SPECIAL LEVY NOT NEEDED

State Treasurer Thinks Increase of One Mill Necessary.

PROFESSOR'S ACTS CRITICISED

Securing of Signatures by Tuckerman to Petition to Defeat Armory for Nebraska City is Rejected.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., July 11.—(Special.)—It is the opinion of State Treasurer Walter George that there will be no need of a special levy under the Sheldon act to pay off state indebtedness. He thinks that by increasing the general fund levy from 4 to 5 mills that all outstanding indebtedness can be taken care of.

According to his estimate, an additional levy of one mill will bring in about $460,000, which will be more than sufficient to cover what is needed.

"We have had considerable extra expense the present year which we will not have next year," said the treasurer. "The legislature cost us $170,000 for salaries, then came the tornado appropriation of $100,000, while the constitutional amendments made an expense of $52,000 more."

"There is little doubt but that the increase in valuation for 1913 will be $6,000,000, which, with a 5 mill levy, will make an additional $30,000, so take it all around, I think we are safe in doing away with a call on the Sheldon act this year."

Professor Criticized.

Considerable criticism of the action of Prof. L. B. Tuckerman of the State university is being expressed because of his activity in securing signatures to the referendum petition to submit to the people a proposition to kill the bill passed by the last legislature giving Nebraska city an appropriation for an armory.

armory appropriation for his town, was one of the opponents in the senate to university removal.

Said one man at the State house today: "I think our people at the university should keep out of active politics."

Boone county reported to Secretary Seymour of the State Board of Assessment today, joining the list of counties which has failed to report an increase in the assessment over 1912. Boone falls below the 1912 assessment by $30,537. Unlike some of the other counties which showed a falling off, it also has a lower assessment on its farm lands, the lands being assessed on an average of 48.65 per acre, against 46.65 last year.

No far in the reports Scott's Bluff is the heaviest county on increase with a total valuation of $2,783,631 this year. This is an increase over last year of $624,411. Following are the counties reporting this morning:

	1912	1913
Boone	$5,000,000	$5,000,000
Grant	749,981	744,305
Keith	2,156,478	2,573,024
Scott's Bluff	2,588,621	2,153,760

Appeals Take to High Court.

The Union Stock Yards company has appealed from a judgment secured in the Douglas county district court against them by Paul Janoušek for injuries received while working in the hotel at South Omaha, owned by the company. The Missouri Pacific Railroad company has filed an appeal from the district court of Otoe county in a case wherein Patrick Roddy secured a judgment against the company because of damages sustained from a diversion of water which caused an overflow on his land, damaging him to the extent of $300. He also asked damages for the destruction of a piece of timber from fires set by engines of the road for $200 more. The court awarded him $225.33.

company to deliver promptly to South Omaha some stock shipped by Stillman. He claimed that during the delay the price of cattle dropped. He was awarded $112.25.

Lucy E. Drollinger sued the Hastings & Northwestern Railway company in the Adams county district court for damages sustained by reason of the railroad company crossing her land. She was given $79 for about six acres of land purchased by the company for right-of-way, but claimed that on account of the splitting up of the land she was damaged to such an extent that it spoiled the farm. The jury gave her in addition to the right-of-way damage $3,552.50 as damages sustained.

Another case by the Missouri Pacific Railway company is one in which Turner E. Neal secured a judgment against them in the Douglas county district court for $1,403 for the loss of a building in Omaha claimed to have been set on fire by one of the engines of the company which ran by the building. The building was insured for $1,315 which was paid by the insurance company, and in the judgment the insurance was reimbursed for what they had paid Neal besides the amount given Neal for the loss on the building.

Long-Distance Swimming.

Two negro rowboats at New Orleans were continually bragging about their ability as long-distance swimmers, and a steamboat man got up a match. The man who swam the longest distance was to receive $5. The Alabama Whale immediately stripped on the deck, but the Human Steamboat said he had some business and would return in a few minutes. The Whale swam the river four or five times for exercise, and by that time the Human Steamboat returned. He wore a pair of swimming trunks and had a sheet-iron cooking stove strapped on his back. Tied around his neck were a dozen packages containing bread, flour, bacon and other eatables. The Whale eased at his opponent in amusement.

Whar yo vittles? demanded the Human Steamboat.

"Whar yo vittles?" asked the Whale. "Don't yo ask me fo' nothin' on the way ovah," warned the Steamboat. "Mah fast stop in New York, an' mah next stop is London."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Glaring Injustice.

The driver of the car of Juggernaut protested. "It isn't fair," he said, "to compare this car to an automobile. That's a devil wagon; this is just the opposite. A chauffeur runs his machine at the rate of a mile a minute or two; I drive this one at the rate of a snail. He runs over people because they can't get out of his way quick enough; when I run over anybody it's because the victim throws himself under my wheels as a sacrifice, and I can't prevent him. The next man that calls me a 'hooper' is going to have a fight on his hands!"—Chicago Tribune.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Sporting Fraternity Angered by Administration's Acts.

FIREMEN WILL NOT BE LAID OFF

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Greer, Who Were Recently Married, Are Tendered Reception by Large Number of Friends.

South Omaha's sporting fraternity is angered by the sudden made of its affairs by the new wife open administration of whose success it joyously boasted—not, indeed, that the law are being executed enthusiastically, but simply because the boys who shouted and worked for the bunch say they have been double-crossed.

Only the "piker games" are said to be running. Some of the saloons appear to be tipping the lid on the quiet, although Chief Briggs has announced that he will prosecute them to the finish if he catches them breaking the law.

W. P. Donahue, commissioner of police, is said to be the cause of the troubles of the good fellows. It is said that all the blame is being placed on him for closing the town. One official is alleged to have told a pool hall man that there would be nothing doing until Donahue learned to hold his tongue. The same official is also said to have expressed fervent hope that Donahue would resign so that his place could be held by another.

Donahue is said to have held his first announcement that if one place "ran" all could do so.

Will Not Lay Off Men.

Chief John McKale of the fire department has announced that he will not lay off any of his men this week, as recently ordered. The board and council recently found it necessary to curtail expenses in the fire department and ordered the chief to lay off five men each week until the end of July. Chief McKale, noting with the approval of Commissioner DeWine and Director, has announced that he will permit the men to rest in turn but will not lay off. Chief McKale said he felt the men had worked hard at the Morris fire and deserved something from the city.
