Guardian Fees for Insurance—Edward Riley, as guardian for Thomas J. Hart, has brought suit against the Reliance Insurance company of Philadelphia to collect $3,000 on an insurance policy on a two-story brick building at 2501 North Twenty-fourth street, which he alleges was destroyed by fire the night of the tornado. Lights at Postoffice—The new arc light of 250 kilowatts has been installed at the Seventeenth street entrance of the postoffice. Hitherto that entrance has been very dark at night. Now with the new arc light and with the two city lights, one at each corner of the street, illumination of the Seventeenth street side is excellent. Protest on New Park—Fred P. Steffler has protested against the city commission purchasing the sulphur springs at Fourteenth and Binney streets for a "Bluff park," as suggested by "Uncle" Joe Redman. The protestant says he does not favor assessing adjacent property to pay part of the cost of the park. City Attorney Rine ruled that such assessment could be made. Address Minister for Wedding—Judge Sutton of the district court believes that marriages are more likely to turn out happily if the ceremonies are performed by ministers rather than by civil officers. When he made returns to the marriage license bureau of two weddings recently performed by him he remarked that he never performed a wedding ceremony without first advising the couple to be married by a pastor of a church. Special Train of Turners—The national turnfest, or quadrennial gymnastic festival, to be held at Denver, June 25-29, promises to be one of the largest gatherings in the west this year. Advice to the Union Pacific up to this time are that it will handle nine special trains west from Omaha. Three of these will be from Chicago, carrying nothing but Omaha delegates. It is expected that the Omaha delegation will have a special train, as they have now lined up nearly 200 turners and others who are desirous of attending the festival.

Holovtchiner Has Plan for Ousting Health Officer E. Holovtchiner, vice president of the charter convention and president of the Board of Education, has carried his fight with City Health Commissioner R. W. Connell into the charter board and will attempt to "eliminate Connell" by making his office elective, believing no health commissioner can be elected after having served a term in the office. Holovtchiner's proposition is now in the hands of the general committee of five, and will probably be reported to the whole convention, where it will be the center of a merry fight, as Connell has numerous friends on the charter commission. Holovtchiner says he has nine votes for his proposition and his opponents say they have ten. As there are only fifteen members on the commission the discrepancy is apparent.

THREE MEN CAPTURE NEGRO WHO PEEPED IN WINDOW Mrs. Steffe, 2711 South Fifteenth street, awoke Wednesday about midnight and glancing toward the window of her bed room discovered the face of a negro peering in through the glass. Her screams aroused her husband and two sons, who upon learning of the happening, rushed out-of-doors in time to capture Major Cook, who was hoisting his frame over the rear fence. The three men took their captive to the home of Officer Chadwick, who resides in the same block, and he in turn took the man to the station. Cook was given ninety days.

CRAWFORD BUYS TO BUILD ALONG AUTOMOBILE ROW Still another building is going up in auto row. Frank Crawford has bought the lot at 2125 Farnam street from T. L. Davis and will build a two-story brick building there when an agreement is reached with a prospective tenant. He paid $12,500 for the land. It has a frontage of a little over twenty-seven feet on Farnam street, with a depth of 122 feet. Excavation is now in progress at 2121 Farnam street for a two-story automobile supply house. Crawford's building will probably be a garage.

NEW HOT WATER METER FOR FEDERAL BUILDING A hot water meter, the cost of which is to be $46, is to be installed in the federal building. The contract has just been let. This will measure the amount of hot water used. It is necessary that this item be accurately recorded in order that a comparative report may be made monthly to Washington in regard to the expense of keeping the building supplied with coal.

TEAMSTER INJURED IN COLLISION WITH A CAR Louis Drafsburg, 409 South Twenty-second street, driver for the South Omaha Packing company, was painfully injured at Twenty-fourth and Franklin streets in a collision with a street car. Neither of the team was hurt any, while the wagon was damaged somewhat. Drafsburg was given medical attention and then taken home.

GEPSON HEADS NEW SCHOOL

Truant Officer is Promoted to Be the New Principal.

CARVER MADE TRUANT OFFICER

Assistant is Promoted to Shifting Place Made Vacant by Quitting of Gepsion to the New School.

E. D. Gepsion, for six years truant officer of the public school, will be principal of the new school for boys which the board of education will establish near Thirtieth and Brown street this fall. J. B. Carver, assistant probation officer, will succeed Gepsion. The committee on teachers and instructions of the Board of Education will meet Monday afternoon and confirm these appointments, made by Superintendent Ellis U. Graf and President E. Holovtchiner. An assistant to Gepsion will be appointed later. The new school will be for boys exclusively and courses in all the trades will be installed and taught. It will not be a parental school, but boys who have not been making good in the regular graded school work will be given a chance in this new institution. It will be a day school. Plans of the board are to move some of the buildings from Miller Park school to Thirtieth and Brown, where the school district owns a stretch of ground, 100x 270 feet. This ground will be used for gardens. It is believed that about twenty-five boys will begin work in the new school next fall. Superintendent Graf has been planning for several years to establish such a school in the interest of the boys who have been giving their teachers a lot of trouble and have been backward in their work. At the new school they will be given individual instruction.

Has Had Experience. "Gepsion is a good man," said Superintendent Graf, "and ought to do good work in such a school. He has had experience with boys and has proven himself capable of handling them. For seven years Carver has been in probation work in Omaha and during that time has built up a reputation for being able to deal successfully with the so-called 'bad boys.' The new office of truancy will represent an increase of nearly $600 in his annual salary. He has not formally accepted the offer of the position, but as he will not have to assume office until fall, he will take it. He will draw $1,800 a year as truant officer. Gepsion will receive the same salary as principal of the new school. Gepsion was born in Dunlap, Ia., and educated at the Iowa university, beginning his work there in 1897. He worked his way through school and carried off scholarships and was loaded with honors. He went to Glidden, Iowa, after finishing school, was principal of the high school there and later was elected superintendent. He became interested in work among juvenile delinquents and resigned his superintendency to come to Omaha.

Knows the Bad Boys. During his work in Omaha he has come in contact with all manner of boys and has an acquaintance among parents of the city wider than any other local educator. He has been responsible for doing away with child labor almost completely, and has compelled parents to keep their children in school when there was no sufficient cause for granting them permits to go to work. "In the majority of cases the parents really do not need the money their children can earn," said Gepsion, "and they can be made to see the advisability of having them continue their school work." Gepsion says some of the boys, hearing that manual training, printing and agriculture will be taught, have themselves applied for entrance. An experienced printer will be appointed to aid Gepsion. The faculty will consist of two men at the beginning. Only men will be hired as teachers there. Superintendent Graf chose Gepsion after searching several cities for a better man, whom he failed to find.

Safe at the Police Court Broken Open and Contents Stolen The safe in the office of the police court was broken into Wednesday evening, and $25 in bond money, $10 in change and a seventeen jewel watch were taken. The safe was about seventy-five years old and was an easy prey for the burglars that handled it. Clerk of Police Court O'Conner discovered the battered door and the contents gone when he arrived at the office yesterday morning.

Moorhead Seeking 515 Honest Men in Greater Omaha

Election Commissioner Moorhead, who is seeking, not one, but 515 honest men to serve as judges and clerks at the tornado bond election, says that he is finding his task a difficult one, and that having put down half the number required he is racking his brain to find enough desirable men to complete the list. He announces that he may postpone the restoration bond election from July 15 to a later date unless he can finish the list by Saturday, for it must be advertised thirty days before the election, as required by law.

Thousand Go to See Cadets in Camp at Missouri Valley

Yesterday was a big day for the Omaha High school cadets up at Camp McHugh, near Missouri Valley, for they were hosts of about 1,500 of their fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters, aunts, uncles and cousins. This number of their relatives left Omaha yesterday on a special train of ten coaches over the Northwestern.

The Northwestern special was scheduled to leave the Union station for Missouri Valley at 9 o'clock. Long before that hour, men, women and children commenced to arrive and each individual carried a copious lunch basket filled with good things for the basket dinner for the boys in camp. The crowds continued to pour through the depot and it was 9:20 before the train pulled out, leaving but four hatted individuals.

Last year when the Northwestern ran the special to the cadet camp it carried eight coaches and 450 persons. This year, besides those who went on the train, it is estimated that 300 made the trip in automobiles.

FREIGHT HANDLER GETS HEAVY DAMAGE VERDICT

Deputy United States Marshal McCallum has just returned from Lincoln, where he has been attending federal court, which has been in session for two weeks. The last case was that of Chauncey Hooper of Lincoln against the Rock Island railway company, in which Hooper was awarded judgment in the sum of $20,000 for permanent injuries he received when a freight train struck him at Eighteenth and Vine streets in Lincoln. He had sued for $50,000.

WITHNELL GIVES REASONS Tells Why He Let City Electrician Michaelson Out.

SLIPS A REQUISITION BY HIM

Says Michaelson Had Him Sign a Requisition for an Automobile When He Did Not Know What He Was Signing.

Charles H. Withnell, head of the department of city fire protection and water supply, who preemptorily dismissed City Electrician Waldemar Michaelson from office, gave his reasons for so doing. He said: "I made it a point to trust Michaelson and depend on him. The head of this department, as well as the other commissioners, must sign a large number of requisitions on the city purchasing agent for supplies. Michaelson brought me about twenty-five of these requisitions to sign one morning. "I glanced through the requisitions and signed them. I did not examine them carefully. Later I found he had put in a requisition for an automobile for himself to cost $1,000. Any supplies for the city costing over $50 must be advertised for and naturally the requisition was not honored. "However, Michaelson kept this requisition and showed it to a number of people, telling them I would sign anything. No business man, I believe, would keep such an employe and I felt that it was not safe to keep him. Of course, I ought to have examined all the requisitions carefully, and you can depend on it I will in the future, but it is customary for a man to put some dependence in his employe. When you can't depend on them they ought to be let out." Michaelson, who said he would make charges that Withnell had violated city ordinances, "slept over it" and decided he would not, at this time, say anything further. He has intimated that he will "spring something" later.

Warmer Weather in Next Seven Days According to the National weekly weather bulletin temperatures above the reasonable average are to prevail for the next week. This applies to the region west of the Mississippi valley, while a return to normal temperatures are forecasted for surrounding districts.

Water Board Tries to Collect Money Borrowed by City

The Water board has decided to force the city to return $12,000 which was borrowed by the commissioners to pay the cost of opening a certain street for a water main. The water commissioner has asked the board's attorney, John L. Webster, to proceed to collect the money in the manner he sees most fit. The council has refused to return the money, which was "borrowed" from the board several months ago.
