DeWitt, Neb., Nov. 12, 1912. Mr. Fred M. Sanders, Tr., Bankers Life Insurance Co., Lincoln, Neb. My Dear Sir: Twenty years ago I permitted one of your agents to take my application for an Ordinary Life Policy in your good company. This act of mine has never been regretted. When the earnings on this policy became available for my use, you permitted me to select my method of settlement. I chose to withdraw the surplus, amounting to $164.66, in cash, and continue the policy in full force by paying the same premium rate as at the beginning.

I certainly was well pleased with the settlement, so well satisfied was I with your methods of business and the kind of policies you write I could not resist the idea of taking out another policy, believing that if one was good, two would be much better. I have nothing but good words for the Old Line Bankers Life Insurance Company and never hesitate to speak with favor concerning your plans of Life Insurance and your business methods. My only regret is, that when younger, I could not see my way clear to carry more insurance.

Wishing you continued success, I remain, Yours truly, WM. D. GREEN.

PALMER REVISES PROOFS

Changes Made in Speech Ordered Printed by Senate Arouses Interest of Members of the Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Truman G. Palmer, Washington representative of the United States Beet Sugar industry, testified today before the senate lobby investigating committee that a series of charts, prepared by him and his associates, against free sugar and published as a senate document, had obtained a circulation of 250,000 copies under the franking privileges of Senator Lodge.

The charts first appeared in the senate during a speech Mr. Lodge made last July. Chairman Overman and Senator Reed developed on cross-examination that after Mr. Lodge had secured permission to print the documents, Palmer got a proof from the government printing office and revised them. The two senators seemed intent to emphasize that a representative of a private interest had been allowed to change something the senate had ordered printed, although Mr. Palmer denied that any material alterations had been made.

Chairman Overman announced, however, that officials of the government printing office would be summoned to tell how such a document had been sent to private hands for revision and that if Senator Lodge wished to testify he would be allowed to do so.

"The mailing of this document, I find, would cost 5 cents," said Senator Reed to Palmer, "and you, therefore, saved $5,000 for your employers."

"I'm very glad to know it," replied Palmer.

UNION PACIFIC PLAN IS UNSATISFACTORY TO MR. McREYNOLDS

The exchange represents only 14 per cent of the total Southern Pacific stock. The present holdings of the Union Pacific in the Southern Pacific common stock represent about $25,000,000.

M. H. Loomis, of counsel for the Union Pacific, explained the proposition to the court. He said that as a matter of fact, the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific were in reality as separate and distinct from each other as they ever could be, but the supreme court had ordered the Union Pacific to dispose of its holdings of Southern Pacific stock and the former road was doing its best to propose a plan to accomplish this on the best terms possible to its stockholders.

He said that the Union Pacific did not guarantee to carry out either of the two principal plans proposed, even though the court approved both of them. If it should be found that to follow either of them to involve too great a sacrifice to the Union Pacific stockholders, the disposition of the stocks would be left to the court.

"How long a time do you think the Union Pacific should be given to dispose of the stock?" inquired Judge Smith.

"I think the court should be liberal with us in the matter of time, because of the present condition of the money market," replied Mr. Loomis. He thought the railroad should have one year in which to offer the stock and complete the disposition of it.

McReynolds Opposes Plan. Attorney General McReynolds, in opposing the plan proposed by the Union Pacific, said that he regretted that the railroad had been unable to effect a deal whereby the Union Pacific would acquire the Central Pacific, operating from Ogden to San Francisco, in exchange for its Southern Pacific stock. He declared that this failure would compel the government to institute an expensive litigation to compel the Southern Pacific to relinquish its hold over the Central Pacific.

See Courtroom Notes. PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—Pennsylvania railroad officials confirmed the statement that an arrangement had been entered into for the exchange of the company's holdings of Baltimore & Ohio railroad stock for $20,000,000 worth of the Southern Pacific stock owned by the Union Pacific. It was stated that the exchange if approved by the court would be made on the basis of the relative market value of Baltimore & Ohio, and Southern Pacific stock.

President Rea of the Pennsylvania railroad declined to make any statement on the subject at this time. It was stated that the Pennsylvania has no interest whatever in the management of the Southern Pacific and the arrangement is purely a business one, designed to prevent the throwing on the market of such an immense block of Southern Pacific stock.

In financial circles the deal is looked on as a relinquishment by the Pennsylvania of all interest in the Baltimore & Ohio company.

Illinois Suff Will Celebrate Friday Evening

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 12.—President Wilson, former Presidents Taft and Roosevelt and the governor of each state where equal suffrage prevails, has been invited by the governor to be present at a women's jubilee to be held here Friday night, to celebrate the passage of the bill yesterday granting limited suffrage to the women of Illinois.

The women are going ahead with their plans for further enfranchisement. It was announced today. A constitutional convention is one of these and a number of school of instruction is another.

The constitutional convention it is said would enfranchise women so that they might vote on every proposition now decided by the ballots of the men. The schools of instruction, of which Chicago will have several, will hold courses in citizenship as well as practical teachings in voting by hand marked ballots, and by machine.

By the bill adopted yesterday women may vote for all offices which are not mentioned in the constitution of Illinois. That is, they may vote for presidential electors, mayor, alderman, municipal court judges and minor local offices. They may vote for assessors and members of the board of review. They may not vote for governor, lieutenant governor, other state officers, members of the legislature, county or district judges, congressmen or United States senators.

The bill gives as large a measure of suffrage to women as the constitution permits the legislature to grant. Women cannot obtain complete suffrage in this state without a constitutional amendment or a constitutional convention.
