Its Annual Banquet At the Rome Hotel

The beautiful folk songs of the north ang last night through the large banquet room of the Hotel Rome, when 150 men and women, members of the Noonday club, the Swedish-American organization of Omaha, gathered around the banquet board for their annual festivity. The ancient legendary sages of the north-WASHINGTON, June 10 .- A bumper orn branch of the hardy teutonic race wheat crop, sufficient to mill more than were told and retold. Patriotic speeches

> Albert W. Johnson, as toastmaster, poured forth such volumes of fun and numor that those scheduled to speak ac-Smaha made the first speech, taking for his subject, "All Is Not Gold That Glitters," He spoke in Swedish. A. W. Bloom of Omaha then gave a toast to the ladies, calling attention to the heroic deeds that were credited to the woman of all ages. Birger Edquist of Omaha furnished a violin solo, and Fritz Al Carlson of Cour d'Alene, Idaho, sang some solos. C. J. Cederquist, mayor of Madrid, In., lauded the old Swedish settlers, who braved all the unspeakable hardships in the early days to come to the middle west of the United States to make homes out of the wilderness,

Dr. Gustave Andreen, president of Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill., the honor guest of the evening, made a fiery speech, filled with burning patriotism for the Swedes and the Swedish stock. He charged the Swedish-Americans again and again not to forget the great part the Swedes had played in making world history and thereby making in possible the present high state of civilization in America, as well as in the other civilized countries of the world.

The Norden Singing society sang a is number of pleasing selections.

Benjamin J. Morris, senior captain of , of fire company No. 7, has announced his intention of submitting his resignation to the fire commissioner, to take effect | 31 immediately. Mr. Morris has been in the service for twenty-two years, and with the exception of two years, has been captain the entire time.

He received his commission directly after the Shiverick and Maurer fire, in which he was seriously injured by a falling wall, which killed Captain Cox and Fireman Ouray. At that time he was a member of company No. 7, and he has remained with it ever since. Captain Morris has suffered numerous other injuries of a more or less serious nature in other fires. The last one was the Thomas Cusack fire of a year ago. This experience has detracted from his physical strength to such an extent that 100 he thought himself obliged to retire from active work. He is eligible for a pension under the new twenty-one-year law.
