

COLLEGE LIFE IN FREMONT

Active Demand for the Talent of Popular School.

GUESTS, VISITORS AND WEDDING

Contribution of Students to Entertainment of Grand Army—Graduation Days and Summer Session.

The faculty members of Fremont college have been very much in demand during the last week for commencement addresses.

Superintendent F. R. Beers of the David City schools was a guest at the college Thursday evening and at 7:45 o'clock addressed the critic class in Union hall.

Mr. Beers is a most entertaining speaker and gave the students some splendid points in pedagogy and made a thoroughly practical and interesting address.

Superintendent F. A. Stech of David City enroute to Omaha, visited the college for a short time and was interested in meeting some of the prospective teachers.

Miss Anna V. Day, assistant state superintendent, was a welcome college visitor Tuesday and Wednesday. Miss Day was present at the critic Tuesday evening and talked to the students on the "Personality of the Teacher."

The home of Mrs. Maxwell was the scene of a very pretty wedding last Wednesday at high noon when Adrian Brian and Miss Elizabeth Jones were united in marriage.

The music for the Grand Army of the Republic state encampment, held in Fremont during the last week, was directed by Prof. Weeks of the voice department.

Misses Carlsson and Blaser were largely attended and much appreciated by music lovers. These young ladies were assisted by Miss Adah Lukken and Messrs. Buck and Tranchesi.

Edward Emil Hanel of the expression department gave a reading for the Union Commercial Travelers' convention Friday evening, May 16 Saturday evening Mr. Hanel read for an entertainment at Clarkson, Neb.

Miss Eva Essminger entertained the Young Woman's Christian association this Thursday evening in the Young Woman's Christian association parlors.

J. Gilbert Grau, scientific class 1913, has been elected to the superintendency of the Napier schools for next year at a good salary.

Ray Chase of Waterbury, Neb., and Adrian Brian of Columbus, Neb., both former students, were college visitors this week.

Miss Carrie Stein of Miltonville, Kan., entered the college last week to begin a course in shorthand. Miss Stein is a most promising young lady and a teacher of experience.

The college campus is quite the pride of the students and shows plainly the artistic touch of the gardener.

A large number of former students are occupying rooms in the college dormitory for the summer term which opens June 10.

Jewel West, superintendent of the Wauwata schools, is expected in Fremont the 31st. Mr. West is on his way to Indiana, where he will spend several weeks, after which he will return to the college and remain next year for the completion of the classic course.

BARBERS MAY GO ON STRIKE

Question to Be Settled by Union Men Next Monday Night.

STATED WAGE IS THE DEMAND

No Money for the Journeymen Barber Since the Bosses Have Cut the Price from Fifteen to Ten Cents.

Union barbers in Omaha contemplate going on a strike during the next few weeks for higher wages. A meeting is to be held next Monday night at the Labor temple to decide upon final action.

There are 130 union barbers working in some thirty-five shops. If a strike is called all the shops in Omaha will be badly crippled.

Barbers are paid a commission. There is no fixed salary and a ten-hour day with fourteen hours on Saturday. The union men want a guarantee of $14 a week.

At present, under existing conditions, the average salary of the barber is in the neighborhood of $12 per week, according to one member of the union.

The barbers' organization has been threshing out the wage question for some months. A strike would have been called six months ago, one member stated, but the union was not in good condition.

Since the cut in the price of a shave from 15 to 10 cents by a local shop several barbers working in this establishment have revolted against the low wages.

longer defensible. "We earnestly desire the restoration of the republican party to full strength and power. Its principles are sound, wise and patriotic and the body of the party will apply those principles to the conditions of modern times in an enlightened, unselfish way if they have a fair opportunity to do so.

To give them this fair opportunity is the sole object of our request. So long as the voting republicans in certain sections of the country have from eighty to fifty times greater representation in a national convention than the voting republicans in other sections of the country, it cannot be said that the act of the convention is the act of the majority and discount followed by revolt are the natural results.

Need of Revision. "The existing rule promulgated by a convention held thirty years ago, relating to the manner of selecting delegates needs revision. Some of the states have passed primary laws and others will pass them that are not in harmony with the rule and some provision must be made that will remove the conflict. We content ourselves by stating what seems to be an obvious conclusion: That we must either accept these primary laws or we shall have no republican following in the states which have enacted them."

"We believe that it is more logical that republican national committeemen should assume office prior, rather than submit to future regular republican national conventions. We believe that some method should be devised and put into effect before the next regular republican national convention which marked the seating of delegates in past republican national conventions should be reduced to a minimum and settled without heat and partisanship which have so often marked them."

Favor Early Action. "We have pointed out these matters in order to show how essential it is that there shall be a readjustment prior to the call for the convention of 1914, indeed prior to the campaign of 1914. The country ought to know before there is another alignment that these changes have been made."

"We cannot hope that republicans will agree upon every question, but we can hope that they will agree upon the vital doctrines of government and that the will of a majority of the primary voters, fairly expressed and faithfully executed, will establish such policies and install such leadership as will command the confidence and enlist the support of that great army which has so long marched under the republican banner."

BASINS TO AWAIT DECISION

Howell Decides Not to Build at Florence at This Time.

OLD BASINS MAY BE ENOUGH

If Packers Are Permitted to Secure Water from the Stock Yards System Enlargements Will Not Be Needed.

Fearing the South Omaha packers may ultimately be granted the right to secure water from a plant constructed by the stock yards company, the Omaha Water board has postponed any definite action on construction of settling basins and new reservoirs at the Minnelusa station.

Numerous secret sessions of the board have been held and the matter discussed. The continued delay of construction of the settling basins is attributed by those in a position to know to the fear that the packers will be given the best of the case if the South Omaha controversy is taken to the courts.

Plans were made by Water Commissioner Howell to immediately build reservoirs at Minnelusa, beginning basins that would, when completed, duplicate the present capacity. These will not be needed if the packers are given permission to secure water from the stock yards company, and with the discontinuing of the South Omaha business the plan would be adequate to supply all Omaha consumers.

CUTTING OUT WORD "OBEY"

Militant Attack on Anglican Marriage Service in Use in England.

An extraordinary manifesto against the moral indignities to women contained in the Anglican marriage service has been drawn up by the Spiritual Militancy league, and is to be sent to every clergyman of the Church of England, and to all persons whose engagement is announced in the daily papers.

Altogether fifteen "indignities" are quoted. The first is contained in the words "obey him and serve him," which the bride is required to repeat, while the bridegroom is not called upon to profess any equivalent deference or subordination. The manifesto states:

"This indignity can be removed either by the deletion of the words 'obey him and serve him' or by the insertion of 'obey her and serve her' in the corresponding formula to be said by the bridegroom. Wise and good husbands find as many occasions to obey and serve as do wives."

The second complaint is the question, "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" while no corresponding question is put concerning the man.

"This indignity can be removed either by omitting the existing question or by adding to it, 'Who giveth this man to be married to this woman?' The present one-sided 'giving away' is a humiliating survival of a (false) status for women."

Three Gold Medal Winners in Creighton Eloquence Contest

LEFT TO RIGHT—VALENTINE ROCHE, SECOND HIGH A, WINNER IN THE FIRST DIVISION; CROMER COADY, FOURTH HIGH A, WINNER IN THE THIRD DIVISION; CLIFFORD LONG, THIRD HIGH B, WINNER IN SECOND DIVISION.

Three Omaha boys won the gold medals in the Creighton eloquence contest. The students of the high school department of Creighton college of arts, they are J. Valentine Roche, Clifford Long and Cromer Coady. Each won the gold medal in his division. J. Valentine Roche, second year high student, won first place in the first division, competing with students of the freshman and sophomore high school classes. Roche spoke "The Old Man and Jim," and took the house by storm. He was trained for the contest by Gerald LaViolette, a freshman in the college department, who won a medal on the same selection a year before. Clifford Long, third year high, won first in the second division, contesting with students of his own class. He spoke "The Dandy Fifth." Cromer Coady, fourth year high, won first in the senior division, competing with students of his own class. He spoke "Prince." Coady also has a reputation as an athlete, and plays second base on the varsity base ball team. Leo T. Pass, winner of the gold medal in the college section, is the only medal winner not residing in Omaha. His home is at North Platte, Neb. The medals will be conferred on the students at the annual undergraduate exercises held in the university auditorium next month by President Eugene A. Magevney, S. J. They will be donated by various business firms.

FAIRBURY WATER COMMISSIONER RESIGNS

FAIRBURY, Neb., May 24.—(Special.)—G. D. Meyer, city light and water commissioner of Fairbury, has handed in his resignation to take effect September 1. Mayor Houston will appoint E. G. Campbell of Crete to the position.

The Jefferson County Sunday School convention is called to meet at the Christian church in Fairbury on May 26 and concludes on the following day. W. H. Kimberly, state worker, gives the opening address. Monday night Dr. Orrill, district superintendent of the Beatrice district of the Methodist Episcopal conference, will close the session with an address. Memorial day exercises will be held Sunday, May 25, at the Catholic church. Rev. John J. Carey will deliver the memorial sermon.

Cozad Student Killed by a Pitched Ball

COZAD, Neb., May 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Yesterday during a match game between the Grand Island and Cozad High schools, Vance Faught, a member of Cozad's team, was struck at the base of the ear by a pitched ball, resulting in internal hemorrhage and death at 10 o'clock last night. Vance Faught was the 19-year-old son of T. W. Faught and was junior member of the T. W. Faught & Son Real Estate company of Cozad.
