SCHOOL AND COLLEGE WORK

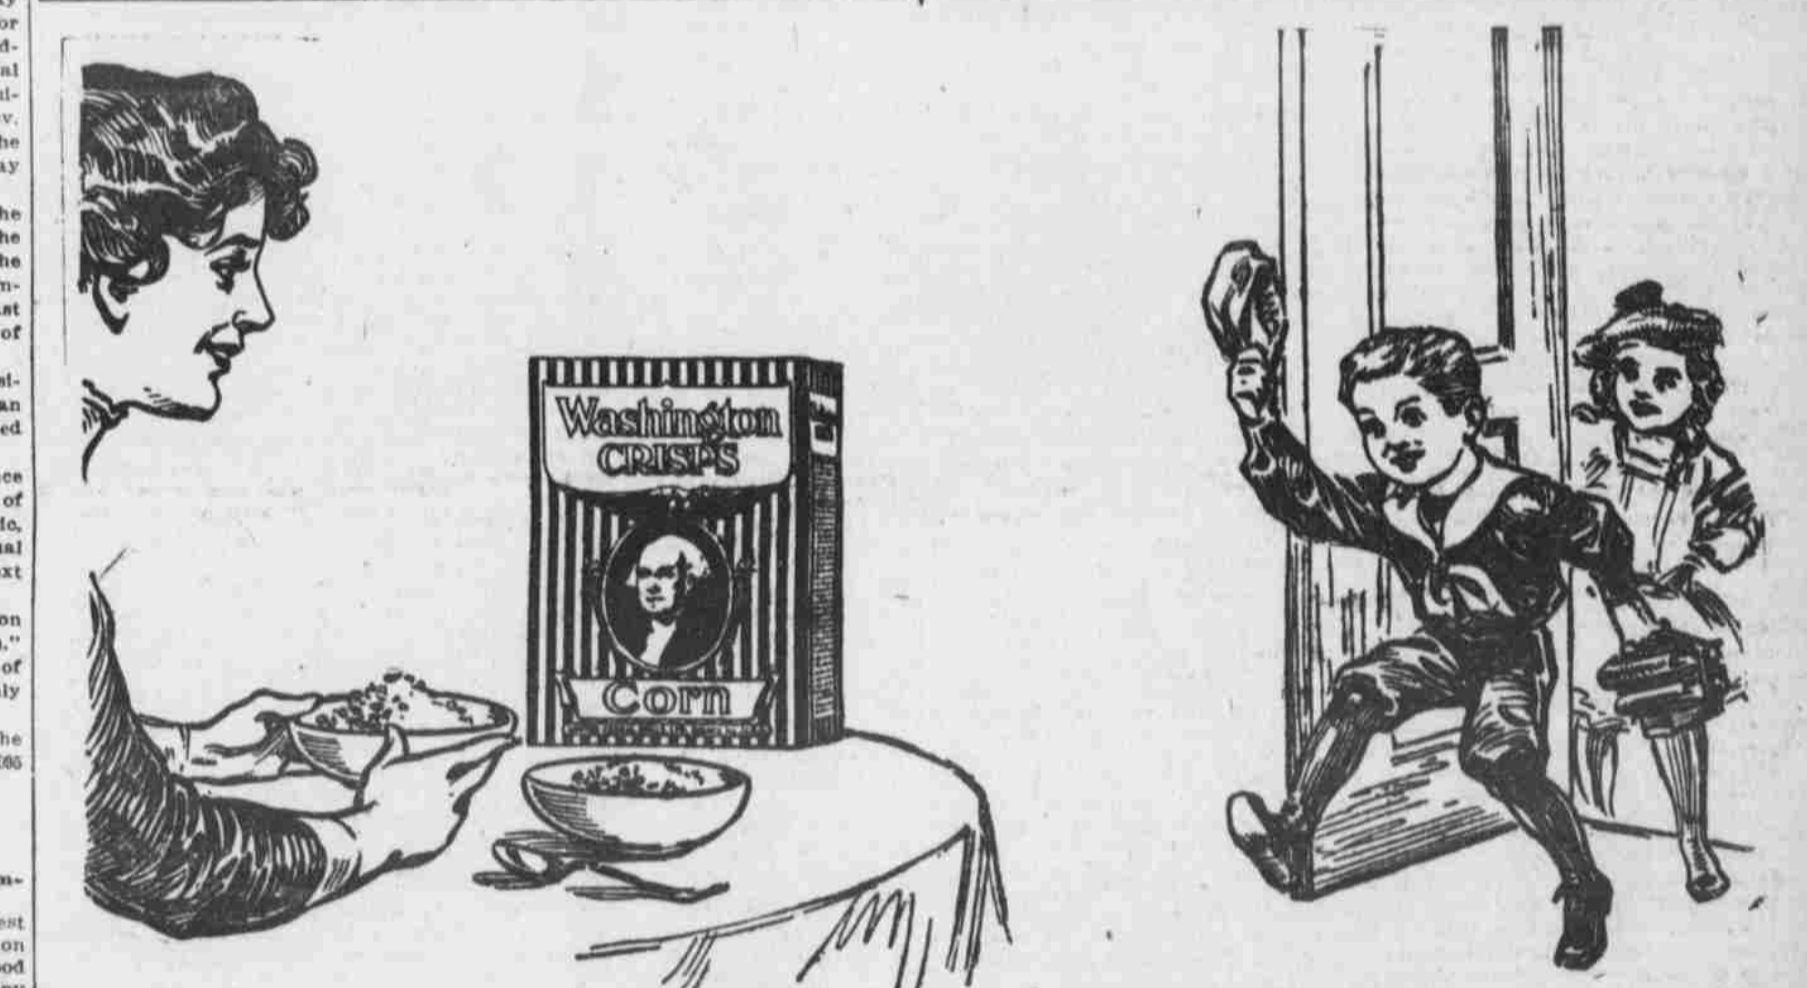

Relation of Rural Schools to Farm Life Work. EXAMPLE OF RIGHT TEACHING. Asapient Opening of Summer Sessions at Normal—Activity in the Nearby Institutions. Teaching methods in most rural schools present an odd contradiction. The main purpose of the schools is to teach children those subjects best suited to farm life. Yet various features of city life are taught, unconsciously laying a foundation for rural discontent. An interesting example of the importance of teaching boys and girls the things they are expected to do in mature life is given by W. C. Palmer in the Breeder's Gazette. Boys and girls in thirty-four schools in Wright county, Iowa, were asked what they desired to do. Of the 164 boys, 157 desired to leave the farm and 163 of the 174 girls desired to do likewise. But after agriculture and home economics had been taught for three years, the same question was asked in the same schools. This time, 162 of the 174 boys desired to stay on the farm, and 161 of the 175 girls. This changing of an almost unanimous desire for leaving the farm to an almost unanimous desire to stay on the farm seems almost miraculous. Yet it was done through making a change in the course of study. Boys and girls will desire to do the things they have been taught how to do. Their interest is developed in the things they are taught. Agriculture and home economics are the things that boys and girls are most interested in to begin with. They live in a great agricultural and home economics laboratory. The knowledge that they have when they come to school is on these subjects. Education to be the most effective, must begin with what the children know. WAYNE STATE NORMAL. Record Attendance at Opening of Summer School. Upon the invitation of the senior class Dr. J. T. House went to Ponca and delivered the address to the graduating class of this year. Ernest Samuelson, class of 1913, has received notice of his election in the manual training department of the Dodge City (Minn.) High school and will begin work in September. The summer school lecture course of the Wayne Normal opened with a lecture by Dr. J. R. Gettys, a member of the Normal Board of Education. Dr. Gettys gave a very inspiring address on "The Man With a Hammer." Dr. P. P. Claxton, commissioner of education, Washington, D. C., and Dr. A. E. Winship of Boston will each appear on the program during the summer session. The summer session of the Normal opened Monday with the largest attendance of teachers that ever assembled in Wayne. The enrollment the first week reached 35. The registration blanks show that thirty-two counties of Nebraska are represented. All of the instructors employed in the regular year remain for the summer session except Miss Elsie Ford Piper and Miss Sara J. Killen, who will travel and study abroad. New teachers added to the faculty are Superintendent O. R. Bowen of West Point, Superintendent C. M. Matheny of Emerson, Miss Edith E. Beechell of Fairfax, S. D., and Fannie Britton of Wayne. Classes have been organized in every subject required for any grade of certificate in Nebraska. FREMONT COLLEGE. Demonstration of Work of Up-to-Date Pharmacist. An event of unusual interest occurred in the pharmacy department on Thursday evening, when the class demonstrated the various lines of work demanded of the up-to-date druggist, and supplemented the exhibition with a display of sixty preparations, which each had manufactured in the laboratory during the term just closing. The term finals rendered by the members of the several classes during the last week were unusually interesting and attracted large audiences. The teachers' class digressed from the usual type of themes by writing original stories. Miss Celia Flaherty spent the week-end at Jackson, Neb., where she formerly attended St. Catherine's academy. William Parker, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, visited the college and gave a splendid talk to the students at the chapel hour. Mr. Parker was a student at the college in '07 and '08. Miss Ellen Lukken, scientific class, 1912, is visiting her sister at the college. Miss Lukken just finished a successful school year at Prague, Neb. The recitals given by the elocution class Wednesday and Thursday, were much appreciated by those in attendance. PERU NORMAL SCHOOL. Auspicious Opening and Enrollment of Summer School. The summer school at Peru opened on Monday, June 1, the enrollment beginning in the afternoon. The number of students enrolling during the first week is unusually large, being about 70. Teachers specially engaged for the summer session are as follows: Prof. Clark of Pawnee City, mathematics department; Miss Esue Leich of Wayne, kindergarten assistant; Miss Tilly Wright, 1912 graduate, domestic science assistant; A. H. Stoddard of Newman Grove, physics assistant; Miss Bowen of the state university, German department; Prof. C. H. Hurd, of the University of Idaho, permanently employed as head of the department of agriculture. President Hayes addressed the eighth grade graduate class at North Platte Thursday evening. The class was very large, numbering about 120. Miss Lura Pelletier, of the expression department, entertained the school at the chapel service on Friday, by a rendition of Thomas Bailey Aldrich's dramatic poem, "Judith." HASTINGS COLLEGE. Educational Notes. Wannetta Haverstick, aged 5, of St. Louis, is said to know as much geography, physics and politics as the average high school student. The scholarship and loan fund committee of Iowa, Mrs. H. J. Howe of Marshalltown, Ia., has been elected twenty-three young women in their educational expenses during the last year. John M. Kesteven, incarnation oil operator of California, has given $100,000 to a fund for the construction of a medical research teaching hospital at the University of California as a memorial to his wife. Philander P. Claxton, United States

commissioner of education, says that the object of the child should begin with its grandmother. Every teacher should know who is the grandmother of each child, that the problem of heredity may be studied so that the teacher may not expect impossible things of the child. The National Conservation exhibition to be held in Knoxville, Tenn., in October, will contain a model two-room rural school with a workshop in the basement and an outdoor amphitheater for public gatherings. The plans for this building have been made by Dr. F. R. Dressler of the United States Bureau of Education in Washington. Classes of children will be brought from the schools of Knoxville and the surrounding country and publicly taught by their teachers in the model schoolhouse. A total of 564 degrees and certificates will be conferred at the eighty-seventh convocation of the University of Chicago to be held in Hutchinson Court on June 10. Of those receiving degrees, 182 are men and 177 are women. Two hundred and forty-three bachelors of arts, philosophy or science will be graduated. Of those who will receive the higher degrees seventy are masters, twenty-three doctors of law and twenty-three doctors of philosophy. Of the last mentioned, three are women. Many Thrills Are in Prospect at Den South Omaha Night. South Omaha is going to split the Ak-Sar-Ben Den wide open tomorrow night, say the stockmen down there. It will be South Omaha night. The members from the Magic City now exceeds all former records, there being more than 200 citizens of the city to the south belonging to the Omaha organization. Gus Renze and a committee of engineers from the stock yards have been at the Den all week fixing up some surprises for the visitors. The candidates will be ushered into the order with some devices that even transcend the Arabian Nights for magic and illustrative construction. Doc Fry and Billie Shellberg have been working with the artificer on the stunts. They have some sort of arrangement imitating the denizens of the stock yards. What it is, they aver, will be one of the surprises of the show. It's a new attachment to add to the many other wonders that Renz has evolved. The South Omaha members and initiates will come to Omaha in a body headed by Everett Buckingham, their fellow townsmen and newly elected president of the Ak-Sar-Ben Den. They will bring some music with them and have some music when they arrived at the Den. There has been a short speaking program arranged for the fiasco following the show. The actors in "Our Arabian Knights" have been rehearsing this week.

Several sessions were held at which the rough spots in the show were smoothed off and devices for initiation were tried up. The paraphernalia will be in fine condition for the South Omahans tomorrow night. Arts Graduates to Get Degrees June 18. The graduating class of the Creighton university department of arts will hold its commencement exercises at the Brandeis theater on the evening of Wednesday, June 18. Twenty-one young men are in this year's class, the same number as that of last year. Of this number eighteen will receive degrees of A. B., two of B. S., and one of Ph. B. In addition, eleven graduates of Creighton or other universities, who have already won A. B. degrees, will receive A. M. degrees. President Eugene A. Magevney of Creighton will present the diplomas. A majority of the class will receive state teacher's certificates, enabling them to teach school in Nebraska without passing an examination. Right Rev. J. Henry Fihen, D. D., bishop of Lincoln, will be the speaker at the exercises. Preston T. McAvoy, one of the graduates, will represent the class in the valedictory address. James H. McCauley and Raphael N. Hamilton will also deliver addresses. On Wednesday, June 18, at 9 a. m., the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered to the class at St. John's Catholic church, Twenty-fifth and California streets, by Rev. T. J. Livingstone, S. J., of the Creighton faculty. High mass will also be celebrated on this occasion. The entire student body of the arts college will attend. Following the services in the church the annual commencement exercises for graduates of the academic department will be held in the university auditorium, directly west of the church. These services will begin at 10 o'clock. About fifty will leave the ranks of the academic department on this occasion. President Magevney will deliver an address. NURSES OF WISE HOSPITAL COMING FOR BANQUET. Twenty-five nurses, all graduates of the Wise Memorial Hospital Training school, are in Omaha, and over a score more are expected to arrive today, to attend the annual alumnae banquet which is to be given tomorrow night at the Loyal hotel. After the banquet, which starts at 6 o'clock, officers of the association will be elected. Miss Ida Hueltla, superintendent of the hospital, is to be the toastmaster.
