TORNADO DAMAGE A MILLION
Assessor Counsman Estimates That Amount Done Omaha Homes.
REDUCTION OVER TWO YEARS
Assessments Are to Be Lessened on This Year's County and on Next Year's City Tax Levy.
Damage done by the tornado to homes in Omaha amounted to nearly $1,000,000, according to official figures compiled by County Assessor Counsman, who personally went over the storm district to determine reductions in assessments of residence property.
Four hundred and sixty-one houses were totally destroyed, with a loss of $681,000, and 730 were damaged, causing a loss of $331,235. This makes a total of $1,012,235, but minor damages of from $5 to $100, which were not taken into account by the assessor in the cases of 400 or 500 more houses, bring the entire total near the million mark.
Assessor Counsman deducted $302,235 from the assessed value of improved property in the city. Persons who had restored their residences to their former condition were not assessed the value of the repairs, as Mr. Counsman held that they should not be penalized for making repairs promptly.

Will Receive Benefit.
Property owners whose buildings were damaged by the tornado will receive the benefit of the reduced assessments when they pay their county taxes for this year, but will not find any reductions in their city taxes until next year, since the city each year takes the county's valuations of the preceding twelvemonth.
Next year Assessor Counsman will go over the same district and raise the valuations according to the actual worth of the property and the city in turn the following year will take his valuations.
According to Assessor Counsman, property owners in Kountze place have been most prompt to repair damages. "That district looks 10 per cent better than it did before the tornado," he said; "in fact it did six weeks after the storm."
The Twenty-fourth and Lake district is being restored more slowly than any other. Mr. Counsman said, some parts of it still remaining almost as it was immediately after the storm.

Brave Bob Yields to Tenth Attempt Upon All His Lives
Bob, for many years at the United-Doelck drug store, Seventeenth and Farnam streets, committed suicide yesterday at 3 a. m. by jumping under the wheels of a speeding automobile at Sixteenth and Harney streets. This was Bob's sixth attempt at suicide in as many months. Dependancy over a love affair caused him to take his life.
During his life Bob escaped death nine times, but nine lives were all he possessed and when he threw himself under the wheels of the automobile this morning the end came under the heavy wheels of the car.
On five previous occasions Bob tried to commit suicide by taking poison, but overcame the effects of the drug. Another time he ran in front of a Farnam street car and part of his tail was cut off, necessitating the amputation of the stub that was left. Twice dogs tried to kill him, but each time he escaped the fray a little more dauntless.
Edward Unit, one of the members of the firm, sent after Bob's body so he could give him a decent burial. When the messenger reached the scene of the tragedy a street cleaner had shoveled Bob, whom he thought only an ordinary cat, into an ash can and carted him away.

Cases Reinstated in District Court
Cases against ninety-eight persons who had appealed from sentences in police court and then failed to appear, leaving their bondsmen liable, were reinstated by Judge Leslie in district court. The cases were set for trial July 1.
Half of the bondsmen interested appeared in court, asking that the cases be reinstated. Practically all of them asserted that their principals were ready to come into court, but that they had had no notice that they should have appeared at the beginning of the February term, when they defaulted.
Action to collect on the bonds will be taken by County Attorney Magney in the cases of defendants who fail to appear July 1. Whatever amount is thus collected will go into the school fund. Bonds involved in action by the court amounted to about $15,000. Six cases were dismissed.

Federal Petit Jury Acquits Mann, but Disagrees on Bowers
The federal petit jury reported Arthur Mann not guilty and disagreed in the case of J. W. Bowers. Mann and Bowers were charged with using the mails to defraud in the promotion to sell what they called a "simplex power ejector." After being out all night and until 2 o'clock in the afternoon the jury disagreed in the case of Bowers.
Arthur Mann was dismissed and Bowers will have to appear for trial at the fall term of court. He remains under his former bond. J. W. Mann, who was also included in the original indictment, was discharged a few days ago.
PRESIDENT MARKHAM SAYS BUSINESS SHOWING GAIN
Regardless of the floods along the southern lines of the company, resulting in heavy damage, the Illinois Central, according to President Markham, promises to establish a new record for money-making this year, as he says will be shown by the fiscal report of the twelve months ending June 30.

For the ten months ending April 30, President Markham says the road earned $4,562,693, over $1,000,000 more than during the same period one year ago, and within $500,000 of the same months in 1910, the banner year.
Wall street has had a hand in manipulating Illinois Central stock during the last few months and the bears have made several raids upon it, forcing it down to 112, the lowest price for the year. This has started a report that while the 7 per cent dividend will not be passed, it will be considerably reduced. The president does not look for a reduction, believing that when the books are balanced, the showing will be such that the usual dividend will be declared.
NEBRASKA SUNDAY SCHOOL MEN PLAN BIG CONVENTION
Sunday school men of Nebraska, under direction of Paul E. Dietrick of Lincoln, plan a mammoth parade through the streets of the capital city on Thursday evening of the annual state convention of the Nebraska Sunday School association to be held in St Paul's church in Lincoln, June 17 to 19.
Among the speakers of note at this convention are W. C. Pearce, international assistant general secretary, and Dr. Franklin McElfresh, international teacher train superintendent, both of Chicago; Miss Minnie E. Kennedy, general secretary of the Birmingham (Ala.) Sunday School association and elementary and secondary grades specialist; Prof. H. M. Steidler, formerly general secretary of Nebraska, now Presbyterian educational secretary of Colorado, Fort Collins, Colo., and President Charles T. Paul of the College of Missions, Indianapolis, Ind.

In discussing the problems of day school credits for Bible study and the place of the college in teacher training, Prof. James E. Delzell, state superintendent of public instruction; Prof. Heybos of Doane, Prof. C. E. Teach of Wesleyan, Chancellor William Oeschger of Cotner, Rev. Charles Baskerville of Bellevue, and other Nebraska educators will take part.
Prof. L. L. Henry of Chicago, will have the direction of music at the convention. Plans are being made for a pipe organ prelude, a large chorus with orchestra, and special numbers, both vocal and instrumental, for each evening session.
