MOROS TRY TO RUSH LINE

Attack Troops with Bolos in Spirit of Fanatical Gallantry.

FIERCE FIGHTING CONTINUES

Datto Amlil, One of Irreconcilables, Brigand and Pirate, Preying on Farm Workers, Source of Trouble in Jolo.

MANILA, June 14—Fierce fighting continues between the American forces under Brigadier General Pershing and the rebellious Moros at Bagak.

The Moros still hold one fort. Their attempts to rush the American lines with bolos, which are made with fanatical gallantry, have been repulsed with heavy losses. The Americans will attack in strength today and their success seems certain.

The latest casualties are one scout killed and one man of the hospital corps wounded.

Amlil Refused to Yield.

A cablegram from Major General Bell, not only explains the reason for the attack on the Moros stronghold, but assumes responsibility with General Pershing. General Bell says:

"The fight, at Bagak was incident to the disarmament policy of the governor general (Cameron Forbes) and the governor of the Moro province, adopted after many months of patient, but fruitless negotiations and marked by promises disregarded by the Moros.

"A situation arose that I believe left no alternative. Amlil and a relatively small force of Moros, in possession of the island of Jolo were the only Moros who refused to give up their arms peacefully. Disarmament was generally desired by the Moros themselves. All of the rest surrendered their arms months ago without resisting. Under the circumstances it was impossible and unjust to the disarmed Moros to permit a few of them to retain arms."

Scene of Last Stand.

The scene of the Moros' last stand was on the small island of Jolo, not much larger than the District of Columbia, but the jurisdiction under the sultan is divided among a number of lesser chieftains. Datto Amlil was one of the irreconcilables. He was a brigand and pirate preying on the peaceful element of his own people and was dreaded by the farm workers of the north.

NOTES FROM WEST POINT AND CUMING COUNTY

WEST POINT, Neb., June 14—(Special.)—The early completion and acceptance of the new main outlet sanitary sewer system of the city of West Point is now an assured fact.

The Eikhorn Construction company, has had very many discouraging obstacles to contend with. The sandy nature of the soil in many parts of the city has interfered very much with the work.

Marriage licenses have been granted during the week to the following: Clifford Wilson and Miss Lulu Nellig, Louis Pettman and Miss Anna E. Wood and Fritz Kaup and Miss Catherine Wiencke, all residents of Cuming county.

Judge Guy T. Graves of Pender will hold an equity session of the district court of Cuming county at West Point on Monday, June 16.

The marriage of Clifford A. Wilson of Omaha to Miss Lulu Nellig of this city took place at the Nellig home, the ceremony being performed by Rev. L. J. Powell, pastor of Grace Lutheran church. The bride had as attendants August Gathmann and Miss Mabel Nellig.

The groom has commenced business here and the newly-married pair will occupy the home of the late parents of Mrs. Wilson in the Third ward.

John H. Lindale has been appointed city attorney and Fred Senden water commissioner of the city of West Point by Mayor Dill.

Mr. Gilhouse has been in the service of the Associated Press for longer than twenty years, coming to Omaha from Denver in 1897. He has been one of those faithful servants of the public, whose work is known only to those who have come into direct personal contact with him, but his ability to get news over a bad wire has many times been the means of getting into Omaha the big report of the Associated Press.

PRODS THE "MONEY TRUST"

Henry Charges Wall Street Behind Currency Legislation.

ASKS FURTHER INVESTIGATION
 Declares Pufe Committee Barely Scratched Surface of Facts Owing to Controlling Refusing Access to Records.

WASHINGTON, June 14—An undercurrent of opposition among a considerable number of house democrats to the plan for currency legislation at this session of congress took definite shape today when Representative Henry of Texas, chairman of the rules committee, openly charged that Wall street was bank of the propaganda for currency legislation. While favoring revision of both the banking and currency laws at the next session of congress, Mr. Henry insisted that further investigation of the so-called money trust should be pressed immediately.

The Pufe committee, he declared, barely scratched the surface of facts underlying the concentration of control of money and credit, because the controller of the currency refused access to his records, making it impossible for the investigators to expose completely the existing relations between the Wall street bankers and their allies "with the trusts and monopolies, stock gamblers and financial conspirators."

"Wall street bankers," he added, "now are demanding legislation on the currency question in order that they may make a market for their commercial paper (much of it based on rotten securities), and have currency issued on their assets."

Mr. Henry introduced a bill to amend the banking laws, so as to make banking associations subject to the vestigial powers "or directed" by congress or by "either house of congress."

While this was going on it became known that the administration measure representing the combined views of President Wilson, Secretary of Treasury McAdoo, Senator Owen of Oklahoma, chairman of the senate banking and currency committee and Representative Glasscock, chairman of the house committee, would be introduced in the house next Tuesday and that the full committee of the house probably would meet to take up the bill within the next day or two.

President Wilson is expected to send a message on the subject probably Tuesday.

SUNDRY CIVIL APPROPRIATION BILL NOW UP TO PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14—Only the approval of the president is now needed to make a law of the sundry civil appropriation bill, with the exemption of labor organizations and farmers' associations from anti-trust prosecutions with funds provided by the measure. By a vote of 41 to 10 the senate passed today from its opposition to an item in the bill, as it passed the house, reducing the number of members of the board of managers of national soldiers' homes from eleven to five. This was the only remaining item of disagreement between the two houses.

Russian Ministry Breaks With Duma

ST. PETERSBURG, June 14—A complete breach has opened between the Russian government and the Duma. Members of the cabinet announced today that neither the ministers nor the heads of departments will appear in the house "until conditions are established under which representatives of the government will be secure from insult by members of the Duma."

The immediate cause of this decision was a remark made by M. Marokoff, a reactionary member, during the debates on the estimates. While the minister of finance was speaking Marokoff cried out: "Healing cannot be tolerated." He added that his remark applied not only to the minister of finance, but to all the officials of the various departments of the state.

The ministers and officials present in the house thereupon rose from their seats and left in a body.
 Later at a meeting of the cabinet the minister of the interior spoke strongly in favor of the dissolution of the Duma. He was outvoted, most of the ministers arguing that the conflicts between the cabinet and the Duma were personal rather than political. Many of the ministers expressed the opinion that the quarrel would prove only temporary.

BETTER SUGAR MAGNATE SPENDS BIG SUM IN WASHINGTON YEARLY

that he had been assured that the best sugar interest need have no fear.

"You need not be one bit afraid of me, sir," Douglas quoted the president as saying.
 In the letter to Wallace about that conversation, Douglas added after the quotation: "I don't believe that Mr. Wilson will take any steps that will annihilate or retard such an industry as ours. He impressed me with his earnestness in this."

Oxnard Is Afloat.
 Henry T. Oxnard, vice president of the American Beet Sugar company and large owner of lands devoted to beet sugar growing, testified as to his activities in Washington. He declared he had sold most of his stock to beet sugar companies because of fear of free sugar. He and his brother had owned jointly $4,000,000 of beet sugar stock in companies operating in Colorado, Nebraska and California, and now had $1,000,000 invested in cane sugar in Louisiana.

MAY EXTEND LOBBY HUNT

Committee Decides to Put Question Up to the Senate.

SWEEPING PROBE IS LIKELY
 Believed that the Time Limit Will Be Extended—"Boiler Plate" Campaign Is Gleaned Into Thoroughly.

WASHINGTON, June 14—Lobbying as a fine art, how it is done, and who is responsible what ends are sought and what results are accomplished, probably will be investigated by the special senate lobby committee before it concludes its work and submits a report to the senate. For nearly two weeks the five senators on the committee have listened to testimony that has dealt almost exclusively with the influence exerted on the tariff bill, but it has uncovered enough trails to lead members to believe that campaigns of every sort, political, industrial and economic, have been conducted much along the same lines through paid agents in efforts to create public sentiment favorable to the causes concerned.

The committee decision last night in executive session to submit to the senate the question of a further broadening of the scope of its inquiry.

May Extend Time Limit.
 It was believed tonight that the time limit of twenty days imposed on the committee would be extended and that the investigation would go into every possible phase of what the committee suspects is lobbying. Any skeletons that have dangled in the closets of congress and any soiled linen that may have hung there will be exhibited to the public eye and legislation to impose drastic restrictions upon lobbying and the "acceleration" of public opinion may result.

The committee's decision came at the end of a day filled with sensations. On two occasions President Wilson figured in the testimony. Senator Gallinger told the committee that in his opinion the president had once come at least "dangerously near lobbying" and Truman G. Palmer, Washington representative of the United States beet sugar industry, declared that a "plate matter" campaign such similar to the one conducted in newspapers by him had accompanied the campaigns of the president and Representative Underwood before the Baltimore convention.

Palmer on Grill.
 Senator Cummins cross-examined Mr. Palmer at length about the details of his newspaper campaign and developed that to the best knowledge of the witness many of the big interests of the country were engaged in similar efforts to mould the opinion of the country.
 Mr. Palmer had been on the stand for several hours when Senator Cummins led him into a description of what he knew of other publicity campaigns like his own.

"I understand the same concern that we used, the American Press association, was used by both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Underwood in their nominating campaigns in the same way," said the witness. "I am speaking of campaigns that are made to affect public opinion, which, in turn, is intended to influence legislation."

POST MORTEM TO BE HELD UPON BODY OF BURNS

J. D. Burns of Akron, O., died Friday afternoon presumably of tuberculosis while an inmate of the city jail. Coroner Crosby has taken charge of the body and a postmortem examination will be held to determine the exact cause of his death. Burns was also addicted to the morphine habit and had been the cause of considerable argument between the police and the county hospital authorities. During the last week he had been picked up three times by the officers and turned over to the county hospital only to be released as an undesirable patient. He was arrested Friday noon at Thirteenth and Dodge streets by Officer Rooney and upon being brought to the station was given medical attention by the police surgeon. At that time he was apparently in anything but a dangerous condition. It is not known whether any relatives survive.

COAL MINE GUARDS BLAMED FOR REIGN OF LAWLESS TERROR

 miners' attorneys again began to call men and women of the strike region.
 The attorneys for the state objected to reopening the question of trial under martial law.
 W. A. Abbott, a delivery wagon driver for an "outside store" in the strike zone said that mine guards prevented him from delivering supplies.
 Shots Fired from Train.
 J. H. Pike of Holly Grove said that mine guards shot the lock off his door. He described the shooting up of Holly Grove from the armored train. The train was dark, he said, but he could see the flashes of guns on the train.
 "What did you do when the bullets began to fly?" asked Senator Kenyon.
 "Just stood and looked at them," said the miner.
 Pike said that he was one of the party at the home of Cristo Estep, who widow last night told the committee how he died while trying to get his family into the cellar when the bullets from the train began to riddle his home. None of the men at the Estep house had guns with them.
 Stood in Front of Gatling Gun.
 Luther Hudnall was at Holly Grove during the strike. He said he was taken from his home by guards and taken to Mucklow.
 "During the day they stood me in front of the gatling gun," he said, "and at night they locked me in a box car."
 "Were you frightened when you were in front of the gatling gun?" asked Senator Kenyon.
 "I never thought I'd get home no more," said the miner.
 Hudnall said that the guards told him they wanted "to hold an inquest" over a dead man.
 "My wife begged them not to take me," he said, "and they taken ahold of me. They taken ahold of my wife too because she hung on me."

Twenty-Two Locked in Car

He was shown the body of a dead man, who he was told was Stringer, the mine guard killed at Holly Grove. He took no part in any inquest and was never accused of participating in the killing of Stringer. The witness named a group of men who were lined up before the gatling gun with him and said that twenty-two men were locked up in the box car. There were no sanitary accommodations, Senator Marvin elicited, and the men were kept in the car that night.
 "You've seen cattle packed in cars that way haven't you?" asked Senator Martin.
 "Yes, sir; just that way."

EX BRAGG, A DEPUTY SHERIFF, SAID THAT FOR NINE YEARS PRIOR TO THE STRIKE HE HAD BEEN ABLE TO MAINTAIN LAW AND ORDER ON PAINT CREEK, SINGLE-HANDED.

"If anything happened, I'd get some of the miners to help me," he said.
 Trouble first began on the creek, he said, when the mine guards were first brought in.
 "These guards paraded up and down the creek," he said, "carrying rifles and revolvers, Sunday and every other day. Then the trouble began."

POLICE ARREST SIXTY STRIKING "WHITE WINGS"

PHILADELPHIA, June 14—Sixty striking street cleaners and sympathizers were arrested by the police tonight after an attempt had been made by strikers and their friends to persuade a number of "white wings" still at work to join them. Cobblesstones and bricks are alleged to have been thrown when other arguments failed, but no one was seriously hurt.

"UNLOADED" RIFLE MAY CAUSE GIRL'S DEATH

WATERLOO, Ia., June 14—(Special Telegram.)—What may prove to be a fatal accident occurred yesterday in a Young Women's Christian association camp at Cedar River, where a mock marriage was being played by a party of young people. A loaded rifle was fired at the bride, Helen Cook, aged 13, the bullet entering the body, causing internal hemorrhage. The girl was hurried to a hospital, where she is now lying. Her life is considered serious. The boy who fired the shot is the 13-year-old son of Mrs. John H. Mason. He did not suppose the rifle was loaded.

DEMENTED WOMAN GIVES POLICE MUCH TROUBLE

Mrs. Joseph Resnick, demented, living at Thirteenth and Durand streets, was picked up at Fifth and Bancroft streets early Friday evening after jumping from an embankment thirty feet high. Several people in the neighborhood rushed to her assistance, but outside of a thick coating of earth, she was unharmed.
 Mrs. Resnick is harmless and but recently was discharged from a local hospital. Since this time the police have been called on several occasions to various parts of the city to care for her. She has a husband and three children, who apparently do not watch her.
