(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., June 18.—(Special.)—The matter in which Joseph Walt of Lincoln agent for the Union Central Insurance company, entered a complaint against A. C. Hull and D. C. Swigart of the Farm Mutual Central company for "twisting" was heard before the insurance department this afternoon and a settlement was reached, in which Hull and Swigart entered into a written agreement to return all moneys received on account of "twisting" and made an apology to Walt, alleging that they did not intend to injure the company and in the future would do nothing that would tend toward bringing out any more complaints. John M. Gilchrist, insurance actuary in the office of State Auditor Howard, will leave Monday for Scotland, where he will visit the scenes of his childhood days. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Gilchrist and daughter.

State Auditor Howard says he proposes to make an example of Dart, the man with numerous aliases, who will have to answer a charge of fraud in connection with soliciting insurance. The offer of Dart to plead guilty has been turned down by the auditor. A representative of a Chicago company hit by the methods of Dart is in Lincoln and will appear at the trial.

When asked as to what action he would take in the enforcement of the new insurance code law when it came into effect, Auditor Howard made it very plain he should enforce its provisions to the best of his ability.

When asked if he knew anything about any proposition to seek to prevent its going into effect, Mr. Howard said that he knew nothing at all about any such move and would not enter into any scheme to prevent its going into effect.

INSURANCE AGENTS CONFER

Hold Annual Session at Fremont Country Club.

FOLSOM ELECTED PRESIDENT

Some Notable Addresses Made by Members of Association at Gathering.

The annual meeting of the Nebraska State Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents was held at the Fremont Country club yesterday. From all sections of the state insurance men poured into Fremont, an especially large delegation going from Omaha.

Automobiles were in waiting at the trains and the agents were taken out to the Country club, where the business meeting was held upon the veranda. President Pollard presided and welcomed the agents to Fremont. Secretary-Treasurer Talmage then read his annual report, showing the association in good shape financially.

J. A. C. Kennedy, who was slated for an address, was unable to be present, but in his stead Yale Holland of Omaha delivered a speech, which greatly inspired the insurance men. His talk showed a remarkable knowledge of the insurance business, although he is a lawyer by profession.

Great Talk by Wood. Following Mr. Holland, H. N. Wood, state agent of the North British and Mercantile Insurance company, delivered an address. He went into the intricacies of economic and governmental affairs to draw analogies to the insurance situation, and declared it an impossibility for monopoly to exist in the fire insurance business.

C. F. Hildreth of Freeport, Ill., chairman of the executive committee of the National Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents, also gave the agents food for thought on the betterment of the business as a whole.

Officers Elected. The following officers were elected: President—Ernest Folsom, Lincoln. Vice Presidents—John Robbins, C. O. Talmage, John Howard, Omaha; R. F. Richards, Fremont; O. W. Palm, Lincoln; J. A. Axtell, Fairbury; A. O. Abbott, Grand Island. Secretary—Frank T. B. Martin, Omaha. Membership Committee—J. Barker, A. J. Love, John Martin, Walter Dale, W. A. Yonson, W. H. Beaman, all of Omaha; Paul Colson, Fremont; W. A. Boettcher, Columbus.

Grievance Committee—Frank Haskell, J. D. Foster, H. A. Cameron, A. Walch, Omaha; Gus Escher, Columbus. Legislative Committee—Ed Howell, Omaha; Fred Volpp, Scribner; J. A. Axtell, Fairbury; J. E. Byrnes, Columbus; John Allen, Grand Island; H. Schurman, Sargent.

Cut Membership Fee. By resolution the annual membership fee was reduced from $5 to $3. Lincoln was given the next convention on invitation of O. H. Palm, who spoke for Mr. Folsom, in absence of the latter, whose wife is ill.

Sports and Pastimes. A team made up of Fremont agents won the baseball game, which despite the stiff arms and legs of brain workers, proved a very enjoyable event, both to players and spectators. Following is the result of the golf sweateats:

Economic League Opposes Extension of Gas Franchise

The Economic league is unalterably opposed to the proposed gas ordinance granting a twenty-five-year extension of the Gas company franchise. At the meeting of the league last night it was decided that a petition shall be circulated asking the mayor and council to reject the proposed ordinance. The petition, printed copies of which are ready for circulation reads:

"The undersigned citizens and residents of Omaha petition your honorable body to reject Ordinance No. 220 giving a twenty-five-year franchise to the Gas company. In case, however, that you should decide to pass the ordinance, we ask you to provide that the same shall be submitted to a vote of the people at a general election. We are opposed to the ordinance being submitted at a special election."

Prof. Franklin K. Ramsay ventured the guess that not 5,000 votes could be brought out at a special election. He said the citizenship of Omaha needed a guardian. "We must organize," he said, "and see that the right kind of men are elected to the city council to protect our interests."

L. J. Quinby declared that every public official that would stand sponsor for the present gas ordinance should be a marked man so that he should be defeated whenever in the future he should come before the people for a public office.

H. Orlich suggested that the city should own at least a part of the stock in the Gas company if the franchise was renewed.

C. F. Harrison said he could not be as fair as some in the discussion of the matter and openly confessed that he was prejudiced in favor of the people.

Harry E. Zimman said the fact that under the proposed renewal the company offered gas at $1 per thousand was no argument at all in view of the fact that dollar gas had been offered by the company a number of years ago in consideration of a renewal at that time. He said the offer of dollar gas at that time was clearly on the records of Omaha history.

DIPLOMAS RECEIVED BY SCHOOL TRAINING CLASS

Superintendent E. U. Graff, in delivering the commencement address to the training class at the Central High school auditorium yesterday, discussed moral education. He maintained that morality can be taught without the aid of the Bible.

Whether or not morals can be taught without the use of the Bible is an open question, said Superintendent Graff, "and I am not going to settle it."

Recently Superintendent Graff sent circular letters to all school principals asking for their ideas on the best means of teaching the young clean morals. The replies received were the basis for his address.

Louis Klebba, formerly of Omaha now of York, sang twice. It was the only time he will appear here during his present visit before his departure for Italy. He was received enthusiastically and twice encored.

Graduating members of the trainers class are: Misses—Lucille Dodder, Kate Field, Madeline Jaskalek, Minnie Mercer, Bertha Vaughan, E. Holovtchiner, president of the Board of Education, presided at the exercises. The president's little daughter presented the diplomas. A chorus of high school students sang.

Nothing in this country stands higher or is as dear and sacred to the hearts of the people as the public schools are. They are the very foundation of our country, the very life of the nation, and you are charged today with the great responsibility of uplifting and upbuilding the nation of tomorrow. I know you can do it, and I am sure you will."
