GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Traders Are Induced to Buying Side by Shipments.

CORN MARKET LOOMS UP STRONG

Offerings Are Light and a Sharp Advance in Price of Yellow Corn Is Paid by Purchasers Picking Up Offerings.

OMAHA, July 2, 1913. These in the wheat market who believe that prices are in a position for more of an inflation were pleased because of the report received by one of the leading concerns in Chicago of the taking of vessel out of the seaboard for 1,500,000 bushels of wheat. This piece of information caused many of those who failed to take kindly to the buying side, to take kindly to the buying side, and to pull the market out of a hole, in that it was changed from a weak to a strong position, from full to active, yet the volume was rather moderate. Some wheat was recognized on the bear side of wheat, which traders representative of the seaboard, asking as to the possibility of the crop, the more daring speculators had taken the more they would possibly need in August or September.

When the fact is considered that there were additional purchases of 700,000 bushels of cash wheat from the country by Chicago houses and that this wheat is to come forward as rapidly as it can be threshed and loaded into the cars, it is not surprising that the market closed close of the day, overbalanced the vessel corn engaged, and is ten to one more bullish than it was at the opening. The wheat market at Chicago is an important standpoint. Contingencies surrounding the wheat market at Chicago are abnormal. Stocks at that point are down and the market is rather quiet. The market is rather quiet at primary markets and the assurance that the new crop is to be a bumper crop, and that the market will be brushed aside as much as possible. CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, July 2.—Verdant rumors that a large amount of export business had been done here, and that the market of the wheat market today, but the gain largely disappeared when diligent inquiry failed to show that the stories had much basis in fact. Latest prices were relatively weak, but to be so for the last time. Corn finished off to a high bid, but shade lower to a moderate advance and provisions varying from the decline to a gain of 10c.

Heavy selling on the advance in the wheat market, the confidence of buyers, especially during the last half hour. Only 5,000 bushels of wheat were actually having been sold here for export, and there was a decided speculation about the foreign buying in Kansas and New York. It was also brought out that the weather practically everywhere northwest had been showery and cool, and that there was no new distress in sight for the crop.

Corn advanced, because of predictions of a lighter movement from the interior and on account of a check in the market. There was a moderate advance in the price of wheat, though, and a disposition to curtail sales over the holidays acted as a check on the market. The market for other grain, but kept inside narrow limits, with trade light. Holders of provisions took advantage of higher bids and realized profits in a vigorous manner. Eventually most of the active options were under last night's level.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Hot Weather Over Country Curtails Retail Distribution.

RAINS IMPROVE CROP OUTLOOK

Lull in Iron and Steel Trade Continues as to Finished Lines, but Pig Iron is in Larger Demand.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Dun's Review Saturday will say: High temperatures throughout most of the country curtailed retail distribution somewhat, while the holiday accentuated slightly the prevailing lull in the iron and steel trade. Needed rains in the agricultural regions have improved the crop outlook and harvesting of winter wheat is progressing over the ideal conditions. Private estimates indicate some improvement in cotton prospects, while the government report on Thursday placed the condition at 81.8 per cent against 80.4 per cent a year ago. The submission of a practical plan for the relief of the interests of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads was, on the whole, a favorable factor in the monetary situation, but although renewed war in the Balkans, this time between the allies, renders the European monetary situation more unsettled.

The lull in the iron and steel trade continues for the finished lines, but a larger demand for pig iron appeared during the week than for several months. The buying of equipment by the railroads has been active, and a fair volume of new business is coming forward in finished products. Most of the leading iron and steel manufacturers at the end of the first half year are abnormally low, but replacement of heavy machinery and other equipment until the tariff bill, now nearing its final stage, has been passed.
