One of the largest weddings of the year was that of Miss Helen De Koven Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Henry Davis, to Walter Brooks Roberts, which was celebrated last evening at 8:30 o'clock at Trinity cathedral. Bishop Millsbaugh of Topeka, uncle of the bride, officiated.

The church was decorated with pink and white peonies and the altar banked with palms and ferns.

Misses Elizabeth and Mena Davis, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. They walked together and were gowned alike in flesh-colored chiffon over French net elaborately trimmed with lace insertion and pink rosebuds. The gowns were round length and over the chiffon was draped a hand-run mesh lace. The bodices were of mesh lace with high steeple of French blue ribbon fastened with large buckle embroidered in pink pearls and blue beads. Pink tulle was draped on the front of the bodice with French flowers. They wore in their hair pink tulle Gaby aigrettes fastened low on the hair with large French buckles set in pale blue and pink and rhinestones. They carried bouquets of variegated sweet peas.

Miss Elizabeth Congdon was maid of honor. She wore a pink satin charmeuse made with square train and draped with pink chiffon. Shadow lace was draped over the chiffon and caught with tulle bows fastened with rhinestones and pearl ornaments. The lace and chiffon formed the bodice and in the front was a large buckle with a wreath of pink roses and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and white carnations in her hair. The bride wore white satin with square court train. The gown was elaborately draped with lace point lace caught with sprays of orange blossoms. The bodice was of lace and chiffon, richly embroidered in pearls and rhinestones. The lace was draped with clusters of orange blossoms. The long tulle veil was made cap shape, with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet-peas and lilies of the valley. The groom's gift was a square platinum pin set with diamonds.

Thomas Latham Davis, brother of the bride, was best man and the ushers were H. Brady, Willard D. Hootford, Edward H. Cahaly of Chicago and Robert Burns. The groom presented each with a gold monogrammed cigarette holder.

Following the ceremony there was a reception from 9 to 11 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis. The rooms were profusely decorated with pink and white peonies and June roses. A mound of pink peonies formed the centerpiece for the dining room table. About 50 guests were present at the reception. Mrs. Davis, mother of the bride, was gowned in cream Alencon lace with lavender chiffon over satin charmeuse.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left last evening for an eastern wedding trip and will return about August 1 when they will make their home with the bride's parents until they build a new home.

French-Congdon Engagement.

An engagement of much interest is that of Miss Caroline Congdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac E. Congdon, to Herbert Elyland French. The announcement does not come as a surprise to their host of friends, as the romance started when both were in school. Miss Congdon, after finishing at the Omaha High school, graduated at Vassar last June and received the honor of being one of the popular young women to carry the daisy chain.

Mr. French, after graduating at the high school, attended Cornell university, and is now in the electrical supply business.

Both young people belong to old and prominent families of Omaha and are popular members of the younger social set. The date for the wedding has not been decided.

To Summer Abroad.

Why You Should Have a PIANO in Your Home

It would seem that the piano was invented for the purpose of inspiring art, culture and virtue in the heart of man and his kind. The piano has always been the handmaiden of virtue. The average performer on the piano is one who stands for the better things of life. Music is pure—the only thing that cannot be defiled or used for a base purpose. So, then, your home must be and will be a better place when you have secured a piano. Your children, the education and the future of your children will be made better, broader and more useful; also more happy by owning a piano. A child's mind can harbor but one thought at a time—yours, too, for that matter. So let that one thought be the inspiring thought of music. A study of the piano broadens, educates, uplifts and inspires. Do your duty to yourself and yours. Put a piano in your home at once. You can do it. Here is the Schmolzer & Mueller advertising in this paper. Here is a house that has advised piano buyers for 54 years. Perhaps we might help you. We shall be pleased to try. May we have the pleasure of a call from you? If unable to call, write for catalog, prices and complete information. Schmolzer & Mueller Piano Co., 1311-1313 Farnam St., Omaha, Neb.
