Mezzotint Collection at Hospels Store is One of Variety

Mezzotinting, which now has become one of the most popular forms of art, is distinguished by its lack of lines. Instead of the boldness of other art, it has soft outlines, unbounded by lines, masses of light and shade. The difference caused by this is one not only of effect, but also of means. In both wood engraving and line engraving on copper the engraver works from light to dark, puts in lines to produce various degrees of shadow, various suggestions of local color, or of texture, and leaves the plate untouched where he wants the high lights to appear. The mezzotinter, however, works from dark to light. Since mezzotinting is an art which is not hampered by precision, it affords great scope for the display of individual style, of personal expression, and this despite the fact that mezzotinting has been so essentially a reproductive art. Some of the creations of the mezzotinter are so beautiful that admirers have characterized them as rich paintings. Mezzotints are now very popular and many Omaha homes have collections of them. At the Hospel store one of the best showings in the middle west is to be seen.

PACIFIC SCHOOL PUPILS VISIT STATE UNIVERSITY

With money saved in little sums ranging from a penny to 25 cents, eighth grade B pupils of Pacific school will go to Lincoln June 4 and spend a day studying the work at the university and at the state farm. This trip will be taken instead of holding a class day. Miss Lizzie Baker, principal, and Superintendent E.

U. Graff will go with the pupils. Seventeen will graduate from the eighth grade of Pacific school. All will take this trip.

School Board May Not Hold Election

An election to fill the vacancy on the Board of Education caused by the resignation of M. F. Sears may not be held, and it is possible that no successor will be appointed, according to President E. Helovitchner of the board. Carl Herring, attorney for the board, is investigating the statutes to find out if it is necessary for the school district to call an election this fall in case the state holds no such election. "If we do not hold an election," said Helovitchner, "the three members who are to retire in January will hold over for another year. I'm up in the air about it now and do not know what will be done." Members Foster, Leavenworth and Jacobson are to retire in January unless they hold over without an election.

NEW AWNING COMPANY IS READY FOR BUSINESS

Equipped to make anything in canvas from a small window awning to a circus tent and carrying a large stock of patterns the Gate City Tent and Awning company has opened a factory at 24-1/2 South Twelfth street. The business is in charge of W. H. Laubach and C. A. Bowers, both men of much experience in this line of work. The plant is being worked to full capacity in an effort to fill the large orders that are pouring in for awnings and porch curtains.

Hunt Invents the Little Meter Hand

A little red enamel hand on a water meter—on all water meters used in Omaha—is the invention of Superintendent A. B. Hunt of the water plant, who began to advocate the need of the little indicator twenty-three years ago. Meter manufacturing companies persistently refused to construct meters with this dial and Hunt has had them manufactured in the shops of the plant. The hand moves once completely around to ever cubic foot of water passing through the meter. By looking at it the consumer knows at once whether the meter is working or not, and if working whether it is spinning around at an unusual rate.

Omaha Club Talks of New Bond Issue

A plan to refund the existing indebtedness of the Omaha club into one mortgage bond issue of $50,000 is under consideration by the board of directors. The present indebtedness consists partly of a mortgage loan and partly of notes, representing purchase of additional property. A meeting of the members of the club has been called for 8 p. m. Thursday, June 12, to pass on the recommendations of the board.

The Unexpected. The office boy opened the door and looked in. "My grandmother," he began. "Bah!" snorted the boss. "Has just died." "Wow!" yelled the boss. "Has just died and left me a lot of money—and I've resigned. See?" And he softly closed the door.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
