When you take your vacation leave your silverware, etc. in Omaha Safe Deposit Co.'s burglar proof vault. 315 Farnam St. $1.50 per month for a good sized package. J. Malphand Clothing Co.—314-14 North Sixteenth street, opens its newly remodeled store Thursday, June 13. It is double the size of their former store. New lines of men's, ladies' and children's shoes, Loya's and girls' clothing and furnishings have been added to their stock. Contract for New Double Brick—Mrs. Mary Gentleman will build a two-story double brick house at the southeast corner of Park avenue and Dodge street. Plans have been finished and the contract awarded for work to begin immediately. The house will cost $10,000. Asks for Receiver—W. B. Howard, auditor of public accounts, has asked the district court to appoint a receiver for the National Business Men's association, an Omaha insurance company, organized in 1909, to insure against accident and sickness on the assessment plan on the ground that it is insolvent. Judge Emery set June 17 as the date for a hearing. Double Subscription—The street railway company has doubted its subscription to the publicity bureau of the Commercial club. The company has felt the benefits of the bureau through the general publicity work and more particularly the conventions brought to Omaha, and was prompted thereby to increase its share of maintenance to the department. Deaneberg Lodge to Build—Deaneberg lodge will build a two-story brick store and auditorium building at Twenty-fifth avenue and Leavenworth street. The building will be 6x55 feet and cost about $12,000. It will be maintained by rentals from the stores on the lower floors, while the lodge will have quarters and a dance hall in the auditorium. The contract has been awarded, and work of erection will begin soon. McCague's Appointment Endorsed—The Commercial club's appointment of John L. McCague to act on the commission asked to be appointed by the governor to codify the present tax law has been endorsed by the Real Estate exchange. The Commercial club recently asked Governor Shorehead to appoint a commission of five members to codify the law and suggested that McCague be one of the commissioners. Ak-Sar-Ben Hustlers Set Membership at 2,500 for This Year The hustling committee of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, held its first meeting of the season at noon, and set the mark for 2,500 knights this year. There are twenty-five on the committee and all present reported the prospects excellent for a high water membership. Four teams to hustling members were named, and Chairman Beaton made the following appointments: First Team—Benford, Whitney and Miner. Second Team—Mahaffey, Meyers and Feiler. Third Team—O'Brien, Lord and Pfifer. Fourth Team—Ehrenpfort and Roskyk. Later, on the strength of the teams will be brought up to a total of twenty-four. It was decided that nine prizes will be offered—three first, three second and three third. The three individuals securing the largest number of members will each be awarded a first prize and the same rule will apply with reference to the other prizes, those being second high to receive second prizes. In addition to the membership prizes, there will be a couple of prizes for securing subscriptions. The man securing the largest contribution to the parade fund will receive the first prize and the second largest sum will take second prize. In securing members, those parties who have been induced to join by reason of solicitation of members of the hustling committee, will be credited to the party presenting the names. Woman Has Two Men Arrested Who Try to Employ Her Charles Thaman of Nebraska City and George Hendrich, stopping at the Aetna hotel, were arrested at Fifteenth and Dodge streets at the instigation of Mrs. Mabel Rash. Mrs. Rash asserts that while seeking employment in a restaurant across from the postoffice the two men approached her with offers of employment in South Omaha, they to pay all expenses and transportation. The woman was about to accept when a suspicion crossed her mind that the proposition was slightly queer, and, consulting Officer Franc about the matter finally concluded to have the men arrested. They were taken to the station and will be held pending an investigation of the federal government. NEBRASKA INVESTMENT CO. SUED BY WILLIAM HORN Suit against the Nebraska Investment company and Lyle L. Abbott, its president; Arnold Koenig, vice president, and Fritz Jaeger, secretary and treasurer, who also compose the board of directors of the company, has been started in district court to recover $1,000 which William Horn alleges he paid as part of the purchase price of five first mortgage bonds of the company, of a par value of $1,000 each. The plaintiff says that he also was to have transferred a quarter section of land in Kimball county, but that since January, 1911, when he made the deal, he has refused to do so. Mr. Horn alleges that the company's prospectus said the defendants owned 2,500 acres of rich Knox county land and that investments were secured by real estate, but that this was not the case. The Brilliant Stars of June. By the end of June, Mars, Venus, Saturn and Jupiter will all be morning stars, but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is at all times the "Star" medicine for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. A cold in June is as apt to develop into bronchitis or pneumonia as at any other time, but not if Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is taken. It will surely head off the cold, and heal the inflamed membranes. The genuine is in a yellow package. For sale by all dealers, everywhere.—Advertisement.

CADET CAMP IS SERENADED

Officer Has Hilarious Attack of Somanbulism During Night. IS PURELY PSYCHOLOGICAL Had Too Earnestly Anticipated Song He Was to Sing and a Burst of Subjective Mind Rehearsals Ensued. As the fruit of too seriously anticipating his singing of a song before an audience at Missouri Valley, one of the high school officers at Camp McHugh suffered an attack of hilarious somnambulism the other night. The sleep club, of which he is a member, was to give a number of selections at a little social gathering the following day. Psychologically explained the officer was in subjective-mind rehearsal of his end of the program when he should have been totally asleep, according to the rules of the camp. Finally his enthusiasm reached a pitch where it had to have an outlet or something would surely burst. Slowly, but surely he arose and step by step he started upon his walk around the grounds, serenading, with splendid emphasis and intonation of voice, an imaginary audience. It was only momentarily imaginary, however, for a guard was soon on "deck." When the officer was shaken back into composure realization it was like throwing water upon a hot stove. He stilled with protests of innocence intermingled with a few words of indignation, but when the possibility of arrest was promised to calm himself and abide ever after by the night rules of Camp McHugh. The incident spread around to the ears of every cadet the next morning and has given those of lesser title a gusto of rare enjoyment.

Tornado Loser is Suing on His Fire Insurance Policy

The first suit against a fire insurance company for payment of loss where a house was struck by Omaha's tornado and was also burned, a form of attack which ultimately may cause changes in the standard fire insurance policy in use all over the country, has been filed in district court by T. W. Blackburn and Joseph Carr, attorneys for Alphonso Wilson. The property involved was located at 224 North Twenty-fourth street, and the policy was for $1,500. The policy gave protection against loss by lightning, except in case of wind, tornado or cyclone. There was also a clause to the effect that if the building or any part fell except as the result of fire all insurance should immediately cease. If the courts hold that Wilson can collect from the insurance company in spite of these clauses in the policy, insurance men say, the standard fire insurance policy will be revised. The Conservative Savings and Loan association and Sarah D. Patton had interests in the property and Wilson says in his petition that he is suing in their behalf as well as his own.

REAL ESTATE MEN PREPARE TO FIGHT BOILER ORDINANCE

A special committee of five will be appointed by the Real Estate exchange to represent it in opposition to the proposed ordinance for requiring licensed firemen to operate all boilers. The real estate men are opposed to paying firemen for eight hours a day for work which can be done in a few extra minutes by a janitor, they said, and also stand against the proposition of hiring a special fireman for each boiler or furnace, especially when there are two or three as near as they get apart. They will join with the Commercial club, the Manufacturers' association and the Building Managers' association, to fight the passage of the ordinance, when it comes up June 2.

FOURTEEN ARE GRADUATED

Bachelor of Arts Degree Conferred Wednesday at Bellevue. SOME GET HONORARY DEGREES Several Pastors of Outside Presbyterian Churches Given Doctor of Divinity Belong to the College Alumnae. Bellevue college graduated fourteen young men and women yesterday into the wider fields of practical life. The exercises were held at Bellevue and were followed by a dinner, which many invited guests attended. Rev. Edwin Hart Jenks, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Omaha, and vice president of Bellevue, pronounced the invocation preceding the graduating program. Miss Lucille Beta, Bellevue, one of the graduates, read an essay on the "Conservation of the Home." She pointed out the necessity of a religious spirit and the good influences it sheds upon the lives those that make it a part of their household. Paul Covey Johnston, Omaha, gave an oration on "Constitutional Government." He condemned the referendum and recalled vigorously and advocated a strict adherence to the constitution. The address of the day was given by Rev. James Ostler, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church of Milwaukee, and member of the class of 1897. "Praise of the President" was his topic. He illustrated the need of respecting the office and the man in an official position, regardless of whether he was the executive of the United States government or of some corporation. "While I do not wish to be understood as a pantheist," said he, "I think it is possible for an evangelical theology to be wrong in regard to its human side of Christ, just as the Unitarian belief was wrong in regard to his divinity." Bachelor of Art degrees were conferred by President S. W. Stookay, upon the following: Lucille Beta, Bellevue, Albert Wheeler Dowden, North Bend, Neb. Clark Covey Johnston, Omaha. Ethel Clare Huber, Nebraska City. Marie Mildred Hanna, Auburn. John Albert Hanna, Auburn. Hermie Lucille Knapp, Cedar Bluffs, Neb. Arthur J. Kearns, Loup City, Neb. Paul Colgrove, Kaminaki, Bloomfield, Neb. Cora Margartie Nesbit, Tekamah, Neb. Rindol Lachlan Ohman, Bellevue. Sylvia Isabell Robertson, Atkinson, Neb. Chris Bondelson, Siskiyou, Ore. One degree of bachelor of science was conferred upon Chris Bonderson, Siskiyou, Ore. An honorary degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon Rev. Theodore E. Morning, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Independence, Ia. He is a graduate of the Omaha Theological seminary and Vice President Dr. Edwin Jenkins recommended that the degree be also honorarily conferred upon Rev. S. Cooper Bailey, recently of Falls City, Neb., but now occupying a pulp at Crookston, Minn., and Rev. William Kirk Duchrie, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of San Francisco.

MANY FILINGS ARE MADE IN DISTRICT COURT TUESDAY

Litigants in district court surpassed all records for many years for business transacted in the office of the clerk of the court, Tuesday, when ninety-five filings, including twenty-two new cases, were made. This is said to be the largest number of filings made since the early '90s, when a number of mortgage foreclosures and suits on notes were taken into court. The fact that the judges of the district court have perfected a system by which trials in suits of all kinds can be had in a fraction of the time formerly required, is assigned as the primary reason for the increase in litigation. The spring term of court also is drawing to a close and attorneys are hastening to make their various legal moves required in cases already on the docket.
