

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Herman Krittinbrink Severely Injured by Workman.

DISPUTE OVER PAY CHECK

Employer Took Out Money for Bill, Causing Row—Boys Take Joy Ride in Stolen Automobile.

Because his employer had deducted from a bill from his pay check, Charles Wilson, a negro laborer employed at the Krittinbrink brick yard at Twenty-eighth and Y streets, assaulted Herman Krittinbrink with an iron bar Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, fracturing three of Krittinbrink's ribs and causing contusion of the brain. Krittinbrink was attended by Dr. E. J. Shanahan and sent to St. Joseph's hospital in Omaha, where his condition is said to be serious. Wilson, the alleged assailant, surrendered to the police, declaring that he had acted in self-defense.

Wilson told the police that he had been employed by Krittinbrink for several days. Saturday when he claimed his pay check, he says, Krittinbrink offered him $1.75, saying that he had paid the rest to a woman who claimed that Wilson owed her a grocery bill. Wilson grew angry and abused Krittinbrink. Wilson says Krittinbrink then attacked him with the iron bar. Wilson admits that he struck Krittinbrink over the head and sides.

Dr. Shanahan found three ribs on the left side were crushed and that the injured man's brain had suffered a concussion. He was rushed to the hospital in Omaha. The police had obtained Wilson's description and were on his trail when he walked into the police station and surrendered.

Joy Ride in Stolen Auto.
John Evans, a 17-year-old schoolboy of Eighteenth and Nicholas streets, Omaha, and James Valentine, 18 years old, of 1809 California street, Omaha, raced in the stolen automobile of Mike Golden, Twenty-fourth and Q streets, South Omaha, with a police automobile in charge of Captain John Zaloudek, who finally overtook the lads at Thirtieth and M streets yesterday evening at 8:30 o'clock. With the lads were two South Omaha girls, whose names the police withheld from publication.

The stolen machine was taken from in front of the Brandeis store yesterday evening while Golden, the owner, was in the building. A couple of hours later as he stood on Twenty-fourth and M streets in South Omaha, telling Ed Cahill of the theft his machine whizzed by with two boys and two girls in it. Golden called Captain of Police John Zaloudek and the two commandeered Pat Ford's car and gave chase to the joy riders. Chief of Police John Briggs in his machine drove north on Twenty-fourth street so as to intercept the stolen auto should it escape from the other police car.

At the station the lads said they had hired the car at Twentieth and Harney streets from a man named McBride. They disclaimed any intention of stealing the machine. The girls, who were under 15 years of age, were dismissed as innocent. Chief Briggs refusing to allow their names to be placed on the blotter.

Golden Wedding.
On June 7, 1912, Mr. and Mrs. John Casey of 37 North Twenty-fourth street celebrated their golden anniversary at the homes of their sons, W. E. and J. E. Casey and wives of Alvo, Neb., on the old homestead, where Mr. Casey settled in 1860, emigrating from Wisconsin.

Only the immediate family and relatives were present. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Johanna Trumble, a sister of Mr. Casey; Mrs. William Dullenty and Mrs. Mart Moran, cousins of Mrs. Casey, all of Lincoln, Neb. Many beautiful presents were received.

Gambling Ordered Stopped.

Chief of Police John Briggs, who has been making a campaign to clean up the town under the written orders of the police board, was yesterday directed to clean out the gambling houses, which number about twelve. The orders of the board comprehend the closing of gambling joints in pool halls, cigar stores and other places. Briggs read the orders last night.

Briggs received the orders about noon and at once notified the gambling houses to close up. Almost immediately the streets were infested with the th-horns and the regular gamblers who for months have enjoyed fat pickings. They were of all ages and conditions, from the cheap street corner crap shooter to the prosperous-looking, shrew-eyed "professional" of the roulette wheel. And they were sore.

The new orders, taken in light of the spam directed against lawless saloonkeepers, is not counted on very seriously. Of the saloonmen caught and tumbled by the board, the minutes of that organization showed that the cases had been dismissed for want of evidence. Briggs has succeeded in putting some fear of the law into certain bootleggers and saloonmen. He has done so practically single handed.

PROPERTY OWNERS THIS YEAR IN HURRY TO PAY CITY TAXES

Why 1,000 more property owners have hastened to pay their city taxes this year than during the same period after the books were opened last year is puzzling Treasurer Ure. He regards it as especially remarkable in view of the destruction so recently wrought by the tornado.

From the first of May to the close of business Saturday, 12,000 receipts for 1913 city taxes were issued, a little more than 1,000 more than at the same time last year. Taxes paid amounted to $240,000, contrasting with $238,361 last year. The difference in amounts, however, is partly accounted for by slightly higher valuations this year.

Leland Butcher, 17-year-old son of a wealthy farmer living at Bassett, Neb., was arrested Saturday afternoon by Detectives Fleming and Murphy, who ordered him held at headquarters until his parents can be notified.

Butcher ran away from home a year ago because his mother scolded him, he said, and since then he has been trying to enter the army service, and being out of funds, he begged on the streets.

The detectives saw him and took him to the station. Young Butcher said that his father owns two sections of valuable farm land near Bassett. "If I had a good square meal, I'd be willing to go back home," the lad told Fleming. Fleming saw that he was provided with the meal.

Advertising makes people think --Do you want them to think about your store--your goods?

"A drop of ink makes millions think." You've got to make them keep on thinking if you want them to know your goods and your business. Make people know you. Make them know your store—your goods—your store policy. Make them. It's easy. It's cheap. It's sure. No one can avoid knowing if you keep up your advertising day after day. The most stupid child in time learns to read. The teacher keeps the child repeating and repeating till it is there in his mind. There is no gamble about the child learning. It has to learn. You have the same teaching force at your command—advertising. Common sense tells you that one advertisement won't teach people—you must repeat day in and day out. Advertising results are just as certain as teaching.

and all rugged Americans in the early days, depended on old time corn foods for the special strength and energy needed in the work of building this great country.

Today in millions of American homes, corn is served two or three times a day in the form of WASHINGTON CRISPS—the crisp, toasted, delicious corn flakes that melt in your mouth. These crisps have the wholesome, nourishing and sustaining elements of the corn foods famed for generations. They are splendid for the business men who need a satisfying food but must have clear minds—fine for men and women who work or study hard—highly recommended for growing children. Youngsters thrive on WASHINGTON CRISPS. Give them plenty of this strengthening food to start them right when young, and fit them for the future when they will take up the work and responsibilities of the Nation. This is a good day to begin.
