WOOL MAGNATE ACQUITTED

Verdict of Not Guilty Found in Case of W. M. Wood.

DISAGREEMENT AS TO ATTEAUX

Dennis J. Collins, Who Turned State's Evidence, is Convicted on Two Counts—Attempt Made to Corrupt Juror.

BOSTON, June 7.—After deliberating throughout the night the jury acquitted President William M. Wood of the American Woolen company of the charge of conspiracy to injure the textile strikers at Lawrence by "planting" dynamite. A disagreement in the case of Frederick E. Atteaux was reported. Dennis J. Collins, who turned state's evidence, was found guilty on two counts and not guilty on the other four counts of the indictment. The first count charged conspiracy to injure the textile strikers and the second conspiracy to injure unknown persons. The other counts alleged conspiracy against certain persons and a plot to damage property.

The case, one of the most sensational that has grown out of a dispute between capital and labor, was given to the jury at noon yesterday. The jurors began their deliberations at 3 o'clock, and when they failed to report at midnight, they were looked up for the night. Court reconvened at 9:30 this morning and the jury came in at 10 o'clock.

The foreman reported that Collins was guilty on the first two counts. Wood acquitted and that the jury had been unable to agree in the case of Atteaux. The court ordered that bail for Atteaux be renewed pending disposition of his case. Will Inquire Into Bribe Offer. Immediately when the verdict was announced, Attorney Henry F. Hulbert, counsel for Wood, asked the court to direct an investigation of the published statement that an attempt had been made to influence Morris Shuman, one of the jurors. Before the court made its charge yesterday Shuman was questioned by Judge John C. Crosby, District Attorney Joseph C. Pellitteri and counsel for the defense regarding a statement which he was said to have made recently to the district attorney.

This was to the effect that a man unnamed, had intimated to him that he might have a business position for life and $200 in cash if he voted "right." Upon assuring the court that he would not be influenced by the alleged attempt to bribe, Shuman was permitted to continue in the jury box.

Attorney Hulbert said that he wished the matter cleared up promptly in justice to all concerned. Judge Crosby stated that an inquiry would be begun before him next Wednesday and he instructed all the jurors to be present.

Court Hears Motion in Taxation Case

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 7.—(Special.)—All eyes are turned on the supreme court to see what its action will be on the motion for a rehearing on the bank taxation case, wherein the court at its recent sitting handed down an opinion exonerating banks and trust companies from being taxed on all real estate mortgages owned by them when listing capital stock for assessment.

The motion for a rehearing was argued by Deputy Attorney General Ayers before the court yesterday afternoon in behalf of the state, while T. J. Mahoney of Omaha and Judge Lincoln Frost opposed the motion.

The case was considered of sufficient importance so that the whole court of seven judges listened to the pleadings of the lawyers while many others interested in the law points, were present.

Mr. Ayers contended that if real estate mortgages owned by banks are deducted from the capital stock, the capital stock will escape assessment and the banks as a rule pay no tax because their mortgages usually exceed their capital stock.

Judge Letton wanted to know whether the capital stock of the deposits was invested in real estate by banks and was informed by Judge Frost that the funds were mixed together and loans made from the whole.

Mr. Mahoney said that if a bank starts with a capital stock of $50,000 and invests $25,000 in a bank building and the same amount in securities other than real estate mortgages, for instance, municipal bonds, and then he should deposit $50,000 in the bank and the bank should loan his deposit to Judge Fawcett on real estate, the state would be getting taxes on the $25,000 building, on the deposit in the bank and also on the $50,000 invested in the mortgage, the mortgagor having agreed to pay the mortgage tax, and in this way the state would be getting taxes on $125,000.

Judge Fawcett said it looked to him as if somebody was escaping taxation on $25,000, "because," he said to Mr. Mahoney, "if I have $50,000 worth of real estate and you have $50,000 in the bank and this money is loaned on my real estate, the transaction enables someone to escape paying on $25,000 of capital stock invested in municipal bonds."

The matter has been taken under advisement by the court and may not be given out until later.

Ross Wins Contest For Water Right

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 7.—(Special.)—The State Board of Irrigation this afternoon decided the Ross-Coad contest for the water right on the Platte river in favor of Ross. The board decided that Charles F. Ross had made prior filings on the site and consequently dismissed two claims of W. J. Coad covering the same right.

The claims covers the north side of the Platte river near North Bend and will develop about 10,000 horse power. Ross will have until September 1 to complete his project, although it is hardly possible that he can do so on account of the delay occasioned by the contest.

The board at the same sitting reapportioned Donald D. Price, the present state engineer, to that position. The vote was unanimous.

"I have decided that the manslaughter charge against the girl will not be pushed until next fall," said the county attorney. FRANK RILEY IS DROWNED

Canoe Capsizes as it Rounds Promontory at Carter Lake.

COMPANION GOES TO RESCUE

Herbert Schreiber Twice Placed Him on Craft and is Finally Saved Himself by Walter Reed, Colored.

Frank Riley, aged 35, special delivery carrier at the Omaha postoffice, residing at 414 North Twenty-seventh street, was drowned in Carter lake Saturday. Together with Herbert Schreiber, special delivery mail carrier, 321 South Seventeenth street, he had gone fishing in a canoe and while rounding into some rough water at the south end of the lake, near the end of the Illinois Central trestle, the craft capsized, throwing both into the water.

Schreiber was the better swimmer, and going to Riley's rescue placed him on the overturned canoe, telling him to hold to it. Riley was excited, however, and jumped back into the water. Schreiber again helped him to the boat and started for shore, but had hardly turned around when Riley dove off again and caught Schreiber in a kind of a strangle hold. As the two were struggling in the water Walter Reed, colored, 1226 Davenport street, was strolling along the shore and upon noticing them waded out into the lake and threw swim to their rescue. By the time he arrived Riley had exhausted himself and come down, but Reed succeeded in saving Schreiber, who was then on the verge of collapse.

Riley occupied a cottage at 1401 Ames avenue together with Schreiber and four other boys. He is survived by his father, one brother and two sisters.
