Rourkes When They Look Dangerous.

Gene Cochreham, the lanky Topeka twirler, who pitched a no-hit no-run game at Omaha's expense last fall, came near duplicating that feat yesterday when he let the Rourkes down with two hits, one of which was a scratch, and won the second game of the series for the Kaws by a 4 to 0 score.

The Kansas twirler was in great form. He was a trifle wild at the beginning and passed-three men before he settled. Then it was nothing but pop-ups, easy grounders and fouls for the Rourkes, while the Kaws selved Robinson's delivery early in the game.

Thomsson was the only Omaha man who could touch Cochreham's ebnders. He collected both Omaha's hits, the first one coming in the third inning. In the eighth he made his second hit when he slammed a terrific liner at Cochreham, the ball bouncing from the long twirler's hands off towards the bleachers. Not a Rourke player reached the third sack Manager Arbogast in a desperate attempt to change Omaha's luck altered the lineup, putting Neff in at short and placing Catcher Shestak in the left garden. Eddle Wallace adorned the bench.

Double Play Stops Rourkes. Omaha had a good chance to score in the first inning, but a neat double play by Cochran and Rapps spoiled this chance. Thomason walked and Justice sacrificed. Cochran came in on the ball and hurled it to Rapps, getting Justice. Tommie tried to make third on the play. but Rapps made a perfect peg to the corner and Cochran was back there waiting for the ball.

Lajoie Objects to Staying on Bench

CLEVELAND, O., June 28.-The an nouncement of Manager Birmingham the Cleveland American league club that he intended to bench Napoleon La jole, second baseman of the team, ha precipitated a feud between Lajoie and Birmingham which threatens the success of the club, President W. Somers ad mitted here today. Lajole, sore at hear over being made what he terms "bench warmer" when he is still abl to play, is said to have appealed to Somers for reinstatement as a regular.

Birmingham declares that he only benched Lajole temporarily, because histhat the trouble in no way menaces Birmingham's position as manager and that he will continue to direct the team as he sees fit. Lajole will continue with the team as a player, he said. He added that he understood that the second buseman, reconsidering previous declarations he had made, says that he will do as directed by Birmingham.
