY

Will Hold a Two Days' Convention at the Paxton Hotel. BANQUET TO BE SPEECHLESS Omaha Newspapers Will Entertain Visitors at the Field Club Without Any Attending Addresses. Delegates and visitors attending the annual convention of the Northwest division of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, which will be held here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, will be royally entertained, according to plans of the Omaha Ad club's convention committee. Probably the most elaborate entertainment feature of the ad club convention will be the dinner given the visiting delegates and guests at the Field club Tuesday evening by the Omaha daily papers, the News, Bee and World-Herald. The dinner will be "speechless," but between the courses several musical selections, vaudeville sketches and cabaret numbers will be interspersed. The newspapers are giving the dinner for the visitors only, and members of the Omaha Ad club, who attend will be charged $1.50 a plate. Tuesday noon the visitors will be entertained by M. E. Smith & Co. at luncheon at the Commercial club, and in the afternoon will be taken over the city in automobiles, first going through the principal retail and wholesale districts, then over the business district through the tornado district, and will stop at the Field club for the cabaret dinner. Some changes have been made in the program as originally planned by the ad club's executive committee. A. K. Hammond of New York, who was to talk on "Co-operation Between Local Distributor and National Advertiser," has sent word that he is unable to attend, but Ballard Dunn of Chicago, an advertiser of national reputation, has been added to the program. Mr. Dunn will speak on "Painted Ads That Pull." Telegrams were sent Friday night to every club in the northwest ad club division, and from the replies received Saturday, President Manley does not think that the hope of the club to have 100 visitors are too optimistic. The program for the convention follows: TUESDAY MORNING. 9:30—Registration at Paxton hotel. 10:30—Address of welcome on behalf of city, Mayor J. Dahlman. Address of welcome on behalf of Omaha Ad club, H. H. Manley, president Omaha Ad club. Address of welcome on behalf of state, Lieutenant Governor R. R. McKelvey. Response and address, Allen D. Albert of Minneapolis. Appointment of committees. Noonday luncheon at Commercial club. TUESDAY AFTERNOON. 2:30—"How to Eliminate the 30 per cent Waste in the Retailer's Advertising Appropriation." A. G. Newell of Des Moines, Ia. Round table discussion to follow. "Letters that Bring Business." Charles E. Duffie, advertising manager M. E. Smith & Co. "Painted Ads that Pull." Harwood, secretary Associated Advertising Clubs of Iowa. "To What Extent Can a Local Distributor Co-operate with National Advertiser?" A. K. Hammond of New York. Round table discussion. WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON. Unfinished business; reports of committees; election of officers; selection of next meeting place; ball game at Rourke park. Most Prompt and Effective Care for Bad Colds. Tornado Overtakes Railway Motor Car

M. O. Worrell, a traveling salesman of Wahoo, tells an interesting tale of the race between the tornado which struck Seward Wednesday evening and the Central City motor car of the Union Pacific. The tornado won the race, but luckily injured the passengers of the motor but slightly. Mr. Worrell, who received several pieces of glass in his leg, was operated on at St. Joseph's hospital Monday morning. "We were just nearing Agnew," said Mr. Worrell last night "when we noticed the skies get dark. Soon we saw the twister and knew what it was. The motorman did not stop at Agnew as we thought he would but kept on going at a rate of about twenty-five miles an hour. Just after we left Agnew we saw the cloud separate and then thought we were safe. We had just begun to congratulate ourselves when the skies darkened suddenly and the next thing we knew glass was crashing; huge pieces of wood came hurtling through the air and for a few seconds, I thought my time had come." Mr. Worrell said several persons on the car were injured by flying glass, but none seriously. He said the motorman of the car did not stop and advances the theory that it was this fact alone which kept the car on the tracks. Had the motorman stopped the car, Mr. Worrell says, it would undoubtedly have been swept off the rails. Riddles. What is that which you break if you ever name it? Answer: A promise. Why are records brittle things? Because they cannot be lowered without breaking. What sort of face does an auctioneer like best? One that is forbidding. Why should an umbrella like a person convalesce? When it is recovered. What is that which we never borrow, yet often return? Thanks.—Montreal Star.

"First Class" That's How You Travel When You Ride in a Chalmers Car

Thousands and thousands of people every day pay extra money to travel "first class" on ships and trains. "First class" means that you have the roomiest and most comfortable berth, or that you ride in the strongest and smoothest running train. A "first class" ticket also means that every precaution has been taken for your safe delivery at your destination. You travel "first class" when you ride in your Chalmers. You can buy a cheaper car than the Chalmers. But it won't have the features of comfort, beauty, convenience, and mechanical excellence which make the Chalmers "first class." The "first class" Chalmers has big, roomy bodies with Turkish cushions and 11-inch upholstery. It has extra large wheels and tires. It has a smooth running, powerful long stroke motor. It has a four-forward speed transmission with ground gears of the finest steel. It has long, flexible springs. It has axles of nickel steel, and brakes twenty-five times as large in proportion to weight as those of a locomotive. It has all controls centered on the cowl dash. It is fully equipped. These are the things you cannot get below the Chalmers price. These are the features which make the Chalmers "first class." You may "save" $300 to $500 on the original purchase price of your car, but you will lose many times that amount by missing the satisfactory service, the comfort, the convenience, the pride of ownership, which you get in a Chalmers. It is a genuine quality car at a medium price. It costs less to travel in the "first class" Chalmers than in any other car approaching it in quality.

MARVELOUS

is the word that will adequately express the manner in which Omaha has rebuilt after the great Easter storm.

Hundreds of homes were completely wrecked; others were so badly damaged that they could not be used. Within six weeks after this storm the rebuilding work had been started on fully 80 per cent of all the homes and many had been replaced. No city in the world ever showed such vim.

Wrecked in a Night Rebuilt in a Day

A 32-page book with clear illustrations, which The Bee has just issued, shows how the city has been rebuilt. Views are given of the tornado zone of places as they appeared on the day after the storm, and then as they looked six weeks later.
