JAPANESE SPEAKERS COUNSEL PATIENCE IN 'FRISCO ADDRESS

Express Belief Harmony Will Follow Negotiations Proceeding Between U. S. and Nippon.

URGE AGAINST RADICAL ACTION "Tooth for a Tooth and Eye for Eye, Mistaken Policy."

SHOULD MINIMIZE ILL FEELING

America Advised to Open Doors and Welcome Orientals.

ALIEN LAND BILL DEPLORED

"It is Discrimination to Which We Object," Asserts Yellow Speaker Visiting California in Search of Information.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 1.—Counseling patience, urging that nothing radical be done and expressing a belief that harmony would follow the negotiations now proceeding between Japan and the American government, regarding the enactment of the anti-alien land law, the Japanese envoys who recently arrived in Sacramento talked to 1,600 of their countrymen on the lawn of the Buddhist temple here last night.

Dr. Soyeda, members of the Japanese party; Dr. Soyeda, representing the Japanese business men; T. Kamiya, secretary of an immigration association of Japan, and Y. Yamoto, secretary of the Tokio Young Men's Christian association, were the speakers. H. Kishi, a director of the Nippon bank of Sacramento, presided.

"Japanese in America and in Japan should realize that the 'tooth for a tooth and eye for an eye' feeling is a mistaken policy," said Dr. Soyeda. "It is the duty of everyone concerned to minimize whatever feeling now exists.

"America should open her doors and welcome us. America asked us to maintain the 'open door' in Manchuria and Japan did. It is discrimination to which Japan objects.

"The three-year clause in the land law shows how close the bill comes to violating the spirit of the treaty. It stopped at the very edge of the line. That such a law and such a clause was enacted is a cause of great regret."

Strict attention was paid to the speakers. Applause and cheering was frequent. Throughout all the speeches the audience was orderly.

Dr. Soyeda leaves in company with Blamya for nearby towns and southern California. After inspecting the Japanese settlements in those sections he plans to return to San Francisco and will immediately for Japan to give his opinion to the business men of Japan.

Anti-Saloon Men Prepare to Start Their Campaign

During the early part of this month the Nebraska Anti-Saloon league intends to open its campaign in various parts of the state for certain measures it hopes to initiate under the initiative and referendum law at the 1914 election. Chief among the propositions, the league will put up is the proposition to have saloons voted out of all territory lying within a radius of two miles from any state educational institution.

The plan of immediate campaign is said to be to hold a number of rallies or meetings in some of the leading towns throughout the state, where Anti-Saloon league speakers will deliver addresses setting forth what they hope to do along this line. They will then circulate their petitions among the crowds, and will have copies of the petition with the leading anti-saloon people of the town to be circulated in order to get the necessary number of signatures to get their proposition on the ballot at the election of 1914.

PRESIDENT NEBRASKA STATE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

EDITORS AND THE MINISTERS

Occupy the Same Platform in an Open Discussion.

QUASI DEBATE ON MERITS

Rev. J. A. Jenkins Suggests Cooperation, but for Each to Stick to His Respective Cast—Bixby is Humorous.

Three editors and three ministers discussed "The Pulpit and the Press—How They Can Co-operate" at the Young Men's Christian association Sunday afternoon before a body of men, among whom a few women had gathered to give tone to the assemblage.

The discussion, though it was not so intended, rather took the turn of a quasi-debate of the relative merits of the two institutions. The first speaker, Rev. J. A. Jenkins, D. D., pastor of St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church, Omaha, struck the line of cleavage, much to the acceptance of all and sounded what was thought to be the keynote of the discussion. He closed his remarks by suggesting that, while co-operating, the general interests probably could be best served by the editor and the preacher sticking to their respective casts.

The first editor to speak, Cecil Mathews of Riverton, in a very amiable manner expressed the belief that Dr. Jenkins had not "hit hard enough," and so he dealt a few blows from his corner. From then on until the happy Bixby closed the speech-making it ran along lines of good-natured cross-firing, the preachers and editors checking each other up on their professional shortcomings. The occasion was fraught by a most happy spirit of fellowship, and after the meeting another was held in the dining room on the first floor, where editors and preachers took their feet under the same table and did common justice to refreshments.

The other speakers were: Editors, Don Van Dusen of the Blair Pilot and the well-known A. L. Bixby of the Lincoln State Journal, whose remarks were tacitly seasoned with a combination of wit and wisdom; ministers, Rev. A. D. Harmon, D. D., of the First Christian church, Omaha and Rev. A. C. Douglas, D. D., of the Central United Brethren church. James B. Wootan of The Bee and also a member of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian association presided. Rev. Hugh B. Speer, D. D., pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Omaha, read the scripture, Isaiah, fifty-eighth chapter, and Rev. M. O. McLaughlin of the First United Brethren church offered the opening prayer.

RIOTERS IN BLUFFS TO FACE GRAND JURY

Iowa, Law Imposes Heavy Term for Obstruction of Justice.

JUDGE'S CHARGE IS SEVERE

Mob Spirit is Denounced by Court in Vigorous Manner.

LAW MUST BE ENFORCED

Told to Indict All Against Whom Evidence Exists.

INTENT CONSTITUTES CRIME

"This Sort of Violence Strikes Directly at Root of Government Itself," is Instruction to Inquisitorial Body.

Judge O. D. Wheeler Saturday denounced the mob which brought disgrace upon Council Bluffs as he put into operation the machinery of the Iowa law that will seek to punish many of them. When district court convened yesterday morning at Council Bluffs, he instructed the grand jury, which he had called into special session on the previous afternoon, to indict as many members of the mob as could be proven to have taken part in the outrages committed Thursday night.

In vigorous words he denounced the leaders of the mob who demanded and were given permission to enter and search the city and county jails for the avowed purpose of committing murder and any other degree of felony required, and declared that if the time had come when such things were to be condoned we might as well tear down our flag and destroy our court house.

Most Enforce the Law. The judge told the jurors that they had been called together for the special purpose of indicting as felons all members of the mob against whom evidence could be secured. He stated and explained the statutes prohibiting rioting and told the jurors that if they could find any persons who aided, abetted or encouraged the lawless assemblage or in any manner took part in it, they must indict these persons for felony that the law prescribed to be of such a degree of enormity that it attached a penalty of twenty years' imprisonment to it.

He told the jurors that no actual crime need be committed to constitute guilt. Assembling in a mob with intent to commit crime is a crime in itself.

"This sort of violence strikes directly at the root of government itself," said Judge Wheeler. "Nothing is safe if it is permitted. If one man's property is to be destroyed in this manner, yours and mine is in equal jeopardy. If one life is to be taken in an outburst of brutal passion in defiance of all law, no life is safe. Governments must be abrogated and man returned to primitive savagery, where the strong brute alone survives with the weak but probably better members as his victims. The men who came to the county jail and demanded the right to enter and search it and later to compel the overpowered officers of the law to open the court house and the city jail for the same purpose, were guilty of a degree of crime for which the laws of civilization have provided heavy punishment."

Every man who marched through the streets shouting encouragement to those who were engaged in destroying property was as guilty as those who destroyed property and sought human life. The men engaged in these riotous proceedings can be apprehended and punished, and I can see no reason why many of the guilty persons should not be brought to justice.

Judge Wheeler pointedly told the grand jury that if any person approached them and in any manner attempted to influence them or to attempt to report it to him, "and no man will have a chance to do a thing like that if my attention is called to it," he said with emphasis. He called attention to the fact that it should make no difference to the grand jury and the grand jury should influence them or to attempt to report it to him, "and no man will have a chance to do a thing like that if my attention is called to it," he said with emphasis.

Will Ask Requisitions. In relation to the report that some of the most dangerous members of the mob were from South Omaha, Judge Wheeler said it should make no difference to the findings of the jury. "We shall find means to bring them into this court for trial if the jury finds the evidence against them sufficient to warrant indictment," said the judge.

Judge Wheeler also instructed the jury to inquire into the murder of Howard Jones and the charge of murder placed against Francisco Guddie, alias Henry Wiley.

The juryman retired at once to their deliberations.

Chicago Puts Ban on All Indecent Songs

His Anniversary of Fifty Years in Ministry Honored

Grateful appreciation of the lifework of Rev. Leonard Grob, pastor for the last sixteen years of St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church of Omaha, was voiced by speakers yesterday, when the fiftieth anniversary of the beginning of his service in the ministry was observed.

Special services and music marked the day at the church at Twentieth and Burdette streets. In the morning Rev. P. M. Troxel of Topeka, Kan., former president of Midland college of Atchison, Kan., talked to the congregation of the value to the world of such a life as Rev. Mr. Grob's taking as his theme, "How Shall They Hear Without a Preacher?" Rev. Peter M. Lindberg of Immanuel hospital, Rev. Adolph Holt, Dr. J. A. Jenkins and Rev. Carl Elving spoke briefly in the afternoon and Rev. Mr. Grob expressed heartfelt thanks for the honors paid him. In the evening Rev. C. J. Ringer of Benson, president of the Nebraska Lutheran synod, preached.

Before coming to Omaha Rev. Mr. Grob spent four years in Lincoln, coming there from Pennsylvania. He was ordained June 2, 1863, his first pastorate being at Quakerstown, Pa.

GUARD DENVER CITY OFFICES

Inoumbents Prepare to Keep New Administration Out.

ELECTION ASSERTED ILLEGAL

Recently Chosen Commissioners Will Meet and Elect Mayor in Street if Barred from Municipal Quarters.

DENVER, June 1.—Every municipal office in the city and county of Denver tonight is under heavy guard of uniformed and plain clothes policemen to frustrate any attempt of the newly elected commissioners to take possession of the city administration. Doors are barred and padlocked and pickets line the walks around the city hall and court house to inform those within of any approach of the commissioners.

Mayor Arnold, Sheriff Daniel M. Sullivan and Treasurer Allison Stoker, old administration officers, tonight issued a statement to the newly elected commissioners, declaring they would not surrender their offices until the validity of the commission form of government and the election in which it had been adopted, were upheld in a court decision and urged the new commissioners to meet in a test suit at once.

Mayor Arnold later issued a public statement giving his reasons for his desire not to relinquish office to the new commissioners. He gave the question of the commission form of government election as the reason, declaring that he believed he would be violating his trust to the public should he surrender the reins of government to illegally elected officials.

The members of the pathfinder route reported kept enthusiastic at every point along the line, particularly near Norfolk, Neb., where farmers and businessmen alike are in harmony, and have set June 9 as the second day on which they will all turn out for joint road improvement.

The markings on the road, black white and yellow, are in evidence and particularly near Norfolk, Neb., to Murdo, S. D. Through the Bad Lands of South Dakota the route runs via Cedar Pass, a marvel for those who like unique and prehistoric scenery.

It is expected that many tourists from Omaha, Des Moines, Lincoln and nearby points will this summer utilize this route to the Hills.

Pathfinder Cars Mark Route from Omaha to Deadwood

DEADWOOD, S. D., June 1.—(Special.)—In two cars which acted as pathfinders, Congressman Eben W. Martin, Mrs. Martin, W. H. Bonham, former newspaper publisher, C. F. Peterson, a photographer, and H. B. Schlichting, president of the Deadwood Businessmen's club, all residents of this city, made the trip by auto over the new Omaha-Rosebud-Black Hills line. It was the first time autos had made the entire trip and it was made in four days without any mishap. The route is expected to establish better commercial relations between Omaha and the Black Hills country.

The party met with little trouble en route and found much enthusiasm on the trip than they had expected. Near Verdigris, Neb., they were obliged to leave the left-hand washed out bridges and from Verdigris went by way of Paige to Lynch and there rejoined the main road.

A big reception was given the travelers at Dallas where the business men turned out at an enthusiastic good roads meeting. Congressman Norris, Mr. Schlichting and Editor Bonham all made talks on the benefits to accrue from this new road and the Dallas citizens are anxious to start work at once. The Dallas Commercial club was particularly active in entertaining the pathfinders.

At Carter, S. D., President Rose of the Omaha-Black Hills route, took the visitors in hand and entertained them royally, and Editor Bonham all made talks on the benefits to accrue from this new road and the Dallas citizens are anxious to start work at once.

NEBRASKA EDITORS IN TOWN

Many Newspaper Men Occupy the Pulpits of Omaha Churches.

MEETING OPENS THIS MORNING

Business, Mixed with Pleasure, Will Be on the Program During the Stay Here This Week.

Editors of Nebraska are in Omaha by the hundreds today. Several scores of them arrived yesterday. Beginning today and lasting until Wednesday evening, here they are to hold the annual session of the Nebraska State Press association.

Many of the editors arrived early because they were scheduled to occupy the pulpits of Omaha churches Sunday morning, there to tell the congregations what the press of the state has done to elevate the morals of the state. They were bound to be prompt and they filled the pulpits in a very creditable way, drawing large congregations to hear their messages.

This morning the editors start their program at 9 o'clock at the Hotel Rome. They will hear a number of solos and musical selections, when the addresses of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Dahlman and C. C. Rosewater. President H. C. Taylor of Lincoln is scheduled to deliver the annual address at 10:15 this morning. Papers on subjects of interest to newspaper men will be read during the forenoon. The afternoon program is to open with a solo, after which A. B. Wood of the Gering Courier will conduct a round table. More papers will be read and discussed in the afternoon.

Business and Pleasure. The possibility of electing a paid and permanent secretary of the press association is to be taken up. This will be discussed this afternoon at 8:30 o'clock in the olive room at the Hotel Rome.

No less a program of entertainment than of business has been planned. At noon today the editors and their wives are to be the guests of the Omaha supply house at luncheon at the Hotel Rome. At 8:15 this evening there is to be a reception for the visiting women at the home of Mrs. H. E. Newbranch, 1922 South Thirty-third street.
